LAST OF A LANDMARK

The last of Marin's old county courthouse — a classic portal leading nowhere — suffers a giant bite from the wrecker's clamshell, bits and pieces of the wall falling to the street. Fate of the property in San Rafael, abandoned when the Hall of Justice in the Civic Center was completed, is still not decided. San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini has proposed that the city buy it from the county. The 99-year-old building was gutted by a fire May 25.

Medical Facility Eyed For Quentin

Prison Boss Briefs Marin Delegation

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Conversion of violence-torn San Quentin Prison into a 1,200-patient psychiatric medical facility is a strong possibility in plans now being drawn here, the state's prison boss disclosed yesterday.

Raymond K. Procunier, director of the Department of Corrections, meeting with Marin County officials, also predicted that the inmate population at San Quentin will fall from the present 2,500 to 1,500 within 18 months.

But he dispelled any hope of county officials that the most violent convicts will be transferred elsewhere so long as the site is used as a prison.

He indicated that its possible conversion to a psychiatric medical facility is several years in the future, and probably will depend on first building a new maximum security prison in the San Diego area.

Procunier rejected pleas by the county officials to reverse his opposition to legislation requiring the state to pay for the Angela Davis and Ruchell Magee trials.

Marin taxpayers face trial costs totaling $956,967, for the 1970-71 and 1971-72 fiscal years, according to new figures by Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. Because of a narrow interpretation by the attorney general's office of the state's responsibility for reimbursement, the state's share for the two years came to only an additional $83,188, according to Mitchell.

Procunier conceded "it's a crime for that place (San Quentin) to cost Marin $1 million, but I'm not going to volunteer $1 million out of my budget to take care of Marin's problems." He said he would not support the legislation increasing state reimbursement unless additional funds were appropriated. He noted that he was $500,000 short last year in reimbursements to counties for trials involving prisoners.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, has predicted he will get additional funds for the department's reimbursement account, but Procunier insisted that "I'm asked to take it out of my hide, and I'm tired of that."

Procunier, displaying a large hole in the sole of his left shoe, said "the principle of the bill is fine, but there's no money to pay for it." Even if the bill passes the Legislature, it faces a possible veto by the governor if the Department of Corrections continues its objections.

The two-hour meeting was held in Bagley's office, but the assemblyman was absent until the last few minutes because he was in the governor's office negotiating tax reform. Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and all five county supervisors attended, accompanied by several county staff members.

Procunier cautioned that the fall to 1,500 convicts at San Quentin would leave the prison largely with only the toughest and most violent men, but asserted there still would be no danger to the outside community.

The warden of the prison, Louis S. Nelson, said that a "mass breakout" from inside the walls was impossible. "We can have turmoil inside, but the perimeter will be secure."

What shook up Marin, he said, was last February's escape of a minimum security prisoner housed outside the walls. The prisoner kidnapped two Novato women and two children, and was recaptured near Los Angeles after the hostages were released unharmed.

Nelson insisted that during the Aug. 21 escape attempt in which six died there was "never any danger any of those people would have gotten out."

The warden cautioned that Marin still may face future trials of militants even if the prison were removed from the county. "That's the way the times are," he said.

Procunier said that prison population had fallen because of an increased success rate in

Citizens Upset On Education

In a second and even more mysterious show of disapproval, a citizens' group last night presented Mill Valley School District trustees with a petition expressing disapproval of district educational policies.

As with earlier objections in June, the petition, signed by 1,252 persons, did not detail group criticism. But the document did say, "While educational practices that employ unstructured or multigraded classes or both might work with some children, they clearly are not desirable or workable with all children."

The petition called for special public and private meetings with board members, although the audience was split on the matter of private meetings.

After lengthy discussion on how to get around the Brown Act in order to discuss the district's problems privately, board chairman William P. Everts Jr. asked Dr. Thomas Spencer, spokesman for the disgruntled parents, to invite two board members and Supt. James A. Collins to his home next Monday and Wednesday to review the complaints.

Spencer, it was agreed would phone and formally invite two board members one day, and two others another day, thus avoiding either a quorum of the board which would be subject to the open meeting law, or appointment of a committee of the board which would be similarly controlled by the Brown Act.

A subsequent public meeting on the problems was set for Oct. 18.

Tiburon Makes Offer On Strawberry Cove Land

By C. P. McCARTHY

The Tiburon City Council last night agreed to offer Leonard B. Fleischman $125,000 for his 6.7-acre parcel on scenic Strawberry Cove, property whose development has been snarled in controversy since 1968. (Other Tiburon City Council stories, page 24.)

Mayor Denis T. Rice, who sought council authorization for the offer, said he had no indication that the offer would be accepted.

Fleischman, who is attempting to develop the property into a 72-unit apartment complex, previously had set a deadline on negotiations with the city for Friday.

Rice called the $125,000 offer "a fair and generous offer" but said that Fleischman may not agree.

The city previously had made an oral offer of $117,500, but it was rejected by Fleischman, Rice said.

The short-handed council — Branwell D. Fanning and Carlisle Becker were absent last night — set its own deadline for acceptance for one week from receipt by Fleischman of the offer to be sent by certified mail today.

According to the Marin County Assessor's office, the land has a market value of $108,000. It was appraised in 1970 with an assessed valuation of $27,000 — 25 per cent of the market value.

Rice said the city, which wants to use the land as a park, may still have to attempt condemnation proceedings to acquire it. "But we wanted to make sure," he said, "we have made our best and firmest offer."

If Fleischman accepted the offer, Rice said, purchase would be made in five $25,000 payments through December 1975.

Fleischman has already won approval by the Marin County Planning Commission for his proposed apartment development. He and developer Paul J. Broman of Peacock Gap still must go before the board of supervisors and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission which earlier killed plans for a 96-unit development on the land.

When Fleischman set his Friday negotiation deadline in August, he agreed to allow the city to withdraw from any agreement reached if an Oct. 9 annexation election for the Strawberry, Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bayview Heights areas, fails.

He and Broman have been attempting to get approval for development of the property since December 1968 when they proposed 112 units on the site on the east side of Seminary Drive east of Ricardo Road.

They have run into various roadblocks including a suit filed in Marin Superior Court by the Strawberry Recreation District claiming that the public through years of use had acquired an irrevocable right to the property.

Strawberry residents and conservationists who have opposed Fleischman's plans say the cove is unique and one of the last remaining untouched salt marshes on San Francisco Bay.

Ranch Area Alarmed By Faire Shift

Upper Lucas Valley residents today voiced alarm over plans to move the annual Renaissance Pleasure Faire to the 1,000-acre Grady Ranch off Lucas Valley Road.

Martin Kaufman, president of the Upper Lucas Valley Homeowners Association, ssid his group will ask a delay on land use permit hearings originally scheduled for next Monday by the county zoning administrator.

Phyllis Patterson, who heads both the faire and the nonprofit Renaissance Center foundation, said she also would ask Harvey Bragdon, county chief of current planning, to postpone the hearings.

Bragdon said he had not received any formal continuance requests, but would decide at the hearing on Monday whether to hear it then or set a later date.

Mrs. Patterson said she would meet Monday with Lucas Valley residents to tell them about plans to cope with traffic and other problems. She said that she was to confer today with California Highway Patrol officials and traffic engineers about the two-lane stretch of Lucas Valley Road leading to the ranch.

Mrs. Patterson denied reports circulating in Lucas Valley that the Renaissance Center merely held an option on the ranch until December, pending approval of use permits and rezoning applications. "The

Manzanita School Rejected By County

The Sausalito School District has offered the Marin County Sheriff's office the Manzanita School in Marin City for use as a sheriff's substation, Supt. Lawrence A. Lindberg revealed at last night's meeting of the district board.

In response to a question from Royce McLemore, Lindberg said the district had made the offer, but had been turned down by the sheriff's depart-

METHADONE PROGRAM

Former Heroin Addicts On The Comeback Trail

By JEFF GREEK
(First of two articles)

The neatly dressed longshoreman looked anything but the popular image of a heroin addict. His hair was trimmed; his fashionable boots were glossy; he was clear-eyed and husky.

In fact, Jim wasn't a heroin addict — he was a methadone addict.

Jim has voluntarily traded his "smack habit" of 17 years standing for a daily cup of fruit juice laced with methadone at the Marin Open House. He was volubly happy about his decision, even though he had been on the antihervn program only a few weeks.

He talked in the antiquated, cozy kitchen of Marin Open House, an old mansion at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. Coffee pots were simmering; the kitchen table was heaped with doughnuts, cartons of milk and bottles of fruit juice. More than a dozen men and women were crowded around the table or lounging against kitchen counters, eating, sipping, smoking and chatting.

Two friendly dogs wandered about, begging for crumbs.

This was the scene while Marin's commuters were grinding down Highway 101 to their jobs.

The methadone maintenance project keeps early hours — the dispensary opens at 7:30 a.m. so its participants lucky enough to have jobs can obtain their daily dose before going to work.

Later in the day, the building would fill with other visitors, mostly younger participants in the many other antidrug programs offered through Marin Open House.

Joining the erstwhile heroin shooters at the sunrise session were four of the Open House corps of 150 volunteer workers, two nurses and Vic Chiarolla, who oversees the methadone maintenance experiment that is just entering its second month.

The routine has been the same every day since the program began.

Enrolees arriving at Open House for their daily dose of methadone go first to a brightly lighted dispensary. They fill out a questionnaire — "How do you feel today? Be specific. Did you fix (take heroin)? How much and when? Do you think your dosage (of methadone) should be raised, lowered or remain the same? Did you use any

2 Arrested In Hirohito Attack Plot

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Two Japanese students were charged in a Copenhagen court today with attempting a "violent attack" on visiting Emperor Hirohito of Japan. They were jailed for two weeks pending trial.

The prosecution said Hisawotchi Tahara, 22, and Toshihiko Hidaka, 26, were found in possession of what appeared to be a Molotov cocktail when they were arrested at Kastrup Airport Monday night as Hirohito arrived on the first foreign trip ever undertaken by a Japanese monarch.

Police Prosecutor J. Koefoed charged the two students, who both live in Stockholm, with "attempting a violent attack on a foreign head of state." If convicted they can get up to three years in prison.

The prosecutor said a third Japanese student, suspected of having worked with the other two to disrupt the emperor's 40-hour visit to Denmark, was still at large.

The 70-year-old emperor and his empress, Nagako, 68, were met by leaflets at the airport describing them as symbols of "new Japanese militarism."

Police sources said a group of 30 militant left-wing Japanese students had come to Copenhagen to organize protests against the imperial visit.

The shy, bespectacled emperor, 70 and his wife, Empress Nagako, 68, had a busy tourist schedule on the first full day of their 17-day tour of seven European countries. They were visiting the royal Danish porcelain factory, the famed "Little Mermaid" statue on Copenhagen's waterfront, and Hamlet's Kronborg Castle in Elsinor before lunching with King Frederik and Queen Ingrid of Denmark.

Cardinal Mindszenty Abandons Hungarian Refuge For Vatican

Rome (UPI)—Cardinal Joszef Mindszenty bowed to a personal request from Pope Paul VI today and ended 15-years of self-imposed refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest and flew to Rome. His departure ended a saga that began when Soviet tanks crushed the Hungarian rebellion.

Mindszenty, now 79, fled to the U.S. Embassy on Nov. 4, 1956, in the last hours of the Hungarian revolt and remained there through the years, an embarrassment to the United States, to the Vatican and to the Communist regime of Hungary.

Despite his age Mindszenty appeared in good health when he was met today by Vatican Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot. He made the sign of the cross and blessed a small crowd which had gathered to greet him.

Vatican sources said the pontiff personally wrote to Mindszenty asking him to make "the hardest sacrifice of our life." Mindszenty agreed but said it would mean accepting "the heaviest cross of my life." He had vowed to remain in the embassy until his full church role in Hungary was restored.

"I accept what will be perhaps the heaviest cross of my life," Mindszenty wrote to the Pope. "I deposit this, my sacrifice, at the feet of Your Holiness."

His departure from Hungary was announced by Radio Budapest which said the departure was the result of an arrangement between the Communist regime of Hungary and the Vatican. He left Budapest at 8:30 a.m., 2:30 a.m. EDT, but his departure was not announced for nearly eight hours.

He was driven to Vienna airport by Vatican representatives and flew direct to Rome where he was met at Leonardo da Vinci Airport by Vatican Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot. He was driven straight to the Vatican.

The Vatican has negotiated for years with Mindszenty and the Hungarian government for a solution to the diplomatic obstacles placed by Mindszen-

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tank-Burst Kills 6

ATLANTA, Tex. (UPI) — A nine-story steel tank burst yesterday while being filled, sending 1.1 million gallons of water cascading down onto a group of workmen. Six men were killed and 12 were injured.

The tank — 97 feet high and 50 in diameter — was at a mill under construction for the International Paper Co. Five of the victims worked for a construction company and the sixth for the paper firm.

The workmen were digging a foundation adjacent to the collapsed tank when water began seeping through cracks in the huge tank. The seams gave way and the water, chunks of concrete and steel plates thundered to the ground.

Four of the victims were pulled from the mass of wreckage within two minutes but it took five hours to recover the other two bodies.

Peking-Hanoi Pact

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist China signed a new aid agreement with North Vietnam Monday and sent her foreign trade minister off to Paris for a visit, Peking Radio said today.

This Chinese broadcast did not give details of the agreement, which covers "economic, military and material assistance" to be provided to North Vietnam by the Chinese during 1972.

Diplomatic sources here said the agreement probably puts more emphasis on civilian-type economic assistance than any of the regular annual aid agreements signed by Peking and Hanoi during the past 10 years.

Nasser Honored

CAIRO (UPI) — Thousands of Arabs marched to the tomb of Gamal Abdel Nasser today to pay homage to their leader who died one year ago after a heart attack.

Traffic became snarled around the mosque housing the tomb as a constant procession of delegations, led by Nasser's widow and eldest son, Khaled, walked solemnly past, placing wreaths over the tomb.

Elsewhere in the Arab world, speechs, demonstrations and newspapers eulogized Nasser, who until his death Sept. 28, 1970, had ruled Egypt for 18 years.

Hurricane 'Seeded'

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Ginger, a monstrous 19-day-old storm that is bigger than Florida, presented an almost stationary target today for another aerial seeding with cooling silver iodide bombs.

When cloud seeding planes took off at dawn, the 100-mile wide "eye" of Ginger was centered about 600 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., and was drifting northward at only four miles an hour.

Lottery Approved

BOSTON (UPI) — Massachusetts has become the fourth state in the northeast to establish an official state lottery.

The state senate voted 26-13 Monday to override Gov. Francis W. Sargent's veto of the lottery bill, affirming an override vote taken in the House last week.

Harriman Weds In Secret

NEW YORK (UPI) — Averell Harriman, former governor of New York and the first American chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks, was quietly married Monday to Pamela Digby Hayward, the daughter of a British baron.

Mrs. Harriman

The marriage between Harriman, 79, and his 51-year-old bride was so secret that only three witnesses attended the ceremony at St. Thomas More Church in Manhattan. Most of the 150 guests invited to the reception thought they were coming for cocktails.

It was the third marriage for both. Harriman was governor of New York from 1955 to 1959. His second wife died last September. Mrs. Hayward's first marriage to Winston Churchill's son, Randolph, ended in divorce in 1946 and her second husband, theatrical producer Leland Hayward, died in March.

Mrs. Robert Kennedy, the bride's sister Mrs. Charles Moore, and Harriman's daughter Mrs. Stanley Mortimer Jr. were the witnesses.

Talks Resume

LONDON (UPI) Prime Minister Edward Heath and the prime ministers of Northern and Southern Ireland resumed talks today on ways to end the Ulster bloodshed. A total secrecy blackout was imposed.

The talks were expected to end later today.

Israeli Holiday

JERUSALEM (UPI) — At sunset today Israel virtually closes down to celebrate the most solemn of the Jewish feast days, the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur.

For 24 hours the country's business activity, road traffic and international air transportation come to a halt while Jews mark the day with fasting and ritual atonement for their sins.

Prime Minister Golda Meir said before the holiday began there was only one "alleged" sin for which Israel had no need to atone —the annexation of Jerusalem.

Hike In General Revenue Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state's general fund revenues and government expenditures both showed increases during the first two months of fiscal 1972 over the previous year, state Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported today.

He said expenditures for the two month period totaled $844,164,624—an increase of 7.65 per cent. Revenues at $553,868,091 were 7.01 per cent higher than last year.

Flournoy said increased receipts occurred in the inheritance tax, insurance companies tax, liquor taxes and liquor license fees, personal income tax, sales tax, and transfers from the Health Care Fund.

Guilty Ruling

ATHENS (UPI) — Lady Amalia Fleming, widow of the man who discovered penicillin, was found guilty of conspiracy today and sentenced to 16 months imprisonment.

Three other defendants accused with her of plotting the escape of a man sentenced for attempting to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos were jailed for a total of 42 months.

Mamie Feted At Birthday Party

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With President Nixon at the piano, 800 voices swelled the chorus of "Happy Birthday" Monday night as her friends of a lifetime fondly paid tribute to Mamie Eisenhower to celebrate her coming 75th birthday.

The former first lady, radiant and wearing a massive diamond necklace and earrings, at times had trouble keeping back tears as she was lauded in song and speeches during a gala dinner and star-studded show. Her birthday is Nov. 14.

"I have no words to say how deeply I appreciate this tribute," she said as a plaque was unveiled proclaiming her the military wife of the century. "No matter what Ike did —and of course I always followed him —I'll always be an Army wife."

The diamond jubilee celebration, sponsored by the Washington chapter of American Women in Radio and Television, was a $100-a-plate affair to fund scholarships in her name at the new Dwight D. Eisenhower College in Seneca, N.Y.

Dancer Ray Bolger was master of ceremonies for the show, which included performances by Ethel Merman, Red Skelton, Lawrence Welk, the West Point Glee Club and the Marine Orchestra.

But it was the President — arriving nearly three hours late after flying from his historic meeting with Japanese Emperor Hirohito in Alaska —who capped the show.

MAMIE EISENHOWER
Friends pay tribute

"All I can say is ... this is going to be a very tough act to follow," Nixon joked when Bolger invited him to sit down at the piano next to a five-tiered birthday cake on stage. But Nixon dashed off a flourish filled rendition of "Happy Birthday" and then went through it again as the crowd — loaded with former Eisenhower administration officials —sang and applauded.

Nixon, looking drawn with fatigue, praised Mrs. Eisenhower in a speech, then escorted her, his wife Pat and younger daughter Julie Eisenhower, home to the White House.

Fair Trials Are Possible —Younger

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger has labeled as "unsupportable" claims by defense lawyers in murder cases that their clients cannot receive a fair trial when pre-trial publicity is allowed.

Younger said Monday there is no evidence to support the contention that pre-trial publicity "necessarily prejudices a jury."

The state's top legal officer, who has repeatedly fought judicial gag orders in criminal cases, said, "any trial of a person charged with murdering a senator, judge or movie star will attract substantial attention.

"Under such circumstances, the defendant's attorney routinely claims that publicity surrounding the trial automatically deprives the defendant of a fair trial. This claim is unsupportable," Younger said.

The Republican attorney general said that for more than 100 years we have assumed that jurors would follow their oath to base their verdict on evidence presented in court.

"That's still a valid assumption," he said.

Newton In Red China: Enters Via Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—Huey Newton, a Black Panther party leader awaiting trial on a voluntary manslaughter charge, entered Communist China today.

A government spokesman said Newton and two other black Americans crossed the Hong Kong-China border in the early afternoon to catch a train for Canton.

The two Americans with Newton were Elaine Brown, information officer for the Black Panthers, and Robert Leonard Bay, identified in reports from Oakland, Calif., as a bodyguard.

Newton, free on $50,000 bond was scheduled to go on trial in Oakland Oct. 12 for a third time on charges resulting from the slaying of Oakland policeman John frey in 1968 in a Panther-police shoot-out.

Newton was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in September, 1968, but an appellate court overturned the verdict in July, 1970. A second trial ended in a hung jury last month.

Newton and his two companions arrived here late Monday night aboard a Canadian Pacific airlines flight from Vancouver, according to an airline spokesman.

They checked into two suites in the Hilton Hotel on Hong Kong island. When contacted by telephone this morning they refused to talk and hung up. Shortly afterwards they checked out of the hotel and disappeared.

They apparently went directly from the hotel to the Lowu border station with officials of the China Travel Service, which escorts foreign visitors to China.

Mainland China has been a strong supporter of the Black Panthers and other militant black groups in the United States.

Landmark Treaty To U.N.

GENEVA (UPI)The United States and Soviet Union, together with their respective NATO and Warsaw Pact allies, submitted to the disarmament conference today a new international arms control treaty which would ban biological weapons for all time.

It was the first time since the 25-nation talks began in 1962 that all NATO and Warsaw Pact countries joined in sponsoring a disarmament convention.

The East-West treaty now goes to the United Nations General Assembly which is expected to endorse it for worldwide signing some time in November.

The treaty, once in force, will prohibit the development, production and stockpiling of biological agents of warfare. It provides for the destruction of all existing biological weapons.

Today's draft was based on a U. S.-Soviet text presented in August and revised to meet suggestions from nonaligned nations as well as Britain.

Although Britain did not succeed in getting an outright ban on use of biological weapons in the main body of the treaty, the preamble was toughened in phrasing to make it clear the convention is designed to prevent for all time the use of such agents in war.

Nonaligned countries met with flat Soviet refusal to change the procedure on complaints so that suspected violations would first be handled by the U. N. secretary general rather than the Security Council.

The wording was changed, however, to make it less likely that any complaint could meet with an automatic big-power veto before an investigation.

American and Soviet negotiators also met wishes of neutralists by linking the treaty more firmly to future negotiations on a similar banning of chemical weapons.

Southland Quake

LA HABRA (UPI)—An earthquake described as a sharp jolt jiggled windows and rocked buildings in a wide area of Orange County Monday night but there were no reports of damage.

Heavy Red Guns Rake U.S. Posts

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied positions along the Cambodian border came under intense North Vietnamese and Viet Cong rocket and mortar bombardment Monday night and today in a third day of preelection Communist campaign against bases guarding infiltration routes to Saigon.

Military spokesmen said the Communist attacks appeared to be subsiding somewhat but that more than 200 rounds of rocket and mortar rounds were fired into South Vietnamese and American outposts overnight.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said at least 230 Communist troops had been killed in the three days since the Communist offensive began with government losses of 28 dead and 176 wounded. At least five Americans were wounded in three mortar attacks Monday night and today against Fire Base Pace 78 miles northwest of Saigon and one mile from Cambodia.

An American spotter plane sighted the bodies of 110 Communist troops Monday in an area two miles northeast of the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Krek, eight miles across the border and 85 miles north of Saigon. The South Vietnamese command included the 110 in its official report of Communist troops killed.

Heavy fighting—the most intense since the allied incursion into Cambodia in May and June of 1970—was reported Sunday and Monday around Krek with North Vietnamese troops firing nearly 800 mortars and rockets into South Vietnamese main force bases in and around the battered city.

Anti-Thieu Flareup; Students Fired On

SAIGON (UPI) — Police opened fire with rifles and tear gas today on students demonstrating against President Nguyen Van Thieu's one-man election campaign. Police provided an escort for a march by progovernment demonstrators.

Thieu failed to show up for a scheduled appearance at a ceremony observing the 2,522nd birthday of the Chinese philosopher Confucius. Squads of guards were stationed at the Saigon zoo where the president was to have spoken but acting Premier Nguyen Luu Vien represented Thieu.

The palace gave no explanation but observers speculated Thieu's aides may have felt there was insufficient security at the spacious zoo.

A plainclothes policeman shot one student in breaking up an antigovernment demonstration in the market place in suburban Phu Nhuan after protesters firebombed two American trucks, a police jeep and a jeep of the government information service.

Police fired tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the Saigon central market earlier. It forced the big market to shut down until the gas cleared.

The progovernment demonstrators marched along the major thoroughfare of Le Loi to the National Assembly. Police jeeps followed the youths and traffic cops waved the procession through red lights. They proceeded up Tu Do street past Independence Palace.

Luu Vinh Lu, a Saigon city councilman and Thieu's campaign manager in the capital, said the progovernment demonstrators included students, veterans and clerks.

U.C., State College Salary Hikes Voted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Disregarding Gov. Ronald Reagan's opposition, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans has voted to raise faculty salaries at the University of California and state colleges by 7 1-2 per cent.

The proposed wage boost, costing $17.8 million, now faces a stiffer test in the Assembly, where Republicans tend to be more politically partisan and vote with Reagan on major money issues.

Reagan earlier rejected a 10 per cent pay hike for faculty members, contending the state couldn't afford it.

With no votes to spare, the Senate yesterday sent the Assembly a salary raise bill by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, which would take effect as soon as President Nixon lifts his wage freeze.

The vote was 27-6 after a marathon rollcall. The bill needed all 27 votes, two of which were cast as a "courtesy" by reluctant Republicans Robert J. Lagomarsino of Ojai and Howard Way of Exeter after some Democrat supporters left the Senate before the long rollcall was completed.

long rollcall was completed. Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, voted for the measure.

Approximately 29,000 university and college faculty members would receive 7 1-2 per cent salary increases under the bill, probably after Nov. 14. The university would be appropriated $8.4 million and the colleges $9.4 million.

The whooping crane wears a red patch on its head.

Frenchmen In Favor Of The Guillotine

PARIS (UPI)—A majority of Frenchmen are in favor of retaining capital punishment in France by guillotine, the private polling institute, IFOP, said Monday.

IFOP said 53 per cent of those polled over a six-day period early this month wanted to keep capital punishment, while 39 per cent wanted to abolish the guillotine. Eight per cent had no opionion.

Installation Of DeMolay Officers Set

August Venezia of San Rafael will be installed as master councilor of the Marin Chapter of the Order of DeMolay in ceremonies at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Marin Masonic Temple in San Rafael.

The 16-year-old Venezia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Venezia Sr. of 2520 Opalstone Terrace and a student at Tamalpais High School.

EOC Unit Seeks Items To Sell

The Southern Marin Target Area Office of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council is seeking donations of furniture of all kinds household items and usable bicycles.

According to area director Collie Gaines, the goods will be sold at the people's community flea market (held Saturdays and Sundays in Marin City), with proceeds going toward the area office's current fund raising drive. Each target area office must raise $5,000 to help finance its programs, because of reductions in federal funding, according to Mrs. Gaines.

Interested persons may contact the target area office, which will arrange for pickup of the donated items, she said.

Noise Pollution Bill Is Passed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A Reagan administration-backed bill designed to cut down on noise pollution in the nation's most populous state has been approved by the Senate.

The bill would require the state Public Health Department to establish maximum noise standards for machinery, appliances and other articles sold in California.

It was sent to the Assembly Monday on a 24-5 vote.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, told colleagues his bill, which also has been endorsed by State Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, would "put California in the forefront" of trying to do something about noise pollution.

Youth Center Sets Hike Along Dipsea

The Sausalito Youth Center will sponsor a hike over the Dipsea Trail Saturday, Oct. 9, beginning at 9 a.m. Walkers will depart from the center, 180 Harrison Avenue and will journey from one end of the trail to the other, then return home.

Interested persons are urged to make reservations at the center in advance of the hike. Hikers are asked to bring their own lunches.

Gromyko Proposes World Disarmament Conference

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed today that a permanent world disarmament conference be created outside the United Nations to meet every two or three years.

Gromyko, in a policy speech to the General Assembly, said the world political situation was more favorable to the idea now than it had been in the past.

Before Gromyko detailed the Soviet proposal, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann called for elimination of existing armaments and a ban on any new manufacture.

"The result of all the efforts made in New York, in Geneva and elsewhere since the end of World War II is that no arms in fact have been destroyed," Schumann said. "On the contrary, we are watching the most fantastic arms race the world has ever known."

Gromyko said the Soviet Union was ready to develop political, economic, commercial, scientific, technological and cultural links with the United States for "mutually advantageous ties" on the basis of peaceful coexistence.

Gromyko, reported to have assured U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the Kremlin would not interfere in U.S. Middle East peace efforts, never-theless castigated Israel.

"Israel is miscalculating," Gromyko said. "The policy makers of that country have gone too far in laying bare their plans of seizure for them to obtain support in the international arena. Now nobody can any longer believe that Israel is allegedly defending its existence. The false arguments with which the Israeli ruling circles have been seeking to cover up the real meaning of their policy have fallen through, one after another. . .

"Israel does not want peace, and even if it does, it is an annexationist peace..."

In Monday's session, Japanese Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi warned that to deny National China its seat in the U.N. would intensify tensions in the Far East. He appealed to Taiwan and Peking to settle their own differences.

"It is highly desirable that the government of the People's Republic of China cooperate with all countries of the world for establishment of a lasting world peace," Aichi told the general assembly Monday.

"However, it is also a fact that there exists in Taiwan, the government of the Republic of China ruling a population of over 13 million," Aichi said. "Should this fact be ignored, it would upset the international balance prevailing in the Far East and intensify the tensions, rather than bring about the relaxation of tensions in that part of the world."

Indian Foreign Minister Sardar Swaran Singh, in a speech interrupted by the Pakistani delegation objecting to his discussion of the East Pakistani revolt, said, "there is only one China; there is only one China seat. Let us not procrastinate any further."

The United States seeks to keep Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations in the event Communist China is admitted.

Supporters of an Albanian proposal to seat Communist China and expel Taiwan announced they have three more sponsors for the resolution—Ceylon, Equatorial Guinea and Nepal.

PRISON

parole, earlier releases of convicts, and a slower growth of the general population.

Nelson questioned Procunier's assumption that the prison population will continue falling, the warden noting that county jails "are filled up" because they have been taking prisoners that formerly went to prison. Procunier, however, insisted that "the war babies are all over with now. There just aren't that many clients out there."

He added that the Youth Authority's case load was dropping, terming the case load "our barometer."

The department predicted three years ago that prison population would total 32,000 by 1971, Procunier said, but the actual population now was about 22,000.

Conversion of San Quentin to a psychiatric medical facility, he said, would take advantage of the concentration of psychiatric and medical experts in the Bay Area. It also would permit treatment of more Bay Area persons closer to home, instead of sending them to a similar facility at Vacaville in Solano County.

Supervisor Michael Wornum asked if this conversion would mean transfer of the gas chamber, but Procunier said he "hand't thought that far yet." He added that he hoped the U.S. Supreme Court will have resolved a constitutional challenge of the death penalty by the time the conversion would be made.

He acknowledged that "a death unit would seem incompatible with a medical unit."

Procunier stressed that the Vacaville facility was "no source of problems to that community."

He estimated that a new maximum security prison would cost $100 million, and would have to be designed to house 4,000 men in case "something happens in our society and people start coming back into prison."

He noted that San Quentin once housed 6,000 men.

Supervisor John F. McInnis pressed for reassurances that San Quentin was secure enough to prevent escapes, and Nelson promised to "come down and tell you what we have done." The warden criticized the supervisors for "never inviting me to come down when you discussed San Quentin."

Procunier, terming San Quentin cells "among the best we have," said that "if we had a better place to handle those people, they wouldn't be there." Both San Quentin and the maximum security prison at Folsom "stink" as outdated institutions, he said.

As for a $75,000 study proposed by Bagley to determine if San Quentin should be retained, abolished or replaced, Procunier added that another study would "give some legislators something to do."

Procunier concluded that he was "an eternal optimist. I think we're over the top (in prison violence) because we're aware of the problem now."

San Rafael Man Dies Of Gunshot

A 24-year-old San Rafael man died yesterday, the victim of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head, according to the Marin County coroner office.

Deputy Coroner Bill J. Thomas said Ronald Bruce Johnson was found at 5:10 p.m. shot in the head in the bedroom of his apartment at 509 Canal Street.

His wife, Linda Louise Johnson, of 442 West Live Oaks, Mill Valley, told police they had been talking when he threatened to kill himself, according to the police report.

She said she heard a shot in the bedroom and went in and found him on the floor with a gun in his hand, police reported. She told police they had been separated and she was talking to him yesterday in an effort to reconcile.

Johnson was the son of Harry H. Johnson, former publisher of several Marin shopping papers.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Harry M. Williams mortuary, San Rafael.

Soviets Launch Moon Probe, Earth Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned Luna 19 on a trip to the moon, Tass said.

Tass gave no details on the mission of the probe.

The last Soviet attempt at a moon probe was the flight of Luna 18 which ended in failure Sept. 11. Luna 18 was lost in an unsuccessful landing attempt.

Immediately after the Luna 19 announcement Tass reported the launch of an unmanned earth satellite, Cosmos 441, on an undisclosed mission. There was no evidence of any connection between the two launches. Tass does not normally give the missions of Cosmos sputniks.

ty's refusal to give up his self-imposed refuge. However, Mindszenty in past years insisted on walking out of the embassy a free man.

Mindszenty had been sentenced to life imprisonment in 1949 by the Hungarian regime for alleged high treason and black marketeering, but he was freed briefly by Hungarian freedom fighters before he received asylum in what was then the U.S. legation.

Through the years his presence there was a deep embarrassment to the United States, to Hungary and to the Vatican. And in Hungary he became a forgotten man—his name was never used in Hungarian newspapers and there probably were young Hungarians who had never heard of him.

But to the Communist regime in Hungary he remained as a vivid reminder of the suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

Ironically, it was Mindszenty himself who blocked his own freedom.

The stern old man refused to surrender his position as Roman Catholic Primate of Hungary despite Vatican urgings that he give up his asylum and leave for home. And so he remained isolated for 15 years until at the end he relented and decided to leave Hungary.

He spent this time in the fourth floor, three-room apartment in the U.S. legation which later became the embassy when U.S.-Hungarian relations improved. He read the newspapers left at his door, he said mass for the Catholic members of the legation and he took solitary walks in the building's enclosed courtyard.

Through the years Hungarian secret police in plainclothes waited in an automobile parked in front of the legation across from Freedom Square to arrest him if he should appear.

The U.S. position with Hungary was that the matter of his asylum in the embassy was one to be settled between Hungary and the Vatican. There were long talks and Vatican officials finally made the settlement.

At one point in his time of asylum Mindszenty threatened to walk out into the hands of the waiting police.

He was enraged when the United States raised the status of the legation to that of an embassy but decided to remain. Austrian Cardinal Franziskus Koening, on orders from the Vatican, hurried to Budapest and dissuaded him from his threatened walkout.

Within minutes of Mindszenty's arrival in Rome today the Vatican announced a new primate for Hungary. It said Msgr. Imre Kisberk would take over the duties of apostolic administrator.

Newhall Says He Was Bribed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Candidate for mayor Scott Newhall, former editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, has accused both Mayor Joseph L. Alito and supervisor Dianne Feinstein of offering him money to quit the race.

Newhall also said Monday he had been offered the city hall job of his choice if he didn't want the cash.

The charges were made in a two-page sworn affidavit Newhall gave to District Attorney John Ferndon.

Alioto and Mrs. Feinstein described the accusations as "desperate nonsense" and "sad."

public and press would be excluded, were supported by numerous parents and teachers but opposed by at least one trustee, Joseph E. Bodovitz, and several other audience members.

Once, the audience applauded for several minutes after a resident, James Henthorne, spoke in favor of closed sessions. Trustee John G. Eliot Jr. also voiced support for the meetings because he said so many persons had requested that procedure.

Bodovitz, however, said he could not understand the advantage in permitting only two board members, rather than the full board, to hear the complaints. He also expressed concern about sanctioning a meeting from which public and press would be banned.

Lani Bader, one of about 75 persons in the audience at Park School, said, "I dislike the idea of running board members through meetings two by two specifically to avoid the Brown Act. I am rather offended by that. These things should be presented at public meetings so that residents with different views can present their ideas.

Everts then said he would meet with Bader next Tuesday and Thursday to hear opposing views, but the proposed sessions were not set up.

The petition, which also asked that the board undertake a testing program to evaluate changes instituted in classrooms, alleged that an absence of teacher direction was causing poor study habits, a lack of motivation and a lack of respect for the rights and property of others on the part of pupils.

Three Held In Armed Bar Robbery

Two 20-year-old youths were booked into Marin County Jail and a 15-year-old Petaluma youth was booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night following an armed robbery at a tavern near Novato.

Details of the robbery, at Joe's Crossroads, 7595 Redwood Highway, just north of the Novato city limits, were unavailable today from the Marin County sheriff's office.

Novato police identified those held as Lester Matthew Becket, 20, of 504 Seventh Street, Petaluma; Douglas Richard Callahan, 20, no known address, and William Thomas Stanley, 15, of 711 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Novato police said the trio was arrested after a policeman noticed them driving away from the vicinity of the tavern without headlights at about 10:30 p.m.

Following a chase at speeds of up to 95 miles an hour, their car finally was stopped in the Atherton Avenue area between Bugeia Lane and H Street.

As the officer was writing out a speeding ticket for Becket, who was driving, he heard a bulletin on the robbery over his police radio and held the trio for Marin sheriff's deputies.

Becket and Callahan were held at the jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Student Center Bid Awarded

The Novato Unified School District board last night awarded Biltwell Development Co. of San Francisco, low bidder, a contract to construct a student center and fine arts center at San Marin High School at a cost of $573,000.

Trustees reviewed the bid at a special meeting last night since it was above the $521,000 estimated by architect Kal Porter.

The base bid was $587,000, but trustees brought the cost down $14,000 by substituting a tar and gravel roof for a shake roof.

Clothing Stolen

Clothing valued at about $325 was stolen yesterday from the trunk of an auto owned by Charles W. O'Connell of Lower Via Casitas, Larkspur, police said today.

Boy Injured In Fall From Truck

Four-year-old Vincent Hinds of 811 Butternut Drive, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital where he was being treated for a concussion.

The child was taken to the hospital at about 9:15 p.m. yesterday after falling from a truck, according to hospital officials. Further details of the accident were not available.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. A. Scotto, 82, Dies

Amelia Scotto, 82, longtime San Rafael resident, died yesterday after collapsing at her home at 214 Mission Avenue.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Scotto was stricken shortly after eating dinner and that she was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 6:43 p.m.

Mrs. Scotto was born in Italy and she and her husband, Salvatore, were married near Naples in 1910. Scotto came to San Francisco in 1913 and his wife followed in 1919.

They lived in Novato for a short while, then settled in San Rafael where they lived since.

Scotto is a retired innkeeper, at one time having operated the Travelers Inn in San Rafael.

Mrs. Scotto was a member of St. Raphael's Church and the Italian Catholic Federation.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, Michael and Guido Scotto of San Rafael, Hugo Scotto of Novato and Vincent Scotto of Mill Valley; a daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Thierfeldt of Marinwood; nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

property is in escrow right now. We never had it under option," she said.

She said "there never was any plan not to" hold the faire on the Grady Ranch, but that the faire might continue another year at the Sartori Ranch near Black Point, before relocating to Lucas Valley. She said earlier reports on the Grady Ranch purchase should have said there were no "present" plans to hold the faire there.

"The whole thing is kind of an integral part" of the foundation's plans to construct an Elizabethan Village to house Medieval and Renaissance studies, artisans and cultural events, she said.

Bragdon reported the land use application was to permit the village to be constructed in a A-2 zone, for the holding of cultural, recreational and educational events — which would include the faire.

Also before the county is an application to rezone the land from A-2 to commercial recreation -resort zoning or to one of the new agricultural zones that would permit uses such as the Renaissance Center, Bragdon said. That hearing is set for Oct. 11 before the county planning commission, regardless of whether the use permit hearing is continued, Bragdon said.

ment which said it had no interest in the facility.

Plans for construction of a public safety building for the community, including a sheriff's substation and fire department, have already been approved by county officials.

Mrs. McLemore is director of the Marin City Learning Center which had asked to use Manzanita for classes. The private school is currently located in the village Baptist Church in Marin City.

Last week the Sausalito School Board denied "uneviquocally" the learning center's request to use Manzanita.

Delta Christ, chairman of the school board, told the Independent-Journal the district offered the building to the county "because it is already sitting there and we are planning to declare it surplus. Since the county is planning to build a substation, we felt it would be economically feasible to use that site rather than build another," she added.

Scouts Looking For New Boys

Signups for boys and adults in the Boy Scouts of America are taking place this week and next week at all Marin elementary schools and some junior high schools, scouting officials said yesterday.

The Marin recruiting is part of a Bay Area program to enroll boys as Cubs, Boy Scouts or Explorers and parents as unit leaders, den mothers and other volunteer committee workers, according to Carol Harris, registrar for Marin scouts.

She said people can call the schools for date and time of the recruiting and informational meetings.

MRS. GENANT

Jeanette E. Genant, 94, a Tomales resident for 10 years, died today at a local convalescent hospital following a long illness.

She was a native of Missouri and moved to Sacramento 51 years ago. Mrs. Genant was a member of Rising Star Rebekah Lodge No. 8 and Women's Auxiliary to Lansdale Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, both in Sacramento.

She and her husband, George, moved to Tomales in 1961.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Tomales Protestant Cemetery.

C. R. HALEY

Mass of the Resurrection will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Kentfield, for Charles R. Haley, a retired real estate investor.

Haley, 83, died Friday in a Larkspur convalescent home following a long illness. He had resided at the convalescent home.

Born in Los Angeles, Haley was a lifelong Californian, residing in Marin the past two years. He was self-employed prior to his retirement.

He leaves no immediate family.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be private.

MRS. DANIELS

Elfie (Peggy) Daniels of Mill Valley died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 84.

A native of Mankato, Minn., she had lived in California 60 years and in Marin County five years, residing at 208 Helen Avenue.

Mrs. Daniels was a member of the Redondo Beach Woman's Club and Senior Citizens Club in Los Angeles County. She was also a member of the Deers of Redondo Beach, Lodge No. 1387 and the Carnation Chapter, No. 171, Order of the Eastern Star in Redondo Beach.

Mrs. Daniels is survived by two daughters, Beatrice Tomasello of Mill Valley and Nona McSpadden of Downey, Los Angeles County, three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley, and entombment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MRS. ROEMER

Private funeral for Elizabeth F. Roemer of Mill Valley was held today in that city. Mrs. Roemer, 86, died Friday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Oakland, she was reared in Petaluma and moved to Mill Valley after the 1906 earthquake. Mrs. Roemer, a homemaker, resided at 21 Nelson Avenue.

She is survived by three sons, William, Frederick and George Roemer, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

DAILY DOSE — A heroin addict who tried more than a dozen times to "kick the habit" — and failed — turns to the Marin Open House for help under the new methadone maintenance program. While chatting with chief nurse Valerie Stilson, he sips at fruit juice laced with the drug which is designed to break his dependence on heroin.

METHADONE PROGRAM

other drugs? What? When? Why?"

"You better tell the truth," explained methadone user Jack Gallagher, whom the other patients have made their public relations director. He explained that methadone recipients never know which day they will be ordered to submit a urine sample that can instantly tattle on any violations of the antidrug routine.

After turning in the questionnaire, the addict is handed a paper cup containing his or her measured dose of methadone. The drug takes about 20 to 30 minutes to take effect, Gallagher explained.

That's when the kitchen gets the heavy traffic. The breakfast group chats about personal problems, luck or failure in finding jobs, how the youngsters are doing in school and a melange of other topics.

This particular morning, 10 men and a woman stayed late for a meeting. They trooped after Chiarolla into an adjoining room, draping themselves around the floor on cushions. Then, Chiarolla posed the addicts the days problems. He stayed with them during preliminary discussions - and eventually left so they could thrash out the answers in uninhibited debate.

He asked the methadone users to form one or two committees to deal with program members who fail to "stay clean," and to decide how to handle enrolees who stall on paying their bills for the program.

The methadone program is not free — a fee of $20 is charged for the initial physical examination, entrance screening and other costs of the first week. In following days the bill is $10 a week.

"On this paid thing," one member objected, "a lot of us are getting welfare — we're busy getting our feet under us. I've been tapped (penniless) all week . . ."

"No sweat," replied Chiarolla. "Just make up your head about when you can pay, man. Then tell the nurses. If you decide you can pay Friday, pay it — but don't wait until next Wednesday. That's not cool"

He stressed that the methadone program requires "changing your life style." Paying the bills without robbing somebody is part of the change.

Chiarolla changed the subject. "Who's hep to changing the dispensary hours from 7:30 to 8:30 to 7:30 to 9:30?"

A chorus of "yeah" greeted the idea.

Most of the informal meeting was devoted to educating a newcomer to the methadone program. "Veteran" participants — none more than four weeks into the schedule — joined Chiarolla in answering the young man's worries.

They explained that a enrolee must report to Open House every morning, seven days a week, for the medication. After "staying clean" — shunning heroin or other drugs for a month — the newcomer is eligible to take home a supply on Saturday for Sunday consumption. After three months, the participant is trusted with a two-day weekend supply, and three days' doses after six months.

Enrolees who fall into using heroin again "have to start all over" on the daily Open House visits.

"How can you tell if I'm shooting it up (taking heroin)?" the beginner asked.

"They make you pee in a bottle," Gallagher shouted, laughing.

"What happens if you're busted?"

"We take the meth to you in jail, if it's a short-term thing," Chiarolla answered.

"How long does it take you to get hooked on methadone? What happens if I miss my dose for a day?" the newcomer wondered.

"Meth is addictive after a week. It's longer lasting than smack. If you miss a day, you just feel queasy," Chiarolla answered.

"How long would I be really sick with meth withdrawal?"

"Methadone's really a bitch when it comes to withdrawal," Ciarolla said softly. "Smack's bad, but the symptoms are over in a week."

"You'd be laying down sick 14 to 21 days to get off meth," a user broke in.

The novice pondered, then nervously smoothed back his collar-length hair.

"When you get to take it home with you, do you hafta carry a little cup of juice, or what?"

Gallagher, considered by his peers to be the wit of the program, could restrain himself no longer:

"They put it in a balloon for you and tie a pretty pink bow on it."

Everyone laughed — heroin sellers commonly keep their illicit wares inside small balloons, and have even been known to swallow the balloons when in danger of being searched by police.

"Now I'm embarrassed," the newcomer said. He blushed heavily.

Doctor Will File Appeal Of Decision

Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman of San Francisco, who for eight years has fought for staff privileges at Marin General Hospital, yesterday filed a notice of his intent to appeal a recent Marin Superior Court ruling which upheld the hospital's refusal.

That appeal, if carried through, will be heard in the First District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

The notice follows a Sept. 13 ruling by Judge Joseph G. Wilson that the hospital's denial of Ascherman's 1963 application for privileges was valid.

Ascherman had contended during his long legal struggle that the hospital district had exceeded its jurisdiction under state law by refusing his application.

His legal fight began in 1964 after a hospital credentials committee turned down his application with the support of the hospital board.

At the same time, Ascherman became embroiled in similar fights with five San Francisco hospitals and the San Francisco Medical Society.

During the course of his fight in Marin and San Francisco, numerous court appearances and state hearing were held, — Judge Wilson's ruling noted — one of which cited the doctor for professional incompetence and violations of medical ethics.

Marin General, throughout the fight, has maintained that the doctor has provided "insufficient evidence of medical proficiency."

The legal status of Ascherman's case, which has been dormant for about two years, will be reviewed tonight by the district board which will meet at 7 p.m. at Marin General.

Hospital To Seek 4-Fold Expansion

Plans to increase Kaiser Foundation Hospital by four times its present size will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today at the gegular San Rafael Planning Commiysion meeting at city hall.

The hospital at 99 Montecillo Road will reveal plans to add a five-story L-shaped building to make the facility a full-service hospital, according to Charles J. Linthicum, senior planner.

The commission is expected to take action on a 400-mobile-home site proposed by Jordan Smith on Smith Ranch Road, Linthicum said. At the past two meetings, the commission has been concerned about whether to impose an access road across the mobile home site to Smith Ranch Airport.

Disconnection Of Drains Eyed

Almonte Sanitary District board will ask Tamalpais High School to disconnect its storm water drains from the district's sewer lines, a condition which causes raw sewage to be dumped into Richardson Bay during heavy rains.

According to John J. Crncich, secretary, recent smoke tests of the district's lines by Roto-Rooter Sewer Service revealed the high school lines were infiltrating the sewer lines with rainwater.

The board is under a cease and desist order from the Regional Water Quality Control Board to prevent stormwater infiltration which causes bay pollution, Crncich said.

The district also decided to hire Roto-Rooter to repair broken or cracked mains in the system for $8,000.

Unusual Opportunity Afforded Pres. Nixon

Not since William Howard Taft has a President of the United States had an opportunity to name so many justices of the Supreme Court during his first term in office as has Richard M. Nixon.

Retirements of Hugo L. Black (whose death followed a few days later) and John Marshall Harlan open the third and fourth seats on the court to be filled by Nixon since he took office in January, 1969. He already has placed Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Harry M. Blackmun on the high bench.

Franklin D. Roosevelt — another President who was unhappy with the composition of the Supreme Court as he found it on taking office — got nine nominations to the top tribunal; but it took him three terms. He got none at all during his first term. Taft (who later served as chief justice himself) named five during his single term as President.

JUSTICE BLACK'S retirement leaves only William O. Douglas on the court from the nine men named by Roosevelt as he tried to remake the tribunal from what he considered its too-conservative cast. (Roosevelt proposed that the justices be forced to retire at 70, but Black, whom he named, served until the age of 85, and Douglas is still serving at 72.)

Justice Harlan's retirement leaves William J. Brennan and Potter Stewart from among the five appointed by Dwight D. Eisenhower during his two terms as President. Justice Byron White was named to the court by John F. Kennedy, and Thurgood Marshall was appointed by Lyndon B. Johnson. Thus, with replacement of Black and Harlan, six of the nine justices will have been appointed by Republican presidents.

NIXON HAS NOT had an easy time with court appointments. Although his initial choice — that of Burger to replace Warren as chief justice — was widely acclaimed and readily confirmed, he ran into trouble with the Senate when he tried to replace Abe Fortas, a Johnson appointee who retired under fire.

His first choice, Clement F. Haynsworth of South Carolina, was refused Senate confirmation because of a rather minor conflict of interest in cases he had heard in lower courts. If the same strict conflict-of-interest standards were applied throughout our judicial system, there would be a lot of empty benches. But the matter was highly sensitive at the time because of the disclosures of wheeling and dealing by Fortas while he occupied a Supreme Court seat.

With Haynsworth refused, Nixon turned to G. Harrold Carswell of Florida, an unfortunate selection since he had little to qualify him for such high office. When Carswell was refused confirmation, the President abandoned naming a southerner and chose Blackmun.

IT MAY BE TAKEN for granted that Hugo Black, an Alabaman, will be replaced with another jurist from the South. There are plenty of well qualified men below the Mason and Dixon Line from among whom Nixon may choose. Let us hope he will not propose another Harrold Carswell.

The opportunity for so many appointments gives President Nixon an unusual opportunity, not only to put a majority of "strict constructionists" on the court, as he has indicated he wants to do, but also by juidicious selections to restore the Supreme Court itself to the pinnacle of respect it occupied in some past periods of our history.

By RUS WALTON:

Court Decision Another Diminishing Of Individual

SACRAMENTO — For several weeks now, I have been chewing on reactions to the State Supreme Court's decision on school financing — the one which held that dependence on local property taxes to fund public education was unconstitutional.

In general, I have noted, response to the decision depends largely on whether your school district would gain or lose money on the deal. Those who stand to gain, cheer; those who would lose, growl.

I guess I hear a different drummer. At any rate I get a case of philosophical indigestion when I try to swallow some potential ramifications of the decree.

You'll get no quarrel from me over the court's point that each individual should have an equal educational opportunity, be able to approach the school as he approaches the bench — equal and without discrimination. The accident of geography, or the economics of a given district, should not affect the basic public education made available to each freeman.

But it is still (so far) a fact that whereas each individual stands equal before the law, some may wish to employ the services of an F. Lee Bailey. And so it is with school districts: some may wish to add enriched programs on top of the state's basic program.

MOST PROPOSALS for educational reform involving a statewide property tax have included a provision that local school districts could go on from there (via a tax override) if they choose to enrich their curriculum. If the court's decision is held to make such enrichment programs illegal, such egalitarianism would make me choke. Uniformity does not equate with equality.

I have no quarrel with the court's assertion that there is no equity when taxes for public education fall roughly and unevenly on the property owners' backs. The education tax on property should be equalized. A large portion of the costs should be shifted to other sources.

But all of this is secondary compared to the big threat inherent in the court's decision. When you strip away the erudite cliches and the Horace Mann quotes, the court decision boils down to one cold and frightening fact. It can, if it stands, mean the end of local control. The end of pluralism and diversity. The onslaught of uniformity.

With public funds go public control. The level of appropriation determines the level of authority, the number of controls and the quantity of paper work. It was ever thus.

EVER SINCE the court dropped the first shoe on this matter I have been waiting for someone to drop the other shoe. And, sure enough: Tom Braden dropped it the other day!

Tom Braden. He who was head of the State Board of Education under Governor Brown. He who ran for lieutenant governor in 1966 and was defeated in the primary.

Tom is a political schizoid. He has a deep distrust for certain things big — such as big business; yet he has an abiding trust in certain things bigger — such as big government.

It was not startling for him to suggest that if the court's decision makes sense within a state, it makes even more sense within a nation.

Thus, according to the Gospel of Tom, the federal government should take over education — in the name of equality.

And, that's the other shoe I had been waiting for!

Dual Citizenship Not In Constitution

Factually replying to R.W. Skewes-Cox letter (I-J, Sept. 23) re mundialization.

Radicals, dissidents etc. have the timerity to read laws, and government documents, so that they will say what these persons would have you believe.

Taking parts of the United States Constitution out of context they rationalize, or attempt to, the legality of dual citizenship, under the banner of mundialization.

In the Constitution, there is no indication, expression, or statement concerning the legality of dual citizenship. Most likely at the time of drafting, no thought of such desire crossed the writers' minds.

If a gnawing of such a possibility was there at all, it was carefully covered in the oath to country and flag of the United States. "I pledge allegiance to the United States, and to the flag for which it stands. One nation indivisible under God".

Acknowledging, and stating this pledge makes one, to wit: a citizen of the U.S. living in California, County of Marin, a resident of San Anselmo. Not a citizen of.

San Anselmo residents cannot legally vote mundialization in or out under the Constitution. . .

It was totally unfair to attempt to berate Mrs. Susan Tennler (and I am not acquainted with the lady), for her efforts to keep the residents of San Anselmo totally American. She is, as most of us, aware of our voting rights, when, and where, and has no intention of voting twice for the same man as Skewes-Cox has indicated.

Action Is Needed To Save Landmark

Many discussions, arguments pro and con, and protests regarding the sale of the Marin Town and Country Club by Mr. Max Friedman to Kaiser Aetna for building high-rises, apartments, etc., but there haven't been enough interest or protest by the voting public. It's all very well not to get involved and stay safe in our little cocoons, minding our own affairs until it's too late. This concerns all of us living in Fairfax, San Anselmo, the County of Marin and the Bay Area in its entirety. . .

We are awfully late in getting any action on this matter. If the town of Fairfax or County of Marin can't handle the purchase of this 25 acres, the State of California should.

Don't get me wrong. Mr. Friedman has a perfect right to sell this property to whomsoever he wants. He owns it. The poor man probably needs a tax deduction. Of course, Dear Mr. Friedman, you could give it to the City of Fairfax and be forever a hero to us all. How does that grab you, Max? Just think of the tax exemption a gift of this magnitude would give you! You know the old saw, "you can't take it with you," still holds good, but your memory would linger on and on. Think about it, Mr. Friedman. In the meantime, let's not hold our breath. Get busy getting involved securing the lovely Town and Country Club for a park for all the natives and children. They are our future.

Students' Statements Do Not Ring True

I have no doubt that Mr. (Frank) Farrara's interview with two Jerusalem Palestinians (Sept. 22) is an objective piece of reporting. However, the way the interview came about is highly suspect, as are many of the statements made by the young Palestinians . . . The Anti-Arab, Pro-Israeli statements made by the two young men somehow don't ring true. You must remember that the relatives, and most likely the parents, of these boys are still living under Israeli rule.

The young men repeated the familiar Zionist cliche of the economic and democratic benefits brought to Jerusalem under Israeli rule. But does their description conform to the facts?

According to James Feron of the New York Times, over 7,000 Palestian homes have been demolished in Jerusalem, the West Bank, and Gaza. (The actual figure exceeds this conservative estimate.) How does this action fit with the picture of a democratic, non-discriminating Israel?

In Jerusalem, new apartment buildings are being constructed on the ruins of demolished Palestinian homes. These apartment buildings are designated for new Jewish immigrants coming from Russia, America, and other countries to claim Israeli citizenship and Arab lands. This action has been condemned by the United States, the United Nations, and the Vatican . . .

So much for "democratic" Israel. Pity the more than one million Palestinians living under Israeli rule who must compromise so much for their existance.

Dairying Permitted In National Parks

In your coverage of the Point Reyes National Seashore master plan hearing you quote Mr. Joseph Rumburg as saying that one of the reasons he would not recommend the change of classification from national seashore to national park is that "no dairying is allowed in a national park." I believe that Mr. Rumburg is mistaken, and I quote from the National Park Service's "Administrative Policies for National Parks" booklet:

"Agricultural uses, including domestic livestock raising, may be permitted in natural areas only where they are desirable to perpetuate and interpret significant historical resources, are permitted by law, or are required pursuant to acquisition agreements or similar documents."

Indeed, Congress provided that when the lands were purchased, "the former owners will be allowed to continue their dairying . . ."

WASHINGTON REPORT

Money, Politics Both Figure In Space Shuttle Decisions

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is expected to announce next month its selection of launch and recovery bases for the proposed space shuttle. California is very much in the running for this billion-dollar bonanza, but the factors of science, money and politics make it impossible to predict the decision.

A delegation of Californians, led by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, descended on NASA recently, to make a final pitch for getting the bases in California. After the presentation, Reinecke was not cocky about the state's chances.

The space shuttle, which is to begin flying in 1980, is designed to save money for the manned space program by using winged launch and orbiting vehicles which can blast off together and return separately to earth up to 100 times each. But the shuttle program is jeopardized by its high cost in these times of desired economic austerity and declining public enthusiasm over expensive manned space flights.

THE MONEY FACTOR, as Reinecke learned during his visit to NASA, could determine which state will come up the winner in the competition for shuttle bases.

NASA, eager to keep the shuttle program on schedule, is considered likely to begin flights using Saturn V or Titan III rocket engines in both the launch vehicle and orbiter. Since NASA already has the men and machines to produce and fly these engines, this could lower the cost substantially for the first few years of the shuttle program and avoid congressional delay.

Cost cutting is almost mandatory when one considers that the Office of Management and Budget reportedly wants to keep the shuttle's annual peak-year operating costs at the $1 billion level. NASA had been thinking of $1.8 billion.

Congressional leaders with a voice in matters of space spending have told NASA they want the shuttle to use existing facilities for launch and recovery of shuttle vehicles.

So if NASA decides to utilize a Saturn booster for the launch vehicle, chances are good that Cape Kennedy would be selected because of the expensive Saturn facilities already in place there. If NASA wants to use Titan rocket engines, the site could be Cape Kennedy or California's Vandenberg Air Force Base. Vandenberg, on the western coast of Santa Barbara County, has $4.2 billion worth of facilities.

CALIFORNIA IS ALSO boosting Edwards Air Force Base in Kern County's high desert as the ideal spot for the launch and orbiting vehicles to land. But the huge launch vehicle and the smaller 12-passenger orbiter could land almost anywhere. There is 10,000 feet of thick runway — and there are a lot of those strips around the United States.

Getting both the launch and recovery sites in California would mean 45,000 more jobs for the state's recession-crushed aerospace industry and $10 billion for the state's economy over a 10-year period, Reinecke estimates. But even if California gets neither site, its aerospace industry will benefit from the shuttle's lucrative research and hardware contracts.

One of the first such plums already hs come to California. The Rocketdyne Division of the North American Rockwell Corp. has been selected to build reusable engines for the launch and orbiting vehicles. It is a $500 million contract planned to run to 1978.

However, if NASA opts for expendable Saturn or Titan rockets for the first few years of the shuttle program, then Rocketdyne's contract will be either reduced or delayed for that period of time. The decision on initial engines is expected in December or January.

POLITICS, OF COURSE, plays a role in the site selection process, but exactly how is virtually impossible to decipher at this time. When the engine contract went to Rocketdyne a few months ago, the Connecticut congressman who has runner-up Pratt and Whitney in his district accused the White House of trying to buy California votes in 1972.

The decision on sites will be subject to the same interpretation, but even California's boosters expect the selection to stand largely on technical and financial considerations.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Puerto Rico's Violence Laid To Weakest Faction

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

On a wall in downtown San Juan is scrawled "Estado 51." It is an expression of Puerto Rico Gov. Luis A. Ferre's determination to make Puerto Rico the 51st state in the United States.

It also is an expression of one of the chief issues that divide Puerto Ricans — whether the island should remain as it now is, a commonwealth with advantages including special U.S. citizenship without U.S. income taxes, whether it should become a state or become independent.

Among the three, advocates, advocates of independence are the smallest numerically and most active, frequently invoking terrorism to make up for their weakness at the polls where they never have taken more than three per cent of the vote.

A frequent target is tourism, both because this embarrasses the government and because it strikes at an industry which contributes more than $100 million a year to the Puerto Rican economy.

FERRE, WHO HAS set 1980 as a target date for statehood, likes to cite the three per cent figure as evidence of the weakness of the independence movement. Privately, he has admitted it may have support of 20 per cent of the people.

The story of violence inside the independence movement goes back many years.

On Nov. 1, 1950, two Puerto Rican nationalists attempted to assassinate President Harry S. Truman. In the attack outside Blair House in Washington, one of the Puerto Ricans was slain and the other wounded. One of the guards also was killed and two others wounded.

On March 1, 1954, three or four Puerto Ricans sprayed from 20 to 25 shots on to the floor of the House of Representatives from the spectators' gallery, wounding five congressmen.

They also were identified as nationalists.

Puerto Rican sources said later the attack was part of a plot in which attacks were planned against President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the then secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

WHILE LESS spectacular in recent years, the attacks have continued.

In March of this year, two policemen and a student were killed in rioting which erupted after a fight between student radicals supporting independence and members of the University of Puerto Rico's ROTC unit.

And, as American governors convened in San Juan for their annual conference, some 25,000 demonstrators shouting for independence and "Yankee Go Home," kept the governors virtual prisoners for some hours inside their hotel.

The radicals take advantage of Puerto Rico's natural difficulties, which are numerous enough. Despite an economy which under "Operation Bootstrap" leaped ahead at an annual rate of 10 per cent for years, Puerto Rico has difficulty running fast enough to keep up with itself. It is one of the world's most thickly populated areas and its birth rate continues to boom. The result is mounting unemployment and increasing unrest both in the rural areas and in the cities.

School Children As Salesmen Both Annoying And Impressive

Back-to-school time for Eastside residents of Petaluma means more than the return of yellow school buses and lines of eager children playing in school yards. It means junior-sized salesmen coming in droves.

Hundreds of 11-year-old children fresh from the summer's play return to the Old Adobe District schools and attack the annual magazine sale drive with unbelieveable vigor. Children, who a few weeks ago were playing happily outside your house, turn into high pressure salesmen in a few short days.

A representative of Curtis Publishing Co. visits each school to give the regular pep talk and recruit pupils to peddle his lengthy list of magazines. This year the selection was expanded to include books as well.

With great enthusiasm, the youngsters hit the streets in a manner unknown since the invasion of Normandy.

SPURRED ON BY thoughts of potential prizes like candy, most youngsters go about their work in a serious fashion. In many cases it's difficult to refuse when the youngster reports he needs to sell only one more subscription to win a Sugar Daddy.

The campaign, however, is not really to be trifled with. Last year the three sixth grade classes at Old Adobe School earned $1,600 from their labors to be used for extra field trips, parties, and a class graduation gift.

That amount of money is really impressive — especially if you're 11 years old. The possibilities could be needless if this source of energy were to be exploited further. Bond issues and tax rate increase elections could become a thing of the past.

IN A SCENE something like this, the principal could say, "All right students, settle down. I called this assembly to discuss a very serious financial question. As you all know, classes are really crowded and we have to build a new school. Wouldn't everyone like a new school?"

This, of course, brings hearty applause from the students, weary of fighting 40 others daily into the broom closet-sized classroom.

"Tell you what we're going to do," the principal continues as the cleesful shouting dies down. "We're going to raise $487,000 for a new school." The applause and shouts are deafening as the students rally to the cause.

As the youngsters pounded doors on a year 'round basis selling everything from used galoshes to life insurance, homeowners might wonder if paying taxes wasn't easier after all.

What If Those TV Shows Really Told It Like It Is?

WASHINGTON — We're never going to close the credibility gap in this country until the television programs become more honest. No TV show tells it like it is.

If the TV producers were really mirroring life, this is how some of their programs would go:

"CHIEF, I'M STUMPED on the Logan murder case. We've tracked down every possible clue and hit a dead end. There are no motives, no fingerprints, and the guy had no enemies. It's baffling."

"Did you check the wife's whereabouts on the night of the crime?"

"I didn't have time to. It meant going out to her aunt's house on Staten Island, and so I said the hell with it."

"What about Logan's business partner?"

"We asked the West Coast police to check out his alibi. They never replied to our query."

"Any women in his life?"

"There was a Miss Fan Fan La Tulipe who danced at the Pink Gypsy. Kelly was supposed to find out her connection with the victim, but he was suspended last week during the graft scandal in the 12th precinct."

"From what you've told me, you seem to have done a thorough enough job. I guess we'll put this down as an unsolved murder. If we spent all our time on one murder, we'd never get anything done around here."

"I was hoping you'd say that, Chief. The case was really becoming a drag."

THE HOSPITAL SHOWS aren't much better at telling the truth about what happens in a large medical center:

"Dr. Edwards, come in please."

"Yes sir, Dr. Fauntenroy, you asked to see me?"

"I was curious about that little old lady who almost died in Room 506. They say you forgot to replace her oxygen bottle."

"So I made a mistake. One lousy error and you're going to wash me out?"

"It wasn't just the little old lady in Room 506, Edwards. I was thinking of the man in the emergency ward the other night — the one whose leg you amputated after the automobile accident."

"What was wrong with that? Dr. Peters said it was one of the best operations he had ever seen."

"It was, except you cut off the wrong leg."

"So that's why it took him so long to recover!"

"DR. EDWARDS, you're an intern, a good intern, but you have to stop making so many mistakes. Now what I've called you in about is that I've heard through the grapevine that you left an instrument in Mr. Cummings' stomach this afternoon."

"But I remembered it as I was washing up and made them bring him back."

"Edwards, you're young, and you're impetuous and you're careless. But I'm going to recommend that you be kept on. Do you know why?"

"You owe my father a favor?"

"No, it's deeper than that. You look like a doctor and that to me is very important. Most of the men trying to be doctors these days have long hair and beards. But you know how to dress and you give the hospital a lot of class. Keep your hair short, Edwards, and you'll have a job here for life."

Application For Federal Funds To Be Made

An amended application for additional federal funds and more time to complete development of Marin City will be considered by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency board at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the agency, said the application, which was originally submitted to the department of Housing and Urban Development in May, seeks a two-year extension and $918,105. Of that amount, he said one third of the funds sought must come from local sources.

A recent study of the agency's noncash credits has shown that all the local share needed is already available, according to Shepherd, who said the application will be amended to reflect this fact.

The revised application will be submitted to HUD later this week, he said.

Safety Award For Ross Workers

The town of Ross is among 12 California cities receiving first place awards in the 1970-71 California Cities Employee Safety Contest. The awards were presented to cities achieving the best on-the-job accident prevention records during the past year.

Other first place winners in the contest, sponsored by the League of California Cities and State Compensation Insurance Fund, are: Brentwood, Rosemead, Auburn, Bellflower, Los Gatos, South Lake Tahoe, Woodland, Redding, Redondo Beach, Palo Alto and Sacramento.

A total of 249 cities participated in the competition.

Antibusing Amendment By Clausen

I-J Special Report

WASHINGTON — A constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing of school children based on race, color or national origin has been introduced by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Frist Dsitrict.

His proposed amendment would declare that "no public school student shall, because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school." If passed by both houses of Congress, the amendment would require ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Clausen, in a press statement, said the U.S. Supreme Court, which ordered school desegregation in 1954, "should be compelled to reconsider this unfortunate, regressive and unworkable decision."

The congressman asserted that the decision had worsened racial tension, and was "a giant step backwards in the struggle to improve relations and communications between the races in this country."

More important than "forced physical integration," Clausen said, would be "more emphasis on economic and political integration, and also more emphasis on quality education wherever the child's family or student lives."

VICE PRESIDENT — John K. Riley of Tiburon has been named vice president for university relations for the University of San Francisco. He was formerly vice chairman of the board of G. A. Brakeley and Co. of New York, a national firm of fund raising consultants.

Migratory Waterfowl Protection Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin has enrolled his department in the effort to protect nesting and breeding areas for migratory waterfowl.

Congress authorized $10 million for the water bank program. The money will be used to compensate farmers who agree not to use wetlands for agricultural purposes or otherwise destroy such areas.

North Coast Panel Clears Big Hurdle

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill creating a North Coast planning commission to include Sonoma County, newly amended to strengthen its power, has reached its final committee hurdle in the Assembly.

The bill, SB 920 by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, would create a five-county North Coast Area Planning and Development Organization as a counterweight to the Association of Bay Area Governments. Sonoma County voters have balloted to quit ABAG in favor of such a north coast organization.

The Assembly Governmental Organization Committee amended the bill Friday to eliminate an escape hatch for local governments. The committee eliminated a provision that no action or policy "shall have effect within any jurisdiction, unless and until such a jurisdiction shall concur in such action or policy."

The bill went to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, where it is expected to receive prompt passage to the lower house floor. As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Collier usually has no difficulty with his bills in the ways and means committee, the lower house counterpart to his own committee.

Less certain, however, was approval of Collier's bill on the Assembly floor. Opposition is expected from legislators favoring a strong Bay Area regional organization including Sonoma County. The bill already passed the Senate.

Board Assured On Middle School Move

Supt. John F. Plank assured the San Rafael Board of Education last night there would be sufficient facilities to switch to a full middle school program in the 1972-73 school year.

With both Santa Venetia and Davidson schools scheduled to operate as middle schools with sixth, seventh and eighth grades, the question of attendance areas however remains undetermined.

Plank said that "since middle school children who attend from the East San Rafael area, including Glenwood and Peacock Gap schools, are transported by bus at present, it would seem logical that this area's students could be assigned to Santa Venetia."

Plank said after planned improvements Santa Venetia Middle School would have a capacity of 700 pupils and Davidson, with two sixth grade classes housed at nearby Laurel Dell Intermediate School, would have a capacity of 850. He estimated enrollment would remain at about 1,600 for the next two years and drop about 100 in the 1974-75 school year.

Plank said the elementary district could make the move by two steps, or make the change all in the 1972-73 year.

If it were all done at once, he said, it would bring the enrollment to Santa Venetia Middle School to 610 and at Davidson to 1,040, requiring more use of Laurel Dell School.

Plank said the changes wouldn't require any additional capital outlay for transportation. "The final plan is to have three middle schools, for about 660 to 700 each, but that won't happen for five years, unless there is a change in growth."

He emphasized that this year's seventh graders at each school wouldn't be transferred next year.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

TEACHERS' PAY — Received a report from the Marin County Schools Office that teachers' pay raises would have to be authorized individually to comply with Office of Emergency Preparedness rules, a regulation contrary to a previous report, and sought advice from Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino. Plank said the payroll has been prepared with the pay raises included.

HIRED — Authorized hiring seven teachers, Ann Case, kindergarten, at $7,194 a year; Ann Cohen, kindergarten, $8,067; Sandra Jim, mathematics, high school district, $8,984; James Porter, floating substitute, elementary district, $7,998; George Ridout, continuation education, high school district, $7,481; Robin Selfridge, intermediate grades, $8,784; and Frank Shippey, intermediate grades, $9,599; and Robert Hermann, custodian 1, elementary district, at $6,840 a year; and David Boyce and William Trenchard, substitute custodians, at $3.29 an hour.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Richard Sydow, industrial arts teacher, Terra Linda High School; Jan Page, library clerk, Terra Linda High School; and Gerald Denman, John Littleton and Elizabeth Howell, instructional aides.

RETIREMENT — Accepted the retirement of Alice Gateley, teacher, Santa Venetia Middle School, who has been ill.

ADULT EDUCATION — Approved a list of 52 instructors for the adult education program, all hired at $8 an hour.

INSTRUCTIONAL TV — Approved a contract with KQED to provide educational television services for the school year at a cost of $4,110, with the state expected to reimburse the district about $2,000.

GIFTS — Accepted a bass, amplifier and speaker cabinet valued at $750 and a sound system and cabinet valued at $1,000 for the San Rafael High School music department from the BOC (Band, Orchestra, Chorus) Association, and a clarinet, valued at $150, for the same department from John Castle; and 74 issues of National Geographic magazine for Gallinas School library from Pat Geiger.

ON-LOCATION SCHOOL — Received a report from Supt. John F. Plank that the "On Location" High School would be located at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, 1510 Fifth Avenue, starting Oct. 14 and the cost to the district for light, heat and custodial service would be about $40 a month.

CSBA DELEGATE — Voted for Board Member Marilyn Bolinger as a representative to the California School Boards Association Delegate Assembly.

UNIFICATION — Received notice from the Marin County Committee on School District Organization that an election for trustees of a unified San Rafael-Dixie school district wouldn't be held until after the unification election next June. The alternative would have been to have the unification and trustee election at the same time.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENT — Authorized an interdistrict agreement with Sonoma County so a pupil who moved to Petaluma can continue to attend Santa Venetia Middle School.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to a joint meeting with the Dixie School District Board at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 at Terra Linda High School faculty lounge to discuss the unification election for both districts required by the state next June.

Board Member Herman L. Childress was absent.

Art Center Plans Auction Sunday

The Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street, will hold a fund raising auction Sunday at the center, beginning at 11 a.m. and continuing until 3:30 p.m.

Among the items for sale will be: A full size air conditioner, complete western water bed, frame and heater included, two airplane wings, a canopy bed, sewing machine, several historical documents relating to Sausalito, a pre-Columbian pot from Nicaragua and one "atrocious standing lamp."

13 Named To Citizens Committee

The San Rafael Board of Education last night appointed 13 members to its Citizens Advisory Committee as replacements.

Named to the committee, subject to their acceptance, were: Larry L. Quistgaard, representing Coleman School; Mrs. Leon Fish, Davidson Middle School; Robert Bolen, Gallinas School; Carolyn Wilson, Laurel Dell intermediate and primary schools; Diane Cook, Short School; Mrs. John McNear, San Rafael High School; and Steve Gillespie, work-study center.

Robert P. Rimes, Charles Peek, Mrs. Robert McVey, James Forkin, Alyce I. Quiros and Daniel Bell were appointed members at large.

If all serve the committee will have a full strength of 31 members. Board members agreed new members could draw for length of term, with 10 spots open for three years and three for two years.

Belotti, Wife Mending After Auto Accident

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, and his wife, Delphine, continued in "stable" condition today with injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Both were taken to Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital after their car went out of control near Cloverdale on Sunday as they were leaving the Mendocino County Fair at Boonville. The car went off an embankment.

Belotti, 73, suffered a severe neck injury and is in intensive care unit.

Mrs. Belotti, 66, reportedly suffered fractures of the wrist and hip in addition to head injuries.

Youth Nabbed In Drug Probe

A 19-year-old Novato youth was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing and being under the influence of dangerous drugs, San Rafael police reported.

Robert Wesley Cobbler, 72 Leland Drive, was booked into Marin County Jail where he posted $1,000 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Thursday.

He and his 17-year-old companion were picked up at about 1:30 p.m. near 1405 Third Street after police received a report that the youths had run their car into a tire cabinet at a service station at Second and D streets.

Cobbler's companion was issued a juvenile citation.

Twelve Youths Held On Pot, Alcohol Counts

Twelve youths, ranging in age from 14 to 16, have been cited to juvenile authorities after being caught by Larkspur police holding a beer and marijuana party in a vacant apartment.

Officers said the youths — 10 boys and two girls — were cited Friday night after residents of the apartment house at 30 Via Belardo in Greenbrae complained of loud noise from one apartment.

Entering the apartment, officers said they found six youths sitting around candles in the front room and another six hiding in the apartment's bedroom closets.

With the exception of a San Francisco youth, all the teenagers were from Lakrspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield homes.

Officers said they found a quantity of beer and suspected marijuana in the apartment.

The fire, which gutted the Silver Seahorse hotel, was believed caused by a leaking gas pipe, a fire brigade spokesman said.

Construction Stops; Firm Goes Bankrupt

Construction has stopped on the 81-unit townhouse project known as Scottsdale Village in southern Novato, a development of Western Hosts of San Francisco.

Western Hosts, a California corporation, has been adjudged bankrupt in the United States District Court on a petition filed Sept. 17. The first meeting of creditors will be held Oct. 13 at 10 a.m. in Room 17435 Federal Building and U.S. Courthouse, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, when claims may be proved. Creditors may then appoint a trustee, a committee, authorize the sale of property of the estate, examine the bankrupt and transact other business in connection with the bankruptcy.

According to Murray and McCormick of Novato, engineering firm associated with Scottsdale Village, exteriors of most of the townhouses have been completed and utilities have been brought in. Still to be completed are interiors and some street improvements.

The development adjoins Scottsdale Boulevard west of Highway 101 which was planned to connect the highway with South Novato Boulevard.

Western Hosts, which formerly listed its offices at 875 Stevenson Street, San Francisco, has had its telephone service at that address disconnected.

GIGI VISITS FROM BONN

Margarete Returns To Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

It's not unlikely than an old grad will return to the alma mater, but for Margarete Karenke it's quite a trip.

Margarete is a San Rafael High School graduate in the class of 1959 and her home town is Bonn, West Germany.

Known to her classmates as Gigi, she spent a year in 1958-1959 at San Rafael as an American Field Service exchange student from her home city. Now she's back 12 years later to have a look at the school and to visit with the friends she made there then.

MARGARETE SAYS she knew when she left that she wanted to return for a visit, and the past week-and-a-half she has been staying up late "catching up on things" with Mr. and Mrs. James McFarlane of San Rafael, the family with whom she stayed for her year in America.

Then on Saturday she will begin a week's stay with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pendergrass in San Rafael and his daughter Rhea, whom she knew during her Marin County year. It is with Rhea that she plans to return to San Rafael High School to visit with her former teachers and have a look at changes in the school and student body. Margarete also hopes that some ofher other San Rafaael friends can visit with her while she is in Marin. Many, says Mrs. McFarlane, seem to have married and moved away.

SHE AND THE McFarlanes planned to spend the weekend at the McFarlane cabin at Lake Tahoe, and they have visited San Francisco and Sausalito and taken a tour through the San Rafael area. Margarete noticed some building had gone on in the 12 years she has been away, "especially in the Peacock Crest and Lagoon areas."

"Also, I noticed that the girls and women are not so dressed up as they were," she said, adding that it is part of changes in thinking which are going on in Germany, too. She said that previously you could recognize an American girl by her clothes, but now in Germany the young people wear similar clothes.

"California drivers are less polite than they were 12 years ago," she smiles.

THE PAST eight years in Germany Margarete has been working as a secretary to a deputy member of Parliament in Bonn, West Germany's capital. She helped with general preparation of papers for the sessions, attended the sessions and answered the lobby mail concerned with bills in preparation.

"Now there's a women's liberation movement and there are a couple of bills reflecting the new liberal thinking to reform the abortion law." No abortions are legal now in West Germany, she said.

Bur Margarete quit the job this month and will become a teacher when she returns to Bonn. She said that there is a shortage of teachers in West Germany.

After graduation from San Rafael High School, she returned to Germany to continue school and then went to a business college to acquire office skills. She has completed six weeks of practice teaching and will begin as a teacher of history, civics, English and German for youngsters aged 11 to 15 who do not intend to go to college.

TWELVE YEARS ago Margarete Karenke was an exchange student at San Rafael High School from Bonn, West Germany. Now she's back in San Rafael to visit old friends before she returns to Bonn to begin a teaching career. She looks forward to visiting her former teachers at San Rafael High and seeing the changes in the school.

Margarete said that such students don't have much motivation toward school and that getting them interested is a challenge to a teacher. Good teachers there, like here, are respected, she said.

COMPARING THE German and American education systems, she said that "everything is different." Here she found that it's up to each student to learn what he wants or feels he has to do for each class. In Germany, school assignments are definite and the student knows exactly which pages of the book he must know.

"For the creative personality, it's probably better over here," she said.

Margarete said that the job market is good in most parts of West Germany. A friend of hers put an ad for a secretarial position in a Bonn newspaper and had 40 job offers, she said. Much of the factory labor in West Germany is from Southern European countries, she noted.

Margareta already visited with her foster sister Louise in New Jersey on her way to the West Coast. And when she leaves she will visit in Salt Lake City and then Minneapolis, where she will meet the girl who came with her from Germany.

In the meantime she wants to see the area, talk to people and to correct her impressions of America in the 1970s so she can teach about it correctly.

"And I would like to bring my own family here sometime for a visit," she says.

Grape Festival Slated Saturday

One of the oldest continuing events in the Bay Area is the Grape Festival, which will be held Saturday at the Marin County Civic Center grounds in San Rafael for the 72nd year.

The Sunny Hills home benefit is sponsored by the Sunny Hills Guilds' Governing Council and involves a large participation by all its guilds as well as student, business, church, fraternal and women's organizations.

THE HOURS ARE 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the one-day event, which last year drew 25,000 festival-goers. The style will be an old-fashioned country fair with some 80 booths offering gourmet foods, handmade articles of all kinds, and the traditional baskets of grapes from a large center booth.

A special gayway will be set up for the entertainment of the children. New this year will be caftans, men's ties, leather, batik and macrame handcrafts, posters and umbrella stands. Youngsters from the Sunny Hills homes will also participate this year and they will have a special booth offering their 1972 calendar, "the words of youth." The 37 Sunny Hills guilds will sell their handmade specialities.

A motorized cable car will be used to transport festival visitors to and from the parking lot and child care will be provided. Admission to the festival is free.

PICNIC FOODS and drinks will be available and guests may enjoy the foods at tables and chairs under an awning. There also will be a cabaret with a minstrel wandering through strumming and singing folk music.

Mrs. Anthony Cameron of Tiburon is festival chairman. Other chairmen are Mmes. R.F. Hilliard of San Rafael, H. Reginald Hammond of Fairfax, Darrel Beckstead of Corte Madera, Paul Scheller of Novato, Frank Huntington of San Rafael, Tabor Kopan of Mill Valley; Stanley Fontez, Ronald Horne, Cliff Radus, Allen Thomas, Fred Soloman, Robert Knox, all of San Rafael; Herbert West of Ross, John Quinn of Kentfield, and Richard O'Brien of Larkspur.

Mrs. Sue Clark of San Anselmo is coordinator of volunteers. Mrs. Wes Bidgood is set-up chairman, and Mrs. Robert Dougherty is publicity chairman for the festival.

All proceeds from the day go to support the Sunny Hills homes in San Anselmo and San Francisco.

Gaining Points

Gold-toned pearls that have not been so popular in the United States in the past are now gaining points fast.

Wedding Rites Held In Fairfax

Fairfax Community Church was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Doreen (Dorrie) A. Ericson of San Anselmo and Leonard G. Van Dyke of Napa. A reception in the social hall of the church in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Barbara Bariola of San Jose, and Tony Stoer of Napa was best man. Larry Wright of Napa, the bridegroom's brother, and John Uhte of Mill Valley ushered.

Dorrie is the daughter of Mrs. Marge Ericson of San Anselmo and E. W. Ericson of Los Angeles. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and San Jose State College and is an occupational therapist at the Community Mental Health Center in Greenbrae. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Uhte of Fairfax are her grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Texas the couple will live in Napa.

Leonard is the son of Mrs. Eldon Wright of Napa and Grady Van Dyke of Texas. A graduate of Napa High School, he is employed as a licensed psychiatric technician at Napa State Hospital. He is also the brother of Wesley, Sharon, Karen, Noel and Vicki Wright, all of Napa.

Couple Is Married In Ross Ceremony

Karen Beda Seastrom became the bride of Charles Frisbie Bowen Saturday afternoon in a ceremony at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

A reception at the Meadow Club followed.

Mrs. Eugene Toulouse of San Rafael, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and the bride's twin sister, Mrs. John Lando of Fairfax; Mrs. Craig Handley of Mill Valley; and Kathleen Giono of San Anselmo were bridesmaids.

Steve Anderson of Fairfax was best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Tom Batch of Novato, Eugene Toulouse of San Rafael and Tom Stevens of San Anselmo.

After a wedding trip to Yosemite the couple will live in Campbell.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Seastrom of San Anselmo. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and Sonoma State College. The bride is employed by Security Pacific National Bank in San Jose.

Charles is the son of Capt. John Bowen of Seattle and Dawn Frisbie of Tiburon. He is a graduate of Novato High School and Everett Junior College and is employed by Ralston Purina Company in Hayward. The bridegroom is the brother of Vona Siroky and Jack Jaquish, both of San Rafael.

ON THE AGENDA

'Fiesta Under Stars' Theme In Boys' School Dinner Dance

"Fiesta Under the Stars" will be the theme for the annual dinner dance of the St. Vincent's School for Boys Women's Auxiliary Saturday evening. The benefit party will be held in the gardens of the school in San Rafael.

Guests may come in Mexican costume, according to chairman Mrs. John R. Kingery, and music will be provided by a strolling trio. The social hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing to follow.

Committee chairmen are Mmes. Ted Van Bebber, reservations; Pat McDowd, decorations, and Leroy Bersaglieri Jr., awards.

THE FIRST "Friday Forenoons" series of program will begin at 11 a.m. Friday with a talk on bookbinding by Shiela Casey. The series is presented by the Moya Library Guild at the Jose Moya del Pino Library, Octagon House, at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The program is free to guild members.

A SPECIAL fund-raising "Golf-a-thon" will be held by the Auxiliary of Sonoma State Hospital beginning Friday at the San Geronimo Golf and Country Club. Five golf courses will participate. Others are Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato on Saturday and Sunday, Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club on Oct. 8, Sonoma Golf and Country Club on Saturday, and Bennett Valley Golf Club in Santa Rosa on Oct. 9.

Proceeds from the entire event go to the Sonomaland Park for patients at Sonoma State Hospital.

MARIN CHAPTER of Cystic Fibrosis will hold its annual benefit dinner dance, "Una Festa Italiana," at Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club on Saturday. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 8 p.m., dinner at 8:30 p.m., followed by dancing.

Chairman Mrs. Richard Chicca is assisted by Mmes. Ronald Kiesel, tickets and decorations; Lou Roncarati, food; and Joseph Ramblas, awards and publicity. Proceeds go to cystic fibrosis research.

CORINTHIAN YACHT Club Women's Auxiliary will hold a barbecue steak dinner on Friday. The social hour begins at 5 p.m. and dinner will be served on the Belvedere clubhouse patio at 6:30 p.m. Chairman Mrs. Ralph Jennings plans benefit games after the dinner, which is called "Autumn Reflections at Corinthian Harbor." Club member chefs will be Jack Copper, Bill Fuss, Hal Monozon and Warren Vincent.

WINNERS OF the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club's three-day club championship tournament ending this Friday will receive awards at a party at the clubhouse to be held after the last round of play.

The defending champion is Mrs. Robert McDannold, who represented the club at the Marin County tournament of champions of women's golf held Aug. 26 at Peacock Gap.

Tournament chairman Mrs. Joe De Smet and golf captain Mrs. John Ericson, who will present the awards, are directing the tournament. Planning the party are Marcia Lee and Mmes. G.D. Dickey and Clifton Brinkley.

A DANCE for single adults will be held Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the Santa Rosa Hotel in Santa Rosa, sponsored by the Social-Lites of Sonoma and Marin Counties.

CONCERT PIANIST Edward M. Hopkins will present a program Friday at 2 p.m. for members of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Prior to the program the club's executive board will meet at 12:15, and there will be a business meeting at 1:15.

Hopkins is known as a piano and organ soloist and accompanist and conducts a chorus for the San Francisco Adult Education Program. He is accompanist for the Loring Club of San Francisco and the Southern Pacific Chorus. Hailed as a child prodigy, he first performed in public at the age of 7 and gave his first full length recital when he was 9 years old.

Garden Site For Rites In San Anselmo

The garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Benoit Jr. of San Anselmo was the setting for the wedding of their daughter, Kathleen Lorraine Benoit, to Kim Gregory Beno of Chino.

Teri Spence of San Anselmo was maid of honor for the Sunday morning nuptials, and Mrs. Linda Morrison of San Luis Obispo was the bridesmaid. Best man duties were performed by Mike Stapleton of Rialto.

A picnic was held in the garden of the home prior to the wedding.

The bride is a graudate of The Principia in St. Louis, Mo., and atended California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo. She is the sister of Jerry Benoit of Spartanburg, N.c., and George Benoit of Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beno of Chino are parents of the bridegroom. Kim is a graduate of Damion High School in La Verne, and of Cal Poly. He is employed with Moss Enterprises, Read Island, B.C.

The bridegroom is the brother of David, Lonny and Craig Beno of Chino.

Pair Says Vows In Terra Linda

Linda Joyce Paris and Charles Edwin Wilbur, both of San Rafael, were married Sept. 18 at St. Isabella's Catholic Church in Terra Linda.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard K. Paris of San Rafael, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Wilbur of Oswego, N.Y., and Leroy Willbur of East Syracuse, N.Y.

Susan Schultze of San Rafael was maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Ronald Joseph Paris, also of San Rafael, was best man.

A reception followed at the bride's parents' home.

Linda is a graduate of Novato High School. Mrs. Emil Paris of Novato is her grandmother.

Charles was graduated from high school in New York. He is employed at the Shell Service Station in Terra Linda.

Following a wedding trip to Monterey the couple will live in San Rafael.

Sgt. Leathers, Sydney Kinsey Are Engaged

The engagement of Sydney Rae Kinsey of Novato to Sgt. John Francis Leathers of San Rafael has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eulin L. Kinsey of Novato.

The couple are planning a Nov. 13 wedding.

Sydney is the sister of Mark L. Kinsey of Novato. She is a graduate of San Marin High School and is employed in Novato.

John is the son of Mrs. Georgia Butler of Prairie Lea, Tex., and the brother of Mmes. Tom Kimura and Tracy Hemmeret and of Tom and Ronald Leathers. Mr. and Mrs. William Green of San Rafael are his grandparents.

John was graduated from Prairie Lea High School and is serving with the Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

His Hair Length Not Frozen, Even Though His Pay Raise Is

DEAR BOTTELS:

My boss explained that the raise he promised me was out, due to Mr. Nixon's cold spell. I understand. It's a part-time job after school and on weekends, and I'm glad to have it, even at starting pay.

But it seems like the freeze should work two ways. Like when he hired me, my hair was chin length — which it still is. Even my folks don't complain.

Well, the boss called me in yesterday and said, "No haircut, no job," because a couple of customers beefed.

I don't get it. If the government can freeze my wages, why can't I freeze the length of my hair? Could I bring suit, and to whom? — HIRSUTE GUY

DEAR HIRSUTE:

Will a "hair suit" keep you hirsute? I'm afraid the wage and price control folks might call this hair-splitting and suggest a trim.

While I don't agree with your employer, it's his ball park and you'll have to play the game his way or get benched. — HELEN

DEAR HIRSUTE:

Maybe not. Your boss isn't really un-cool — or he wouldn't have hired a long-hair in the first place. Maybe a minor trim, with a half-way kidding letter about "one good freeze deserves another," might thaw him. — SUE

DEAR SUE:

I gave a party last Saturday night. My folks (who trust me) went out for the evening. After all, our average age is 18 and our crowd doesn't get drunk, though some of the guys brought beer and I served wine coolers.

But a couple I didn't know very well lit up joints and started passing them around. Nobody seemed concerned. As one guy said, the cops don't bother you any more unless you're dealing: A little weed at a party is expected.

But I thought "paranoid." Besides, my folks have a strong sense of smell, and I'd like to keep their trust.

What do you do when friends bring grass to your party? — APPREHENSIVE

DEAR APPREHENSIVE:

Tell 'em politely if they want to blow weed, take a walk down the street. (And don't come back "holding.") Most people these days understand and respect your attitude toward grass, but if these two don't . .

well, better you lose a couple of minor friends than gain one record (either with your parents or the police). — SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN:

Before some of you readers inform us that it is illegal to sell alcoholic drinks to 18-year-olds, let me add that this letter came from New York, where it isn't. — H.

NOTE FROM BOTH OF US:

But legal or not, there's seldom a college-age or older-teen party these days that doesn't include at least wine and beer. Sort of an irrepressible force against an unenforceable law. — H. AND S.

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

I have a boy friend who is 18. I'm 12. We've tried a few things so we know we're in love. Mama found out and she's real mad. She told me I couldn't see him again.

She thinks she knows it all, but I know I won't get in trouble. I won't get married until I'm anyway 15, so please help me convince her I can go steady, 'cause I'm — WISE AND MATURE FOR MY AGE

DEAR W AND M:

Sorry, kid. I say, listen to your Mommy until you're old enough to call her "Mother!" Get the message? — SUE

DEAR 12-YEAR-OLD:

And by that time, let's hope you'll be wise enough to keep on listening! — HELEN

INSIDE YOUR HOME

Phony Classifications Out In New Furniture Designs

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY

There's a new direction in home furnishings this year and you should begin to notice it during a program called Debut '72. The direction is away from phony design classifications and toward the reproduction of some truly classic forms.

The bane of a reporter's existence has been the silly style designations that were given to furnishings during the past five or six years. You've seen them. The Spanish, Mediterranean, Italian provincial, so-called Contemporary. Most of them were figments of the manufacturers' imagination. They revealed a lack of original thought in the field, since once the word got around that a look such as Spanish was going to be big, everyone jumped on the bandwagon and started knocking out mock Spanish lines.

Finally the industry has done some soul searching. This year, for the first time in my knowledge, manufacturers and retailers have banded together to develop a consumer-conscious program for home furnishings.

It's a national effort, but one in which every home furnishings retail store in your community could participate. The idea is based on a concept of presenting you, the consumer, with a variety of choices. But instead of permitting these choices to come to you hit-or-miss throughout the calendar year the retailers and furniture makers want to offer you a total package for viewing during late September and early October.

Hopefully, though, you won't become a victim of a marketing war. In fact, this Debut '72 program should give you more than you've ever got from home furnishings retailers. The first year will be the hardest in this program, but there is a five-year plan in operation. So as the program matures, the benefits to the consumer should increase.

ALONG WITH the promotional aspects of the program, there seems to be a more direct approach to design. Museum caliber furniture appears to have inspired some fine reproductions and new interpretations. Traditional lines are having a great renaissance. One example of the look that is proliferating in the Debut '72 marketplace is the long, lithe cherry table shown today. Designed as a sofa-back table, it would also stand alone as a console or entry hall piece.

The Heritage design staff followed the graceful sweep of the style of Louis XV. Cabriole legs seem to flow out of the apron area. It is just one of many handsome, rational pieces — one that needs no phony labeling.

Weekly Talks Explore 'Family In Transition'

"The Family in Transition" will be explored in a series of five weekly discussions held by the University of California Extension on the Berkeley campus, beginning Oct. 6.

The class will be held each Wednesday through Nov. 3, from 8 to 10 p.m. in room 22 Warren Hall at U.C., conducted by Arlene and Jerome Skolnick, assistant research psychologist and professor of criminology, respectively, at the university.

Their aim will be to approach conventional assumptions about the family from a variety of viewpoints — to ask, for example, why some couples remain together, rather than why others are divorced; what harm is done to children by long hours under the total surveillance of their mothers, rather than how children are deprived when their mothers work; and why women have accepted inferior status for so long, rather than why they are protesting today.

Topics under which these and other questions will be explored include ideology and myth in the study of the family; sexuality and sex differences; male-female partnering; the politics of child-rearing; and the future of the family.

The Skolnicks are the authors of a book, "The Family in Transition," published this year.

Dinner To Fete Princess

By MOLLY MARIN

Marinites will be much in evidence at the English-Speaking Union dinner honoring Princess Alexandra and her husband, the Hon. Angus Ogilvy Friday night at the Garden Court of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel.

Attending this opening event for British Week in San Francisco will be a contingent from Belvedere, Messrs. and Mmes. Kirk Underhill, David P. Legge, Frank J. Baumgarten and Edmund W. Nash.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Francis Ingall and Mrs. Simon B. Buckner will attend from Sausalito, as will Mmes. Virginia Lissner and Rhoda W. Boyd. The Philip A. Cranes of Kentfield, the G.H. Ekornes of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick T. Vincent of Mill Valley also will be among the dinner guests.

The consuls general of Great Britain, Canada, New Zealand, India and Australia will attend, along with a large group of Londoners and the British Ambassador to the United States, the Earl of Cromer.

Members of the Consular Corps from Marin planning to attend are British Consul and Mrs. Donald H. Stokes of Sausalito and British Consul and Mrs. John S. Renwick of Mill Valley.

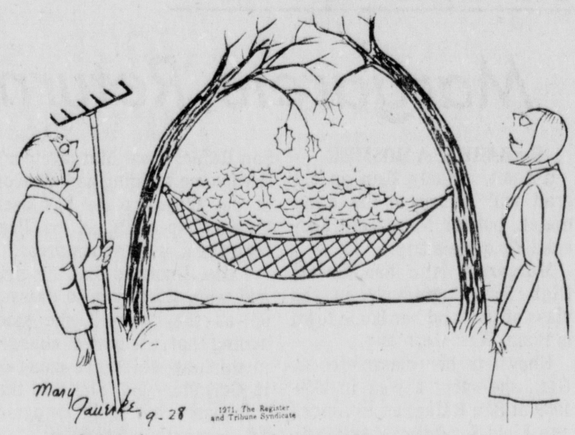
MR. AND MRS Robert Paraspolo have returned to Salt Lake City after spending four weeks with Dorothy Paraspolo's grandmother, Mrs. Anita Freese of San Rafael. Paraspolo will enter the University of Utah.

INTERNATIONAL GOVERNMENT and world press members touring the U.S. were entertained recently by the Thomas Marshalls of Kentfield aboard their yacht, the Victoriana.

Aboard were C. Langhorne Washburn, assistant Secretary of Commerce; and regional directors from throughout the world, Beverly Miller of London, Paul Guidry of Paris, Hans Regh of Frankfurt and Fritz Schmitz, Tokyo.

Press figures were Hubert de Segonzac of Paris Match, Ernesto Inigo of Novedades in Mexico City, Kevin Rafferty of the Financial Times in London and Michael Knuth of Der Frem-denverkehr in Frankfurt.

THE ALUMNAE



"I didn't lose any weight over the summer, but at least I won't have to rake under those trees."

Boys Favored

A study of children's books conducted by a group called "Feminists on Children's Media," and reported on in the October issue of New Woman magazine, finds that the central figure in popular children's stories is a boy three times as often as it is a girl. The study also finds that boys in children's books are always pictured as the ones who "do things."

8 Lectures On Notable Women Set

The contributions of notable women to science, mathematics and medicine will be the subject of eight lectures to be held at the University of California Extension Center, 55 Laguna Street, San Francisco.

Opening Oct. 13, the class series will be held Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

The lectures will be devoted to the lives and achievements of physician Elizabeth Blackwell, biologist Rachel Carson, physicists Marie Curie and Irene Joliot-Curie, psychoanalyst Anna Freud, zoologist Libbie Henrietta Hyman, nutritionist Agnes Fay Morgan, nurse Florence Nightingale and mathematician Emma Noelther.

Among the speakers will be U.C. physicist and Nobel laureate Emilio Segre, research zoologist Dorothy Pitelka and medical specialist Lillian Cartwright; and training analyst Anna Maenchen of the San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institute.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Never Attempt A Finesse That Is Sure To Be A Loser

As everybody knows, leading toward your partner's king is a type of finesse. If the ace is in favorable position, the king will win a trick; but if the ace is behind the king, your finesse will not succeed. When you have good reason to believe that the ace is in unfavorable position, you have no reason to try the finesse of leading to the king.

WITH ACE

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, and that was the last sound move he made. At the second trick he led dummy's ace of spades, expecting to draw trumps and give up two diamonds and a club at most.

The bad trump break gave South something to worry about, and he continued with a trump to the king. This put him in position to lead a diamond to dummy's king.

East won with the ace of diamonds and returned a club to the ace. South led another diamond, and East returned another club, forcing out dummy's king. Now declarer was in the dummy for the last time with the diamonds still not set up. He eventually had to give up a club. Down one.

EARLY START

As soon as South sees the dummy he should realize that East must hold the ace of diamonds for the opening bid of one heart. The normal diamond play is not going to work.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, declarer should lead a low diamond from dummy. East wins with the jack and leads a club to the ace. South cashes the king of spades to see how the trumps break. South then leads a diamond just in case West has the ace and decides to play it.

CLUB TO DUMMY

East wins and returns a club to dummy's king. South ruffs a diamond, discovering that the suit breaks favorably. Now he leads a trump to dummy's ace and cashes a good diamond to get rid of a club. West can ruff, but this kills his natural trump trick. South therefore loses only one trump and two diamonds.

2 Die In Fire At Mobile Home

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—The wife and stepson of a Santa Rosa police dispatcher were killed in a flash fire at their mobile home.

Sonoma County sheriff's investigators said Sunday an explosion in the heating and cooking system caused the fire.

The victims were Mrs. Earl Milliken, 41, and her son, Lance Thomas, 16. Both were found dead Saturday in the kitchen of the mobile home about a mile from Santa Rosa.

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON GREB

Guess who was born today and became famous.

1. You could have watched today's CBS celebrity on his Sunday night "Toast of the Town" for 23 years but now no more. His long-run TV variety show ended its contract and now onlyspecials will bring him to you, saying, "Friends, we have a really great shoe!" (A) Jimmy Durante; (B) Lawrence Welk; (C) Ed Sullivan.

2. Know what Harvard art student turned Ozark mountain folks into an American mythology? He cartooned his way to fame drawing Li'l Abner, Mammy Yoakum, and Daisy Mae, and made Sadie Hawkins Day the great national bachelor hunt: (A) Al Capp; (B) William DeBeck; (C) Ham Fisher.

3. Thanks to La Belle France, birthday parties for two of her offspring come today. One is for that powerful statesman who argued against his country's colonialism in Africa, predicted the coming of World War I, and as French Premier in 1919, punished German militarism with the Versailles Treaty: (A) Charles De Gaulle; (B) Georges Clemenceau; (C) Guy Mollet.

4. The other will surprise a petite Parisian screen cutie who is 37 today. Her natural charms created a sensation when first seen by American viewers in that French picture, "And God Created Woman": (A) Brigitte Bardot; (B) Claudine Longet; (C) Denise Darcel.

Pensioner Wins A $700,000 Pool

MADRID (UPI) — A 70-year-old retired postman living on a pension of less than $57 a month parlayed a 23-cent bet into $700,000 by winning Spain's biggest soccer pool, it was announced Monday.

Rafael Fontan correctly forecast the outcome of 14 matches played in Spain Sunday. The elderly widower went into hiding when newsmen learned of his win.

ROYAL BALLET COMPANY — Artist Judy Nelson's "quick-study" drawing in oil-crayon of a stage rehearsal is included in her one-man show of paintings, drawings and a mural at the Marin Fellowship of Unitarians, being shown through Oct. 29.

ART REVIEW

Rich Colors Are Central To Judy Nelson's Oil Paintings

By ADA GARFINKEL

The setting at the Marin Fellowship of Unitarians in Terra Linda is an advantage to artist Judy Nelson, whose wide-ranging variety of expression needs intermittent pauses for thoughtful observation and reflection.

In Miss Nelson's emotionally charged oil paintings, color is the message — impasto, discrete and interlocking figures — in brilliant carnelian, ruby, amythest, emerald and pearl, interlaced with rich blues and blacks.

These are not "fashionable" paintings in the "now" styles of "pop," "funk," hard-edge or psychedelic art. They do, however, relate authentically to the underside of the self in keeping with the artist's statement: "I paint because I want to see my imagination."

Years of experience as an illustrator and designer for various public and private industries have endowed her with a facility for "quick studies." Several years ago, when the Royal Ballet Company (with Margot Fonteyn and Rudof Nuryev) was performing in Los Angeles, Judy Nelson was the only artist invited to sketch both rehearsals and performances. A number of Miss Nelson's oil-crayon drawings and a 27-foot mural are dramatic recordings of this experience.

There is an overwhelming fascination for ballet expressed in Miss Nelson's own words: "This is a dance of life . . . the dancers existence is realtive to the nature of space. A dancer's struggle is to become weightless . . . this causes turmoil in the stillness of space and within the form of the dancer . . . the air is charged with change!"

True to her observations, Miss Nelson records this drama in various ways — the contortions of a ballerina at the practice bar; the preoccupied concentration and facial intensity of the company waiting for a cue; in a moment of spread-eagled arrest of a dancer, in an entre-chat position.

Where she had achieved dramatic composition in her oil paintings through such devices as high floor-line perspective and figure cropping, it is in the drawings and in the mural that she has isolated the momentum of performance and psychic interaction of individuals immersed in the process of creating a single symbolic entity — the dance. This is high drama.

Marin Fellowship of Unitarians is at 240 Channing Way, San Rafael. Miss Nelson's exhibit which continues through Oct. 29 may be seen every day from 10 until 5 p.m.

Marin County Fair To Offer Ballet, Puppets And Flamenco

Three civic ballet companies, the Theater Flamenco of San Francisco and the Guckenheimer Sauerkraut Band will be among the diverse entertainment offered at the Marin County Fair which opens Friday.

The fair, which will continue through Monday, Oct. 11, will be held at the fairgrounds adjacent to the Marin County Civic Center and will also feature traditional exhibits of floriculture, horticulture and art.

On Friday, the Oakland Ballet Company will perform "Soiree Musicales," with music by Britten and Rossini, "Chimera," the dream sequence from "Hansel and Gretel," "Quiet City" by Aaron Copeland and the folk ballet, "Carnival."

On Saturday, the Sacramento Civic Ballet will perform "Caprice," with music by Vivaldi, "Songs of a Wayfarer," based on Gustave Mahler's music and "LaRonde," featuring music from Rossini's "Overtures."

The presentation by the Marin Civic Ballet on Sunday will include the premiere of a work, "Shining World," with choreography and costumes by Norbert Vesak and music from Shubert.

All three performances will begin at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building auditorium.

The fair will also feature outdoor entertainment, including a Punch and Judy puppet show by Bert Hansen, displays of magic by Phil Temple and Dick Zimmerman, bands from Terra Linda and San Rafael High School.

Square dancing and folk dancing will be presented and there will be a circus, boat rides and a carnival for the youngsters.

Other features of the 1971 fair, the first to be held at the Civic Center Fairgrounds, will include the winning entries in the first Marin Film Fair competition, to be shown at 11 a.m. and 1, 3 and 5 p.m. daily.

An added attraction will be a National Aeronautical and Space Administration exhibit which will feature a moon rock.

The performance by the Theater Flamenco will be on Monday and will include a repertoire of classical Spanish and Flamenco and regional dances from various provinces in Spain.

First Film In Wildlife Series Set

"British Columbia - Mountains to Sea," a documentary film of a pack trip into the Caribou Mountains of that province will begin the Marin Audubon Society's 11th annual wildlife film series next month.

The documentary which pictures the changing activities of wild creatures in response to the changing seasons, will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 17 in Olney Hall at the College of Marin in Kentfield.

Other films in the series will include: Nov. 14, "Filming in No-Man's Land," which captures animal behavior rarely observed and never before filmed; Jan. 30, 1972, "Mule Deer Country;" Feb. 20, "Treasure of East Africa," and March 26, "Journey in Time," filmed in the Grand Canyon.

Further information on the films can be obtained from Mrs. Thomas S. Price, 7 West Shore Road, Belvedere.

Oil Kills Trout

WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (UPI) —A 3,000-gallon oil spill from a runaway tank truck has killed an estimated 1,000 rainbow trout, the State Fish and Game Department reported Monday.

Five Picked To Judge Film Entries

Five judges have been named to select the winning entries in the first Marin Film Fair competition of the Marin County Fair.

The judges include: David Sohn, a screen writer from Evanston, Ill.; Robert Bell of Ross, chairman of the film department at San Francisco State College; David Adams, owner-producer of Pyramid Film Productions in Santa Monica; Peter Monahan of San Anselmo, film maker and teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School, and James Schock, executive news director at KGO-TV in San Francisco.

The judges will select the three winning entries in each of the independent and student categories, and will make a special award for the best entry using "Man and Nature" as its theme.

The winning entries and other films selected by the judges will be shown in the Veterans Memorial Building at 11 a.m. and at 1, 3 and 5 p.m. daily during the fair scheduled for Oct. 8 through Oct. 11 at the Civic Center Fairgrounds.

Hearing Set On Stinson, Bolinas Plan

The future of Bolinas and Stinson Beach — their population, density and type of development — will be discussed at a public hearing during the second week in November.

Marin County Planning Commissioners yesterday asked County Planning Director Werner Von Gundell to set up a night meeting in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area so that all segments of both communities can be well represented.

The public hearing will determine whether the existing Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan, drafted in 1961, should be repealed, amended or retained as it is.

County Planning Director Von Gundell yesterday pointed out that changes are needed in the 1961 plan because many provisions are outmoded and do not conform with the proposed preliminary countywide plan or the Bolinas Lagoon Plan.

Primary inconsistencies are that the 1961 plan calls for commercial development in Bolinas and Stinson Beach and harbor-commercial at Bolinas Lagoon, whereas the new countywide general plan warns against development along the San Andreas fault and would leave Bolinas lagoon as an ecology reserve.

Commissioner John F. West suggested an evening meeting, somewhere in Bolinas or Stinson Beach.

A half-dozen residents of Bolinas and Stinson Beach said they appreciate a night meeting held in their community because many would be unable to attend a day meeting at the Marin Civic Center.

Gregory Hewlitt of Bolinas, speaking for the Bolinas Future Studies Center, called for immediate restrictions on building on the Bolinas Mesa. He charged that the county is approving septic tank permits for lots 40 by 100, and this will aggravate the drainage and sewage problems.

He and Stephen Matson, a professional planner living in Bolinas, suggested that a community-based planning body be created to work with the county planning staff on future plans for Bolinas and Stinson Beach.

"People like me are willing to put in at least one-half of our time to help develop this plan," said Matson.

Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo said she welcomes Matson's offer, but stressed that help from a community group would be purely advisory, with no official authority.

Commissioner William P. Lynch warned residents not to be selfishly concerned with their own little community to the point where they would reject cooperation with the rest of the Bay Area on areawide problems such as waste disposal.

Six commissioners voted for the evening public hearing at either Bolinas or Stinson Beach during the second week in November. Commissioner George P. Leonard abstained, explaining he sees no urgent need to change the 1961 Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan.

Closing Date For Cotati Election

Voter registration for the Nov. 30 special election for the Cotati School District will close on Oct. 7, according to Eugene D. Williams, Sonoma County registrar of voters.

Voters will elect a replacement for board member Lester Peterson, who resigned to join the Cotati City Council.

Planners To Eye Bigger Lot Sizes

New zoning that would increase the minimum lot size in northwestern Marin from two acres to as much as 20 to 60 acres will be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission on Oct. 11.

The planning commission meeting will start at 9 a.m. on the third floor of the Marin County Civic Center Administration Building.

The rezoning proposal will apply to all properties within the agricultural preserve category, whether they are under agricultural preserve contract or not.

The Oct. 11 hearing will cover only the northwestern one-fifth of the county, including Tomales, Marshall and portions of Chileno Valley. Specifically, the hearing will be on parcels in the Marin County Assessor's books 100, 102, 104 and 106. The area stretches from the Sonoma County line to Tomasini Point and most of Chileno Valley. All owners of land in that area will be notified of the Oct. 11 hearing.

Subsequent hearings will be held for the rest of the county, with similar notification for each property owner who will be affected.

County planner Rowland Darnell said most of the northwestern area is now zoned limited agricultural (A-2), which means a minimum lot of two acres. The county planners hope to replace the limited agricultural zoning with the Agricultural and Conservation Districts (A Districts), with density ranging anywhere from three acres per lot to 60 acres per lot. Much of the northwestern area is proposed for low density of 20 acres or more per lot.

At the same hearing, the county planning commissioners will consider deleting two parcels of land from the agricultural preserve category because they are being or are about to be developed. One is Oceana Marin subdivision north of Dillon's Beach and the other is an area east of Tomales, between the town and Tomales High School.

The rezoning of agricultural preserve areas is a state law requirement. The Williamson Act of 1965, with subsequent amendments, requires all counties to zone all areas in the agricultural preserve category to uses compatible with agriculture.

Sand Quarry Given Conditional Approval

Merle E. Lawson will be allowed to operate a sand quarry on sand dunes south of Dillon Beach for the next five years under a series of conditions imposed yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

On a motion by Margaret B. Azevedo and a second by George P. Leonard, the planning commissioners voted 6 to 1 to allow a quarry on 10 acres of dune area between the town of Dillon Beach and Lawson's Trailer Camp. John F. West, the lone dissenter, said he does not oppose the quarry itself but wanted another two weeks for engineer Irving L. Schwartz to recommend specific conditions on the basis of field inspections.

Among conditions imposed by the commissioners were these:

Excavation only on week days and during daylight hours, the access road must be improved as required by the public works department, no removal of vegetation, and no hauling through the town of Dillon Beach. The public works department can reduce or limit excavation if the quarry causes deterioration of surrounding dunes that contain vegetation.

Another request for a similar sand quarrying permit was withdrawn yesterday. Assistant County Planner Harvey E. Bragdon reported that James Hazen of Marin Landscaping Co. would not seek a use permit for sand removal from the property of Richard Hicks, northeast of Tom's Point on the east side of Tomales Bay.

Marin County Planning Commissioners Also:

REST HOME — Continued until Oct. 11 a request by Harold Nichelini of San Rafael for permission to operate a rest home with 25 beds at 1100 Las Gallinas Avenue, across the street from Bernard Hoffman School, Terra Linda. On a motion by William B. Lynch, the commissioners asked for more information on whether the terrain can be safely used by rest home residents.

LOT SPLIT — Continued until Oct. 11 a lot split request by Herman Weaver on property at the corner of Mountain Lane and Redwood Avenue, Muir Woods Park. Commissioners want to visit the site to check the road access, which Planner E. Ross Parkerson said is narrow and difficult.

SCHOOL — Granted James T. Toliver Jr. a use permit to operate a five-day a week elementary school at 825 Drake Avenue, Village Baptist Church, Marin City. Commissioners imposed several conditions, including the paving and striping of the offstreet parking area within six months.

Workshops On Cancer Are Set At College

Recent developments in cancer research will be discussed in workshops Oct. 16 and 23 at the College of Marin.

The sessions will be co-sponsored by the Sonoma State College extension division and the American Cancer Society. Dr. Kenneth Flynn, professor of health and physical education, will coordinate the programs.

Taking part in panel discussions will be Dr. Robert R. Celli, Dr. Russell R. Klein and Dr. John D. Manwaring, all of San Rafael; Faith Bartlett, Continuity of Care director of Marin General Hospital; Mrs. Robert L. Brown, president of the California division of the society; Dr. Charles E. Keyes of Mill Valley; Mrs. John Horton, public education committee of the Marin County unit; and John Boyle, director, school health and physical education of Sonoma County schools.

One unit of credit is available for the workshops scheduled from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Registration will be made at the first meeting.

Bolinas Candidates Night Is Saturday

A candidates night, featuring brief talks by contenders for seats on the Bolinas Fire Protection and Community Public Utility district boards, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Mesa clubhouse on Elm Road.

The event is sponsored by the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club and will be the group's first meeting since last spring, according to president Alonzo S. Nelson.

IQ Tests Booted In Lagunitas

The Lagunitas School District board last night agreed that IQ tests should not be given to children in primary grades, according to Supt. William E. Johnson.

Johnson said the board's decision was reached after parents and teachers questioned the validity of such aptitude tests and objected to "categorizing" children.

Children in the district are presently given required state achievement tests but not aptitude tests, he said.

In other discussion last night, the board learned that district teachers have set smaller classes and higher teacher salaries as the first two priorities if additional district money becomes available.

(Johnson said that class sizes now range from 25 to 30 pupils.)

The board also discussed requests for more counselling time and more transportation for field trips.

Johnson said that no decisions were made on any of the requests because priorities will not be set until all factions have been heard.

The Lagunitas School District Board also:

TENNIS — Reached an agreement with the San Geronimo Swim and Tennis Club for sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys to use tennis courts during gym classes.

MINIMUM — Approv ed a request by second and third grade teachers to hold minimum day schedules one day a week (probably Friday) so that teachers can have more time for planning a team teaching program.

POSTPONED — Put off to the Oct. 11 meeting a discussion of administrative policies for granting tenure, evaluating and dismissing teachers.

TOWN HALL — Made further plans for a town hall session at 7:30 p.m. Monday in San Geronimo School to hear public ideas for the district goals and objectives report required by the state.

PLAYGROUND — Learned that a group of local residents will help install a sprinkler system at the Lagunitas playground.

Sales Pitch Lands Man In Trouble

A Sonoma County man ended up in jail yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies, as a result of trying to sell stolen goods to the person he took them from.

Kenneth Edwin Carter, 40, of Monte Rio, was arrested by Marin sheriff's deputies and held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $31,250 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on charges of robbery and burglary.

According to an affidavit by Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas, Carter has been identified as the man who burst into the home of Arlene Grossenbacker, 30 Rosebank Avenue, June 14.

Armed with a pistol, the man bound Mrs. Grossenbacker with tape and took $1,300 in cash, as well as jewelry and antique silver.

Several days later Mrs. Grossenbacker got a telephone call from a man who offered to sell her back the antique silver. It was agreed he would leave a piece of the silver in a locker for her to confirm that it was indeed her silver being offered.

According to Thomas, the silver was Mrs. Grossenbacker's and fingerprints on it were Carter's.

Thomas said that Carter has been convicted of burglary in Texas, grand theft in Sonoma County, forgery in Los Angeles County and is currently wanted for auto theft in Los Angeles.

Missing Inmate Is Captured

A San Quentin inmate missing since he failed to return after a 72-hour furlough about 12 days ago was captured yesterday in South San Francisco, suffering from a gunshot wound.

Raymond Labrum, 20, first came to the attention of officers when he was hospitalized in Mountain View for the wound, which he said he received in a fight with three men in East Palo Alto.

San Quentin officials said he escaped from the hospital but was picked up yesterday by police in South San Francisco.

He was due to have been paroled next month.

Auto Is Stolen

Richard W. Baker, 1048 McNear Avenue, Petaluma, told police yesterday that his 1963 Chevrolet was stolen Sunday from his home. It had license OTK 334.

Syphilis Cases Climb In Marin

The state Department of Health released new figures yesterday which showed syphilis cases are increasing at an alarming rate.

In Marin, the story is the "same," according to Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant county health officer.

In the first eight months of this year, 2,017 cases of infectious syphilis were reported statewide, compared with 1,636 cases in the same period last year — a jump of nearly 25 per cent.

Figures released by Dr. Hicks counted 56 cases reported in 1970, with 38 of them infectious — that is, in an early stage. For the first nine months of this year, a total of 54 cases already have been reported, with 32 of them infectious.

Dr. Hicks said she planned a meeting next week with Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of the county department of health services, to discuss ways to meet the problem. She hoped more time could be devoted to locating contacts of infectious cases.

State officials said the syphilis figures have been rising steadily for five years, with the biggest jump in the last three years. In 1969, there were 1,795 cases; in 1970, 2,348 cases. As many as 3,000 cases are expected to be reported this year.

State officials estimate that no more than 60 per cent of syphilis cases are formally reported, meaning the actual statewide total for 1971 could run as high as 5,000 cases.

Gov. Ronald Reagan recently was asked by the State Task Force on Venereal Disease, which he appointed, to authorize deployment of 27 full-time syphilis control workers in local health departments.

Last Friday, the governor signed a bill authorizing public display of contraceptives for sale, providing the displays include VD educational material. The legislation was sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

Kentfield Facing Cut In Teachers Next Year

The Kentfield School District board informally put teachers on notice last night that there may be a reduction in force next year because of a continuing drop in enrollment.

According to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich, student enrollment this year dipped between 35 and 40 children from last year. He said the enrollment figure now stands at 1,320 students.

The drop in number supports a district wide survey taken two years ago which predicted a dwindling number of students, he said.

Most of the loss was felt in the lower grades and appears as if it will continue, he said.

Bacich said he could not give an estimate of the possible number of job slots which will have to be dropped.

The Kentfield School District Board Also:

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Authorized the expenditure of $1,500 for hiring of two consultants for the district outdoor education program and inservice training of teachers on the ecology of Marin.

ELECTIVES — Heard a report that 16 elective courses are being offered seventh and eighth graders at Adaline E. Kent School. The courses include ham radio, journalism, typing and an African Club for the study of Africa.

TRANSITION CLASS — Authorized the district staff to apply for $13,000 in state funds to support a "transition class" for a mentally retarded student. The program will integrate the student into the district's regular program under special guidance.

HANDICAPPED STUDENTS — Authorized the hiring of a part-time teacher to assist handicapped students in the seventh and eighth grades.

MEETING — Set Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School for a special meeting to review the district's policy handbook.

Educators To Speak Oct. 12

Two educators involved in innovative programs in the Tamalpais High School District will participate in a panel discussion of new options in education at 8 p.m. Oct. 12 at San Rafael High School.

Speaking at the session will be Roger Griffith, founder and director of Tamalpais High School's On Location program and Warren Fairbanks, a staff member of Redwood High School's new school within a school.

The discussion is sponsored by the Marin Young Women's Christian Association.

Special Meeting

Directors of the Bolinas Fire Protection District will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to accept the resignation of Fire Commissioner Harvey Crotts and appoint a new commissioner to fill the vacancy, volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva reported. The meeting will be held in the Bolinas Fire Station on Mesa Road.

Tot Lot Has Park Unit Nod

Preliminary plans for a tiny-tot playground area in Boyle Park in Mill Valley — with nearly 50 per cent of the $6,200 cost to be raised by the Mill Valley Jaycees — was approved last night by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission.

William D. Devlin, past president of the Jaycees, presented a timetable that sets construction in April and shows preliminary plans for playground equipment similar to the type used in Old Mill Park, according to Megan Nolan, secretary.

The Jaycees tentatively have approved raising approximately $3,000 for the improvements, if the necessary city commissions approve the plan, Mrs. Nolan said. The plans must be submitted to the planning commission and the architectural advisory committee for approval.

A request by the commission last spring for capital improvements in the park was disapproved by voters in a June bond election. However, the commission set aside $3,200 in its budget for minor park improvements.

Devlin's proposal is scaled-down from earlier suggestions to improve the park, Mrs. Nolan said, and would cost about $6,200.

In addition to the money raised by Jaycees, volunteers would help construct the equipment and donate some materials, according to the Jaycees' secretary.

In other business, the commission will study the possibility of creating a lake near the Mill Valley sewer treatment plant using secondary treated sewer water based on a report from the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department which outlines its method of using treated sewer water for such a purpose, Mrs. Nolan said.

Also, a special committee will be formed to study existing horse trails in the city in an effort to prevent the paths from being closed off as has happened in nearby towns, Mrs. Nolan said.

Nov. 1 Trial Is Set For Angela

Errors in editing a story yesterday caused the wrong dates to be printed in yesterday's story about Angela Davis's court appearances.

Miss Davis's trial has been reset for Nov. 1.

She is to return to court next Tuesday for hearing on a motion asking that certain evidence in the case is to be suppressed.

Following that motion, Judge Richard E. Arnason is to consider her request that her trial be moved from Marin to San Francisco.

AQUEDUCT FINANCING

Irate Taxpayers' Paper To Represent Opponents

By MARY LEYDECKER

A kind of an essay writing contest whose theme was "why we oppose the Marin-Sonoma Aqueduct project" has been won by the Irate Taxpayers of Marin County Inc.

At stake was whose arguments against the proposed aqueduct will be sent to voters along with the Nov. 2 ballot when the issue goes to the voters. The Marin Municipal Water District is asking the electorate for permission to join the Sonoma County Water Agency in building an aqueduct to bring Russian River water to Marin.

The district's share of the project has been estimated at $43 million.

A legal notice earlier this month, stating the measure would be on the ballot and asking that arguments be submitted, brought forth responses from groups whose opinions usually don't coincide.

One set of arguments was submitted by the Irate Taxpayers, another by the Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin and a third by a coalition including the Sierra Club, Marin Medical Society Environmental Health Committee, Marin Alternative and the Ross Valley Reporter.

Under the law, it was up to County Clerk George H. Gnoss to choose which set of arguments to use, according to Peter C. Meyer, head of the elections department. With Meyer's help, Gnoss decided that the Irate Taxpayers' arguments were the strongest, most complete and easiest to understand.

The Taxpayers' started off by saying that "your property will be taxed up to 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation" and the water rates increased for the project estimated to cost $43 million plus interest over 50 years.

"These facilities will be owned mostly by Sonoma County Water Agency, not Marin," the arguments continued.

Furthermore, the project is based on a "future need entirely unjustified by objective statistical projections of property development, population trends and per capita consumption of water," according to the Taxpayers.

They also charge that the water district has not made sufficient effort to promote conservation of present water supplies, or to find feasible methods of recycling water or to investigate using water runoff from flood control projects.

"The district is proceeding hastily without waiting for a county master plan to be completed," the Taxpayers say. This plan will show how much and where future development will take place and whether increased water supplies will be needed, they claim.

Finally, the Taxpayers say that the project will "create a lake on the reservation of the Dos Rios Indians, leaving them homeless. . ."

The Taxpayers call the project "vague and ambiguous" and say that "costs could greatly exceed the estimates."

The two branches of the League of Women Voters were also concerned about lack of coordination with land use planning agencies and suggested that alternate proposals such as reclamation and desalination had not been fully explored.

The women voters also said that effects upon the Russian and Eel rivers as well as the Marin coastline have not been considered.

The other groups in their joint argument said that population growth in Marin has slowed dramatically and that "Marin Municipal Water District Water consumption was down 6.4 per cent last year."

They charged that Russian River water would be "harder," than Marin's present water supply, and contains human and industrial wastes, pesticides and mercury."

This set of arguments said Marin's participation in the project would total $110 million.

In a legal summing up of the effect of the aqueduct proposal, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney agreed with the opponents that the "sums (given by the water district) are only estimates, not limitations."

Arguments prepared for the voters by the water district say merely that the "aqueduct is needed because the present water consumption exceeds the safe yield of the Marin County watershed area. . . Shortages can occur during periods of subnormal rainfall."

Water district officials claim that there are no adequate reservoir sites in the county and that "Several million dollars can be saved by going into the joint project now."

Wild Horse Residential Area Backed

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended prezoning 113 acres east of Wild Horse Valley for planned community and limited agricultural use with one-acre lots.

The area is primarily rolling, tree covered hillsides at the west end of Indian Valley and the one-acre zoning established by Marin County reflects the rural character and low level of development, the staff reported.

Commissioners recommended that 43.77 acres, where estates are planned, be prezoned planned community and the remaining one acre residential.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

MENDOCINO GARDENS — Approved precise development plans by Norman T. Gilroy for 32 single-family homes on 8.1 acres on both sides of Mendocino Lane, west of Eucalyptus Avenue.

REZONING — Recommended rezoning of four parcels on the north side of Center Road between Crescent Lane and Lu Sutton School from limited agricultural to planned residential as requested by North Marin investors.

REFINISHING — Granted John Revelle a permit to operate a furniture refinishing business at 4 Front Street.

TACO BELL — Denied an application by Taco Bell to operate a restaurant on the west side of Highway 101, between Olive and Vallejo avenues.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House for a special meeting on a proposed moratoriumon townhouse and apartment construction until the city's master plan is revised.

Beach Nudes, Nudes-Watchers Feel The Pinch Of The Law

Beginning Oct. 8, nude sunbathing will be prohibited at Little Beach in Muir Beach because it will come under county jurisdiction, with county ordinances and regulations in effect.

In recent years the privately-owned beach, also known as Bello Beach, has been a haven for nudes and those who come to watch the nudes, according to Bruce E. Harlow, chairman of the Muir Beach Community Services District board.

In the past few months, he said, hordes of people have swarmed to the small beach, which has no trash or restroom facilities.

"At times there have been as many as 400 persons on the little beach and only about 65 on the much larger state beach nearby," Harlow said.

Harlow said the combination of crowds and lack of sanitary facilities has created serious health problems in the area.

"The visitors have used surrounding private property as a bathroom," he said.

As a result, the community services district board earlier this month decided to lease the small beach from its owners, a group of residents, for one year for $1. Eventually, the services district hopes, the state will take over operation of the area as part of the state park, Harlow said.

Since the services district is an arm of county government, the beach will automatically come under county regulation next week. One county ordinance prohibits nudity and will be enforced on the beach. Violators can be prosecuted and fined up to $500 and/or imprisoned up to six months if convicted.

To prepare people for the change, Harlow said signs have been erected around the beach and leaflets are being passed out to visitors.

He emphasized that the closure had nothing to do with moral objections to nudity.

The services district board will urge county officials to set aside a beach area somewhere in the county which could be used for nude sunbathing, Harlow added.

Bolinas Woman In Serious Condition

Alice Silva of Bolinas, wife of Bolinas volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva, was reported in serious condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Silva, who has undergone three operations in the last month to repair arteries in her legs and abdomen, may have to undergo additional surgery later this week, her husband said.

Ballet Company Slates Concert

The San Francisco Ballet will present a "Caravan Concert," including full-dress ballets from the group's current repertoire, at 8 p.m. Saturday in the College of Marin's Fine Arts Theater in Kentfield.

The company, the oldest resident classical ballet company in the United States, will bring to the program a full corps of dancers, technicians and costumes.

Tickets for the single performance may be obtained in Room 137 at the college and will be available at the theater box office from 7 p.m. Saturday.

Auto Is Looted

Henry J. Mozzucatelli, 144 Horn Avenue, Petaluma, told police that a rifle and scope valued at $250 were stolen from his car yesterday while parked at Wilson and East D streets.

NEW FROM SULLIVAN!
A PRICELESS OPPORTUNITY FOR CHILDREN AGES 3-6
The Sullivan Early Achievement Program Costs Less Than a Babysitter!
The Results of the Sullivan Early Achievement Program
READING:
At the end of the program children not only know colors and direction, but they'll know straight lines, curved lines, circles and squares, the alphabet, the five short vowel sounds and the common sounds of the consonants. Your child will have mastered the understanding and spelling of 126 two and three letter words.
MATHEMATICS:
At the end of the Math program children will have learned to recognize numbers zero to nine and write the numeral corresponding to the number, and to count any number of objects from one to nine. They will also know how to add and subtract numbers whose sum is not greater than nine. They will have a solid understanding of the basic concepts needed to work with numbers.

The Sullivan Early Achievement Program consists of 10 week sessions. Each child attends three 80 minute classes a week. Each group is limited to ten students. This small size enables teachers to give the children lots of individual attention. The cost of a 10 week session is $60.00.
The Sullivan Early Achievement Program will start October 4th. Please dial R-E-A-D-I-N-G for further information.
Please sign up early, enrollments are limited.
If for any reason you are not satisfied with the progress of your child your money will be refunded.

HOW TO BE SURE YOUR HOUSE SITS INSTEAD OF SELLS

You can put up a sign and wait for a prospect. Or advertise, and wait for the phone to ring. Both are guaranteed to get you more "lookers" than buyers.

Save time. See us first. We're Realtors; experts who know how to price your home, promote your home, and bring you real prospects. Professionals who are pledged to a strict code of ethics, and work in your best interests. So you can relax, knowing you're being taken care of. Professionally.

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

Many, many things — whether you are a buyer or seller. For instance, if you list with multiple listing, you will immediately have 800 professionals working for you.

2 Big Questions . . . For New Car Buyers

1. Do you want the best possible deal on your new car? . . . 2. Do you want convenient, reliable, local service?

Why choke yourself with added costs when you buy across the bay? In MARIN, you're in the driver's seat. Marin dealers' lower overhead shows right in the price. Lower sales tax too! And for servicing your car there's nothing like local convenience! Your best deal is right here with Marin dealers . . .

Yes, of course . . . You do!!

PROCEEDING FOR CHANGE OF NAME
ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
No. 61359

Superior Court, State of California County of Marin
Application of EDWARD SCHWARZ and ANNA MAE SCHWARZ for Change of Name.
WHEREAS EDWARD SCHWARZ and ANNA MAE SCHWARZ, petitioners, have filed a petition with the clerk of this court for an order changing petitioners' names from EDWARD SCHWARZ to THOMAS BARRETT and from ANNA MAE SCHWARZ to ANNA MAE BARRETT, respectively.
IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above-entitled matter appear before this court at 9:00 A.M., on Nov. 4, 1971, in the courtroom of Department No. 4, at the courthouse at Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice, San Rafael, California, County of Marin, and show cause, if any, why the petition for change of name should not be granted.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order to show cause be published in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed in the County of Marin, California, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the date set for the hearing on the petition.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Diseases Kill More In A Day Than Pollution Does In A Year

Never before in our history have we been fighting for so many projects. At one time, controversies were limited to religion, politics and simple matters, such as the need for a smallpox vaccine. Nowadays we are confronted with all types of pollution, insecticides, herbicides, chemical fertilizers, disposal of solid wastes, noise, preservation of our natural resources, defective autos, taxes, war, consumer goods, narcotics, urban decay, birth control, promiscuity, overpopulation, etc.

PERHAPS WE should blame the mess of our affluent society. Our problems are mounting faster than are man's solutions for them. Everyone wants to get into the act, but there are so many things going on that most of us are getting frustrated. All too often the problems are overexaggereated. To add to the confusion, the government takes a paternalistic attitude and insists that we cannot think for ourselves and need to be protected.

These projects should be considered in their true perspective, In one day, heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke, cancer, accidents and infections disable and kill more people than all pollutants, food additives and guns, etc. kill in a year. Our real problems need our attention.

I, FOR ONE, am getting tired of this constant uphill struggle to correct things without losing votes or stepping on the toes of vested interest groups. Before the term ecology became a household word, many people found solace in returning to nature. They were the hippies of ther day. Two centuries ago, Rousseau idealized the life of primitive man in his rural setting. Leo Tolstoy dedicated much of his life to building up the peasant as having an ideal existence. Life close to the soil was the good life.

THERE IS PLENTY of open space in America. It is unfortunate that more people do not migrate to the country, especially from their ghetto existence. James Meredith may have the right idea. He would rather live in a shack in the open country or beautiful South than swelter in a broken down tenement.

CORTISONE IN ASTHMA

C.E.R. writes: Is cortisone prescribed in bronchial asthma?

REPLY

Yes, preferably to control acute attacks. Physicians hesitate to recommend steroids in chronic asthma because dangerous side reactions may occur with continued usage. Our leaflet on bronchial asthma can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

EDEMA OF LEGS

Mrs. T.H. writes: Is there any way to eliminate excess water from the tissues of the legs and feet except by medicine?

REPLY

A low salt diet may be of some help, but best results are obtained with drugs. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on edema of the legs and feet.

SMOKING AND VEINS

Mrs. R.G. writes: Does smoking have any ill effects on varicose veins?

REPLY

No, not even in those who inhale deeply.

Bike Rider Is Victor In Race

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tom Standing, carrying the hopes of the city's bicycle lovers, pedaled across town in 19 minutes, nine seconds Monday, easily beating a man on a streetcar and another man in a private auto.

Standing, riding a 1969 blue two-wheeler, was declared the winner of the first annual commuter race, held to publicize bicycle week.

David Mogilefsky, riding a city-run streetcar, was timed in 31 minutes 20 seconds. Bob Safford, driving his own car through city traffic, was third, 38 seconds behind Mogilefsky.

Japan Puts Third Probe Into Orbit

UCHINOURA, Japan (UPI)— Japan launched its third satellite into earth orbit today.

Space scientists from Tokyo University fired a 138.6-pound package of scientific instruments into space aboard a Japanese-built MU-4S rocket and it went into orbit about one hour later.

Opera News Editor Sets Ross Talk

Speight Jenkins Jr., of New York, editor of "Opera News" magazine, will present the second in this season's series of opera previews sponsored by Marin Opera Action Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross. He will discuss Wagner's "Die Meistersinger."

Jenkins, 39, is a graduate of the University of Texas and holds a law degree from Columbia University and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He has been with "Opera News" since 1967. His writings on opera have appeared in the opera programs of the San Francisco and Metropolitan opera companies and on record jackets of RCA Victor opera recordings. He has also written the Libretto of "Das Rheingold."

Mrs. Julio Davila is Marin Action chairman. Ticket information may be obtained from Mrs. W. R. Hodgson of San Rafael. Refreshments are served, and records, libretti and tickets are available at the preview.

Moroccan scenes had a special attraction for Sir Winston Churchill as a painter.

Aqueduct Financing Bill Becomes Law

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation empowering Marin Municipal Water District to join the Sonoma County Water Agency in building a new aqueduct, subject to voter approval, has been signed into law by the governor.

The district has gone ahead with plans for submitting the issue to the voters on Nov. 2, expecting the measure to become law in time. As an urgency measure, it became effective immediately upon signature by the governor.

The bill, AB 2423, was introduced by Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, after Marin legislators refused to handle the controversial proposal.

Water district financial consultants have recommended the district finance its share of the aqueduct with water rates and property taxes instead of from more costly revenue bonds. The district's share of the project is $43 million.

Films Scheduled For Senior Citizens

The Novato Branch Library will open a series of films for senior citizens starting next Tuesday at the library meeting room, according to Martha Van Etten, branch librarian.

Films will be shown every Tuesday at the same time, Mrs. Van Etten said.

Behr's VD Bill Signed By Reagan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation allowing the display of contraceptives in pharmacies has been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure, SB 650 by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, provided that such displays must be accompanied by educational material on venereal disease prevention.

Behr said that venereal disease "is no longer considered a mysterious disease infecting only the depraved, but a common communicable illness which can be eradicated through knowledge and use of protective measures, such as prophylactics."

BURNING BAN IN SONOMA STARTS FRIDAY

Outdoor burning will become illegal in Southern Sonoma on Friday.

Petlauma, Rohnert Park, Cotati and Santa Rosa residents will no longer be permitted to burn household rubbish, garden trimmings in the open or in backyard incinerators under regulations of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Backyard barbecues, recreational bonfires and hearth fires within the home will not be affected by the ban. District controls on emissions from factories, refineries, commercial incinerators hospitals and schools will also go into effect Friday.

Proposal On Bedroom Tax Revived

A year-old proposal for a "bedroom" tax was revived last night by the Tiburon City Council. (Another Tiburon City Council story, page 1.)

The revival didn't get very far, however, as three members of the council who were present continued discussion of the proposal until Oct. 12 so that two absent councilmen could participate.

The proposal, which the city calls a property development tax ordinance, calls for levying a $125 fee for single-family residences constructed in the city, $100 per unit for multiple residential unit developments and 1.5 cents per square-foot for commercial construction.

Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood — who with Albert H. Sennett and Mayor Denis T. Rice agreed to continued discussion of the proposal —said the philosophy behind it was that new residents coming into the community bring with them a need for services which is not compensated for by their initial property tax payments.

But she said she thought the proposed fees might be too high.

Rice disagreed, saying the proposed Tiburon figures were lower than a similar tax in Newport Beach, Orange County.

(Similar taxes have been adopted by Novato and San Rafael. San Rafael's is a $30 fee for each bedroom in new residential units and Novato's is a $75 tax on the first bedroom and $15 for each additional bedroom.)

Rice said he didn't think the proposed Tiburon fees were too high in light of what he said was a $40,000 construction cost for the average home in Tiburon.

Miss Ellinwood also expressed concern that the low cost Hilarita housing project would have to pay the tax, but Rice directed City Atty. Robert I. Conn to find a way to exclude the project.

The proposed ordinance was first submitted to the council in August 1970, but was tabled last October to await the results of a law suit by the Associated Home Builders of the Greater East Bay against the city of Newark which adopted a similar tax.

Tiburon City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported to the council last night that the courts had ruled the tax was fully authorized by state law, was not preempted by a statute limiting fees for building permits and did not discriminate unreasonably in taxing residential construction at a higher rate than commercial construction.

Horse Lovers Pan Tiburon Proposal

A move to legalize keeping horses in Tiburon ran into opposition last night from horse lovers who found the proposal "repressive."

The unlikely opposition arose as a result of standards and regulations the ordinance would set for keeping horses, which has been illegal — a fact which surprised Tiburon horse owners last night — since adoption of the city's zoning ordinance in 1967.

The proposed ordinance would set minimum corral sizes and distances from neighboring residences and streets and establish a license fee.

Mayor Denis T. Rice said the idea for a horse ordinance was first discussed in May 1969, but the council last night referred the proposal to the city's planning commission for further study after horse owners said they had not been consulted in its preparation.

The battle against council action on the ordinance was led by 18-year-old Janet Figari of 40 Delmar Drive, who said that horseback riders in Tiburon are a minority and that most of them are girls and juveniles.

"I guess we're really the absolute bottom of the totem pole," she said, as she urged the council not to "sit on us too hard."

In a related action, the council asked the city's parks and recreation commission to determine that, if any, rules and regulations are needed for bicycle and horse paths through Tiburon.

Commissioner F. G. Knight said he would "agendize" the council's request for the commission's next meeting.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ZONING — Rezoned five lots in the Golden View Heights subdivision from two-family residential to two-family residential cluster zoning for a proposed 10-unit development in two clusters, one of four units and the other of six.

BIKE PATH — Heard parks and recreation commissioner Donald S. Tayer report that dedication ceremonies for the Richardson Bay bike path would be at 11 a.m. Oct. 9 near Blackie's Pasture, and directed city staff to take "reasonable" action on safety precautions suggested by Councilman Anne L. Ellingwood to remove what she called a "terrible potential for tragedy" on the bike path.

PARKING — Extended passenger loading zone provisions and limited parking regulations to Sundays and holidays and established passenger loading zones on Tiburon Boulevard for ferry commuters and on Juanita Lane for taxis.

UTILITIES — Directed City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to continue an investigation of costs and financing plans for undergrounding utilities in residential areas and to proceed with plans for a postcard survey of residents of the Little Reed area to determine whether they would pay for undergrounding in their area.

CONSULTANT — Agreed to hire the San Francisco firm of Williams and Mocine for $16,090 to prepare an open space element for the city's general plan.

PEACE — Endorsed a Tiburon-Belvedere "Join Hands for Peace" walk Oct. 13 on the Richardson Bay path as a public expression against the war in Southeast Asia.

RUBBISH — Rejected a proposal for a weed and rubbish abatement ordinance, but directed Balmer to see if existing ordinances could be used for removal of rubbish, including abandoned vehicles.

PARKING — Renewed a temporary use permit for a parking lot operated by Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Paradise Drive and Main Street.

ENGINEER — Expressed appreciation to Ray W. Foreaker Jr., who served as city engineer on a consulting basis and who has resigned to become county public works director.

MEETING — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12.

Solutions Are Sought To Erase Urban Decay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A noisy and abrasive city breeds noisy and abrasive people," Seattle's Mayor Wes Uhlman told a federal hearing yesterday.

Uhlman made his observation while noting that such people are "more likely to turn on each other."

The mayor was speaking at a three-day hearing sponsored by the Environmental Protection Agency's office of noise and abatement control.

Laboratory rats can be driven mad by noise, he said. "They lose their health and eventually turn on each other."

"For us, the quiet message should be clear."

Asking how it could be told that cities are dying, the mayor said: "Just listen, you can hear it...urban death has a large rattle to it."

An aide of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., testified that the senator will introduce legislation next week transferring to the environmental agency all federal authority to control noise and fuel emissions from jet aircraft. This authority now is spread among "industry-oriented" federal agencies, he said.

The senator's legislation also will require installation of soundproofing in the engines of all older jet airliners. The cost, estimated by Cranston at $1 billion, would be financed through higher air fares.

He pointed to a prediction by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration that street noise is becoming so intense that "by 1985 people won't be able to hear each other talk."

Another speaker was Dianne Feinstein, president of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Discussing legislation she is proposing, she said this city needs "comprehensive noise standards for building codes."

"Far too many of the more recently built dwellings in the city suffer from inadequate sound proofing and noisy heating, air conditioning and plumbing."

"We have been far too slow in recognizing the symptoms of urban decay and diagnosing them: finding cures and effecting them," Mrs. Feinstein said.

Sausalito Art Center Offers Varied Classes

A variety of unusual classes, from classical Javanese dance to cartoon animation, will be offered this fall at the Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street.

Evening courses now open include: batik making, jewelry, animation, drawing, composition and editing of animated films, guitar, multi-media art exploration — which combines graphics, theater, film, slides, music dance and sculpture — picture framing and "the thirsty ear and separate eye," a class featuring monoprint, collage and sculpture.

Afternoon classes include Javanese dance and Scottish Highlands dance.

Further information may be obtained by calling the art center.

Death Is 25th

The Independent-Journal erred Saturday in reporting the death of Serfio Serda as the 27th traffic fatality in Marin this year. Serda's death was the 25th fatality, up two from this date in 1970.

Prep Gridders Get Ready For League Inaugurals

By RON LENT

Six of the seven Marin County Athletic League football teams begin league play this weekend with only San Rafael High School deviating.

The Friday slate: San Rafael visits Homestead of Sunnyvale while Tamalpais High plays Terra Linda at San Rafael High, both 8 p.m. affairs.

On Saturday, Drake travels to Redwood at Larkspur, 1 p.m. and Novato faces San Marin of Novato's field, 1:30 p.m. In other prep games, Marin Catholic invades Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa, 8:15 p.m.

Defending champion Terra Linda High School stresses execution and strength, not razzle-dazzle. The junior-laden Trojans bring a 2-0 mark against Tamalpais, 0-2. Coach Don Lucas's 1971 edition displays a balanced attack, mixing the running of backs Steve Sabel, Sean Casey and Doug Long with the passing of quarterback Kevin Donohoe.

The strong-armed Napa transfer throws primarily to John Buckley and Steve Miles, two long distance artists.

Mike Davlin's young Indians are eager to upset MCAL title aspirants, starting with the reigning king. Tamalpais shows zip in the backfield with speed merchants Alvin Price and Cliff Hall, plus a three-man quarterback tandem.

Mark Dawson, Pat Locey and Brad Bann shared field general responsibilities against Skyline of Oakland last week and are likely to do so again.

In addition, two valuable cogs may return to the lineup for the MCAL, 1971 inaugural. The pair are all-league middle guard Herb Wade, out a week with a kidney infection, and halfback Tom Collins, a shoulder separation victim.

Redwood High School mentor Phil Roark stressed "our great respect for Drake. Drake's offense has been sleeping, and we're just afraid it will wake up against us."

While the Drake attack "slumbers," someone might keep an eye on the four-deep Redwood running show starring the Edralin brothers, Bill and Daryl, Jay Lehman and Mark Asiano, an underrated performer, Roark claimed.

"Asiano doesn't look fast," Roark agreed, "but he breaks a lot of tackles and has a deceiving style. He gets the ball down there for us."

When Roark contemplates ways of getting his team "up" against the struggling Pirates, Novato Hornet grid chief Al Scott won't have such worries. His Novatans face arch-rival San Marin on the Hornet's field with the Mustangs the "home" team.

"It would just make their season if they beat us, because, face it, they are not going to win many games. So they're going to put it all on the line against us."

To circumvent a Mustang shocker, Scott is working feverishly on triggering his explosive offense. All-league quarterback Marty Moroski will bark cadence, throw a bushel of passes, and sometimes handoff to elusive halfback Leo Magers.

Mustang leader Bob Martin counters with sophomore quarterback Hoza Wright, a bomb-tossing southpaw with great potential. The strong field general generally throws to standout flankerback Marty Larson, end Bob Briot or fullback Fred Doar.

The defense has been suspect; but, reports indicated, that it is fast gaining respectability and has tightened significantly against the long pass, a weapon Moroski intently uses.

The pride and championship stakes involved force both coaches to approach the tussle grimly.

Giants' Showdown In San Diego

Perry To Hurl Tonight

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants packed the champagne when the went on the road last week. They hope to finally open it here.

The Giants, whose last pennant came when they captured the National League title in 1962, begin a crucial three-game series against the San Diego Padres tonight.

Leading the National League West since April 12, the Giants hold a one-game edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers with three contests remaining for each club.

The Dodgers are at home against the Houston Astros for their final series.

"We've got to try to win them all," Giant outfielder Bobby Bonds said. "We can't depend on the Dodgers to lose. We've got to do our own thing."

San Francisco has won 11 of 15 meetings with San Diego this season and manager Charlie Fox has his two aces — Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry — set to start.

Perry, 15-12, will go in the series opener against the Padres' Ed Acosta, 3-2.

"We're in good shape with Perry and Marichal ready to pitch," Fox said.

In the second game Wednesday night, Fox will start John Cumberland, 9-6, against Clay Kirby, 14-13. Marichal, 17-11, is listed as the Giant pitcher Thursday night while the Padres go with Dave Roberts, 14-16.

The Giants have been threatening to break open the divisional race all season but the Dodgers have kept coming back.

San Francisco took a three-game lead into a three-game series at Cincinnati last weekend but lost two of three while Los Angeles swept three straight at Atlanta.

But the Giants overcame a 2-0 Cincinnati lead to post a 12-5 win Sunday as Fox was able to get Willie McCovey, Dick Dietz and Willie Mays into the starting lineup.

In that vportant come-from-behind win, the Giants ripped 17 hits off six Cincinnati pitchers.

"We swung the bat Sunday," Fox remarked. "It was the first time in several weeks that we were able to field our regular lineup."

After the series, Cincinnati manager Sparky Anderson said:

"San Francisco has a big edge. There's no doubt about it. The Dodgers have to be thinking sweep and even then they need help from the Padres."

Laver Takes Opener

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rod Laver, still probably the world's greatest tennis player, is back in action in the Pacific Coast International Championships where he had to go three sets to win his opening match.

Nearly 2,000 fans sat in on the noon match Monday as he defeated Frew McMillen of South Africa, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Laver said he was satisfied with his game with the exception of his serve, but also had good words for his opponent.

Laver added that he was nervous, probably due to the layoff.

"The rest helped me physically," the red haired star said, "but it dulled my mental alertness."

Most of the matches in the PCI are being played at Berkeley, where Andrew Pattison of New Zealand blasted local favorite Jim McManus in shocking 6-0, 6-0 fashion while California gained some revenge when Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette knocked out Aussie Fred Stolle 6-2, 6-4.

The players are competing for $50,000 in prizes.

Mens Singles First Round: Rod Laver d. Fred McMillen 6-2, 5-7,6-3; Haroon Rahim d. Patrico Cornejo 6-2, 6-2; Roy Emerson d. Ray Keldie 6-4, 6-2; Jim Osborne d. Terry Ryan 7-6, 6-2; Ray Moore d. John Alexander 6-4, 6-3; Jeff Borowiak d. Fred Stolle 6-2, 6-4; Andrew Pattison d. Jim McManus 6-0, 6-0; Charles Pasarell d. Steve Krulevitz 6-4, 6-4; Cliff Drysdale d. Philip Dent 6-1, 6-2; Ross Case d. Ony Parun 3-6, 7-6, 6-3; Ken Rosewall d. Tom Edlefsen, 6-1, 6-2.

Mens Singles Qualifying Fourth Round: Larry Dodge d. Peter Campbell 6-2, 1-6, 6-4; Rick Fisher d. Barry Axtell 6-2, 6-3; Steve Cornell d. Mark Shires 4-6, 6-2, 6-3; Steve Krulevitz d. SAYS 49ER:

Watch Out For Atlanta

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Displaying the confidence the 1971 San Francisco 49ers seem to abound with, offensive tackle Cas Banaszek told a gathering of 49er boosters the Atlanta Falcons, not the Los Angeles Rams, are the real threats to S.F. in their division.

"We'll be ready for them in December," the 249-pound lineman told the Marin County chapter, 49er Goal Rushers, meeting yesterday at the Holiday Inn, San Rafael.

"Atlanta has one of the finest defenses in the NFL and they just might win 10 games this year," he said. Then he added: "But they won't win 13. We will."

Atlanta defeated the Niners in the season opener, Sept. 19, by 20-17, and then tied the Rams Sunday, 20-20, to take the lead in the NFL's Western Division. The 49ers, meanwhile, whipped the New Orleans Saints 38-20 Sunday to remain on the heels of Atlanta. The Falcons will be taking on the 49ers Dec. 12 at Candlestick Park. By then, that just might be a biggie.

Banaszek, one of the "Protectors" who blocked manfully for quarterback John Brodie last year to help set a NFL record by allowing him to get sacked only eight times, told the luncheon goers the 49ers are going to be more of an intimidating team this year, a more physical team, as demonstrated by some of the rough play in Sunday's New Orleans game.

"In the past, teams have tried to intimidate us with rough play. It's not going to work any more," he said.

In regard to the Saints' rookie quarterback, Archie Manning, he predicted Archie was going to change his style.

"A quarterback can be a rollout or running quarterback in college ball but it just can't be done in pro ball where the defensive linemen are so big," he said. "Can you imagine getting hit quite a few times by a Charlie Kreuger? I think he'll eventually change into a drop-back quarterback."

Banaszek, fourth year pro out of Northwester, said the 49er coaching staff was very pleased with the newly developed running attack which netted 194 yards against the Saints.

He had praise for new 49er offensive line coach Dick Stanfel who has made line changes to aid the team's rushing attack. (Stanfel, by the way, coached four years for the Philadelphia Eagles, the 49ers foes next Sunday.)

"He really knows what he's talking about out there, because he was a great lineman himself. And if he had his way, we'd run every play. As it is, you'll be seeing us run more this year."

And the way new addition Vic Washington is running, it's going to be an exciting running game. He's the first real breakaway running threat the 49ers have had in years.

In answering questions from the Goal Rushers, Banaszek said all teams will be double and triple covering the talented Gene Washington. But because of this there'll be more passing to the tight ends. "But don't worry, Gene will be getting his catches."

When asked to name the toughest defensive ends he had to face, Banaszek singled out Rick Jackson of the Denver Broncos ("the most aggressive, meanest, dirtiest end in football") and Minnesota's Carl Eller ("strongest").

Asked to name the 49ers' weak points this year it took some thinking by Banaszek. Apparently it would have been much easier to name the strong points.

"I would have to say depth in the defensive secondary."

Another question came from the audience concerning the cut of defensive tackle Alex Karras by the Detroit Lions.

"A lot of us were surprised," he said. "But it made Woody Peoples (49er guard who played opposite Karras) the happiest man in the world."

Hopeful Giants Announce World Series Ticket Sale

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Giants will conduct the sale of world series tickets through the mail only with the following requirements for all orders strictly enforced.

All orders must be sent to:
Giants World Series
P.O. Box 1971
San Francisco, Calif. 94101

No postmarks prior to Tuesday Sept. 28, will be honored. Payment must be by either money order or cashier's check. Name and return address must be in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

Reserve seat tickets only will be sold. There will be a limit of two sets per order.

Each reserve set is $31.50 for a set which is one ticket to each of the three World Series games at Candlestick Park, Oct. 12, 13 and 14. One dollar must be added to the cost for handling and mailing. If ordering one ticket, the amount enclosed would be $32.50. If ordering two tickets, the amount should be $64.00.

All orders which must be returned because of the limited number of tickets available will be stamped refused and returned unopened.

All orders which do not meet the requirements will be automatically returned.

No Inside Info Told — Biletnikoff

SANTA ROSA (UPI)——Oakland Raider wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff is scoffing at a San Diego paper's story that Dave Grayson tipped him off on how to beat Charger cornerback Bob Howard during the Raiders 34-0 triumph.

"It makes me laugh," said Biletnikoff Monday. "If David had told me something, I sure wouldn't have mouthed off about it. That writer makes me out to be pretty ignorant."

Grayson was also emphatic in his denial.

The two men, long-time friends from the Raider days, got together with some other Raiders socially before the game.

Biletnikoff, who caught five for 93 yards and two touchdowns, said it was Eldridge Dickey who gave him the best advice after a disappointing game in the opener.

"Eldridge told me I seemed to be catching the ball and just stepping out of bounds or waiting for a defensive back to hit me. He said I should try to run after catching the ball to give the defensive back more to think about. I took his advice and I think it worked out well for me."

The Raiders are back home working out for next Monday night's tough test at Cleveland.

Bruce Taylor Says He Will Be Ready

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)— Cornerback Bruce Taylor says he'll be ready to play Sunday when the San Francisco 49ers call on Philadelphia and if he does it will mean a full team will be ready for the Eagles.

Taylor hurt his leg in the opener against Atlanta and it began acting up in last Sunday's win at New Orleans. Taylor grew up in New Jersey and will have his family in the stands Sunday. He wants to play.

Coach Dick Nolan, in reviewing the 38-20 win over the Saints, was especially pleased with the 49er running attack's 194 yards. As a general rule, if a pro football team is operating effectively it gets over 150 yards on the ground.

Newcomer Vic Washington galloped for 82 yards while the man he replaced, Doug Cunningham, scored on a 7-yarder.

Nolan praised both backs and said fullback Ken Willard ran well, too.

Nolan said the offensive line fired out well, but offensive coach Dick Stanfel praised the runners for "helping to set up blocks better than they used to."

Cardinals Hold Off N.Y. Jets

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Pete Beathard started at quarterback for the St. Louis Cardinals in Monday night's 17-10 win because Coach Bob Hollway thought "it was just the thing to do at the time."

Beathard has been battling with Jim Hart for the Cardinals' starting quarterback job, and Hart, starting the season opener a week ago, was booed unmercifully at Busch Stadium.

"Jim's ankle bothered him all week but he could have played," Hollway said. "I made the decision on Beathard just before the game."

Beathard, now in his second year with the Cardinals and making his first regular-season start, hit 11 of 23 passes for 222 yards as the Cardinals scored 17 points in the first half, and the St. Louis defense played to the point of exhaustion in the second half in holding the New York Jets.

Beathard, upholding his boss' claim that he was picked to start just a few minutes before game time, said, "This way of doing it definitely makes you very anxious. I threw poorly in the pregame warmup, so apparently he didn't make his decision on that basis."

Cid Edwards scored both of the Cardinal touchdowns on one-yard plunges, "the kind," he says, "you ought to make all the time."

But the Jets' inability to accomplish the same feat was the beginning of the end for their offense in the game and fired up the Cardinal defense. Trailing 17-7 in the third quarter, the Jets moved the ball to the St. Louis 1-yard line and sent John Riggins over center for the touchdown attempt. But the New York line, rather than the St. Louis line, gave way on the scrimmage, and, as Riggins hurtled over the linemen, Larry Wilson and Jamie Rivers clobbered him in the air.

George Nock scored the only New York touchdown in the second quarter on a 3-yard run, and Bobby Howfield added a 25-yard field goal for their only other score. Jim Bakken kicked a 19-yard field goal for St. Louis.

Net Group Withholds Prize Money

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The management committee of the Pacific Southwest Open tennis tournament met Monday and decided to withhold $6,500 in prize money to women's finalists Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals.

Mrs. King and Miss Casals walked off the court Sunday after Acting Referee John Coman refused to replace a woman linesman.

In a prepared statement, the management committee said:

"In view of the double default of Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals...the committee of management has decided to withhold the prize money for the top two places and has entered an official protest with the disciplinary committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association."

Jack Kramer, the Pacific Southwest tournament director, announced the decision.

"You can't walk off just because you can't have your own way," he said. "We're sorry to have to do what we did but maybe our decision will mean some firmer legislation just as the other sports have."

Tomales Gridders Lose To El Molino

Tomales High School dropped a 21-6 decision to visiting El Molino High School of Forestville Saturday.

Tomales' lone touchdown came on a 15-yard, end-around run by wide receiver, Spirito Ballatore. The Braves, 0-1-1, host the Clear Lake High School Cardinals Saturday at 2 p.m.

A's Trying For 100th Win Of Year

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland A's tried for their 100th victory of the season today when they encountered the Kansas City Royals.

Despite the A's enviable record Oakland Manager Dick Williams was not happy with his relief staff and he wanted them to shape up in time for the forthcoming playoff with Baltimore.

Williams said he read off his firemen for "lack of concentration" after three of them yielded six runs in two innings to Milwaukee on Saturday.

He tapped Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 20-11, to pitch against the Royals. However, the manager said Hunter would only go seven innings or 115 pitches before heading for the showers. Then the relief staff will perform the windup.

Hunter will pitch the second game of the American League championship series against the A's on Sunday.

Kansas City named ace Mike Hedlund, 15-7, to take to the mound.

Pats Obtain Gardin

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI)— The New England Patriots of the National Football League acquired the services Monday of wide receiver Ron Gardin from the Baltimore Colts in exchange for an undisclosed draft choice.

FISH AND GAME

Long Time To Think About Their Errors

By AL GIDDINGS

A recent release from the Department of Fish and Game mentions a deer case. It reads: "Two Half Moon Bay men with a penchant for hunting deer out of season will have a long time to reflect on the error of their ways, thanks to a judge who has ordered a lifetime revocation of their hunting and fishing licenses.

"Gerald J. Marsh and Michael Brotherton were cited in late July by Department of Fish and Game Warden Al Frush for possessing deer meat out of season after he found the carcasses of four deer at Marsh's residence and the body of a fifth deer at Brotherton's home. On Aug. 24, March and Brotherton appeared before Judge Marcel Biscay of the San Mateo Municipal Court and pleaded guilty. After reviewing the evidence in the case, Judge Biscay fined them each $250 and sent them to jail for 10 days. He further decreed that they never again be issued licenses to hunt or fish."

RECENTLY IN Marin County, a pickup truck was stopped after the truck was noted without lights in an area in the Tamalpais Game Refuge near the Meadow Club area. The time was 3 a.m. After the stop was made, a freshly killed, ungutted and untagged buck deer was noted in the bed of the pickup. There were two men in the truck at the time who were advised of their rights before questioning. Subsequent questioning revealed that the deer had been shot in the refuge using the car lights. The men were charged with spot lighting a game animal, killing a deer in a game refuge and possession of an untagged buck. Their rifle was seized as evidence along with the deer.

In court, one of the men showed up with an attorney. He entered a plea of not guilty to the spot lighting charge. To the other two charges, he pleaded guilty. The second man asked for a postponement. The judge accepted the guilty pleas of the first defendant, the spot lighting charge was dismissed and the defendant was given a 48-hour jail sentence. By legislative action, the Fish and Game Code reads that anyone found guilty of a tag violation automatically forfeits his tags for the remainder of the season and that no new tags can be sold to him.

THE GUN used in the violation is up for confiscation by the court. If confiscated, this gun will be sold at auction by the Department of Fish and Game. The monies go into the Fish and Game preservation fund.

The man entering the guilty plea had been arrested last year on two Fish and Game violations on the same day. He was placed on a year's probation and fined $150. His hunting and fishing licenses were revoked for one year.

If the man is cited again to court on a Fish and Game violation, he not only goes to the local court, but must appear before the Fish and Game Commission for further revocation of any new hunting or fishing licenses that he might buy. I don't think it's worth all that trouble, do you?

IN ANOTHER case, two wardens noted a man fishing in the Petaluma River. As the wardens approached, the man folded his rod up, picked up his gear and met the wardens halfway up the levee bank. He was checked, everything seemed okay, so he was permitted to leave.

A bag was subsequently noted under a bush nearby which contained eight undersized fresh striped bass. What to do? The wardens drove about two miles away, setting up a spotting scope (60 power) to watch the area. In an hour, the same man returned. In the next two hours he caught 15 more undersized bass making a very flairy effort to return these to the water. Finally, the man looked the area over from here to there, then over to the bush with the bag, which he quickly picked up, and hurriedly left for his car, arriving as the wardens got there too! A number of these cases are being made on the Petaluma River bank area. Don't you be so foolish!

Tennis Finals To Be Shown On Television

Station KQED, Channel 9, will present taped delayed coverage of the $50,000 Redwood Bank International Open Tennis Championships' men's singles finals Sunday at 4 p.m.

The color telecast from matches held earlier that afternoon at the Berkeley Tennis Club, will be reshown Monday at 10 p.m.

Those competing at the Golden Gateway Tennis Club in San Francisco and the Berkeley Tennis Club include defending champion Arthur Ashe; Rod Laver, the world's top ranked player; John Newcombe, 1971 Wimbledon king; Ken Rosewall, 1970 Forest Hills winner; Australia's Tony Roche; San Mateo's Erick Van Dillen; Stanford University's Roscoe Tanner; and UCLA's Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette.

Barry MacKay of Ross, a former U.S. Davis Cup star, will assist KQED "Newsroom" editor Mel Wax in hosting the telecast.

the Peninsula "11" can tangle again with Los Altos, the Mustangs will try to use the Bulldog game in establishing momentum.

However, San Rafael relishes similar thoughts — but at Homestead's expense. Homestead relies heavily on a power running game featuring backs Kevin Barbieri and Jim Murray.

After scouting the Mission San Jose-Homstead tilt, San Rafael coach Bob Muster pointed out that "Barbieri is really tough to bring down and Jim Murray is 6-foot-1 and 210 pounds.

"And in addition," he continued, "they have a speedy flanker in Mike Morrison — their gamebreaker."

When quarterback Mike Anguis, 6-4, decides to throw, he generally looks to either Morrison or end Dave Hammond.

Their line, anchored by 6-4, 220-pound center Tom Patrick, averages 195 pounds, Muster pointed out. Because they have good "size, they like to come right at you." he said.

Marin Catholic coach Bruno Banducci also faces a tough game, yet he is doing it with a smile. After two unsuccessful starts, the Wildcats face the Santa Rosa powerhouse, Cardinal Newman. Unbeaten since 1969, the Sonoma County aggregation is bent on Marin Catholic's destruction — footballwise anyway.

This doesn't faze the affable Banducci who lauded the standout play of fullback Pat Parnow and promised "a good battle is forthcoming Saturday."

If the senior running back can duplicate the three touchdown showing he made against Piner, the Wildcats may give Banducci another grin to wear.

Warriors Open Pre-Season Play

EDINBURGH, Tex. (UPI)— The Golden State Warriors open their exhibition slate here tonight against the Phoenix Suns with veterans Jim Barnett and Cazzie Russell joining their new mates for the first time.

Russell, obtained in a make-or-break trade for Jerry Lucas from New York, says he is ready for a big year with his new club and also wants to show that his reputation of being defensively weak is undeserved.

"WE've got a good team," says Cazzie. "And I'm ready for a good year. I know what I can do. I'm not interested in being any damn star. I just want to win games."

Russell says that in past seasons he has got weak in the late stages of the season, but he says he is working on a health food diet that last year kept up his strength.

Matty Alou's Double Wins For Cards

NEW YORK (UPI)— Pinchhitter Matty Alou drove in two runs with a bases-loaded double in the 10th inning Monday night to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Luis Melendez also drove in a pair of runs with a bases-loaded single as the Cardinals, who had been held hitless for five innings and to two hits for nine innings, exploded for five runs in the 10th.

Joe Torre, the National League batting leader, led off the 10th with a single to left, off rookie Buzz Capra who had just come on in relief of Sadecki. After a sacrifice moved Torre to second, Capra issued an intentional walk to Joe Hague. Another walk to Ted Kubiak loaded the bases and Alou drilled the first pitch thrown to him past the glove of first baseman Mike Jorgensen into right field for a double.

Capra then walked pinchhitter Bob Burda and Lou Brock to force in a run. Charlie Williams relieved Capra at that point and after getting Jose Cruz on a pop up, Melendez delivered his two-run single.

(10 innings)

St. Louis	000 001 000 5—	6	5 2
New York	001 000 000 6—	1	6 1

Guzman, S. Williams (9), Drabowsky (10) and Stinson, McNertney (10); Sadecki, Capra (10), C. Williams (10) and Dyer, Grote (10). WP—S. Williams (7-5). LP—Capra (0-1).

Astros Retain Walker Despite Morale Problem

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

HOUSTON — Harry Walker, who survived a morale problem on the team and a flood of boos from the fans to return as manager of the Houston Astros next year, thinks the team can reverse its 1971 flop.

Walker, whose Astros are in fifth place with a 78-81 record going into the final three games of the season, was given a new one-year contract Monday by Judge Roy Hofheinz, president of the Astros.

SAN FRANCISCO — The six umpires have been named for the National League Championship series starting Oct. 2.

National League President Charles S. Feeney Monday appointed Tom Gorman, Shag Crawford, Lee Weyer, Andy Olsen, Dick Stello and Dave Davidson to be the arbiters.

Football

SAN FRANCISCO — Middle linebacker Jeff Siemon, who anchors a tough Stanford defense which has allowed only one touchdown in three games, Tuesday was named defensive player of the week in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Siemon, a 6-2, 225-pound senior from Bakersfield, made five tackles, assisted on two others and intercepted a pass in Stanford's 38-17 thumping of Oregon Saturday.

HOUSTON — Football veteran George Blanda, 44, told the touchdown club Monday his age would keep him from accepting a coaching job.

"I'm not interested right now," said the oldest active pro player.

"Hell, I'm too old for coaching. I'll be 45 next September. Who wants to be a 45-year-old coach!

Boxing

WEMBLEY, ENGLAND — Joe Bugner will have to postpone his dreams of International fistic glory, because the "union of old men" has had its revenge.

The 21-year-old Bugner, proclaimed as the "Golden Boy of British Boxing," lost his European, British and Commonwealth heavyweight championship to 31-year-old Jack Bodell over 15 rounds Monday night.

General

WASHINGTON — The Nixon administration has extended its crackdown on violations of the 90-day wage-price freeze to professional football tickets.

Federal officials Monday, charged the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League with a "flagrant violation" of the freeze by raising their ticket prices from $6 to $7.50.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

National Presto Position Enviable

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought National Presto Industries three years ago because it had a favorable P/E ratio and was financially sound. These factors still hold true but shares have not increased in value. Would you advise holding? — J.C.

A. Only if you have patience. Selling at about 6x estimated 1971 earnings, National Presto sports probably one of the lowest multiples, for a sound company, on the Big Board. This very meager investor appraisal indicates well-founded doubt as to the longevity of the company's ordnance business, which last year contributed 66 per cent of sales and 71 per cent of pre-tax net. Ordnance backlog stood at $80.8 million at the 1970 year end with an $8.3 million add-on contract received in April.

In the 1971 first half, sales receded 9.1 per cent, while earnings declined less than 5 per cent. Further attrition in the final six months could place net at the $5.80 level. Commercial products include small appliances and pressure cookers; and a subsidiary does specialized color printing. In order to bolster capacity for its consumer products, National is building a $4 million plant.

Company has an enviable financial position; no long term debt, current asset ratio of 5.8-to-1, and cash holdings in excess of current liabilities. Shares are selling below net current asset value, a condition that could prevail until commercial business contributes a larger proportion of sales and profits.

Q. We have recently formed an investment club and would like suggestions on stocks to buy plus one for speculation. At present we have $2,000 to work with. — R.R.

A. First may I suggest you join the National Association of Investment Clubs, a nonprofit organization with about 15,000 member clubs. Their address is: 1515 East 11th Mile Road, Royal Oak, Michigan 48068.

Brad Ragan (ASE), a tire retreader for off-the-road vehicles, has exhibited good growth characteristics and would be an interesting speculative purchase. Either NYSE-listed First National City Corp., Eastman Kodak or Sears, Roebuck would be an excellent basic holding for your club.

New Processing, Control System

CANOGA PARK (BW) Informatics Inc. has announced a new computerized order processing and inventory control system that will give management of manufacturing or distribution oriented firms maximum control in fulfilling customer orders.

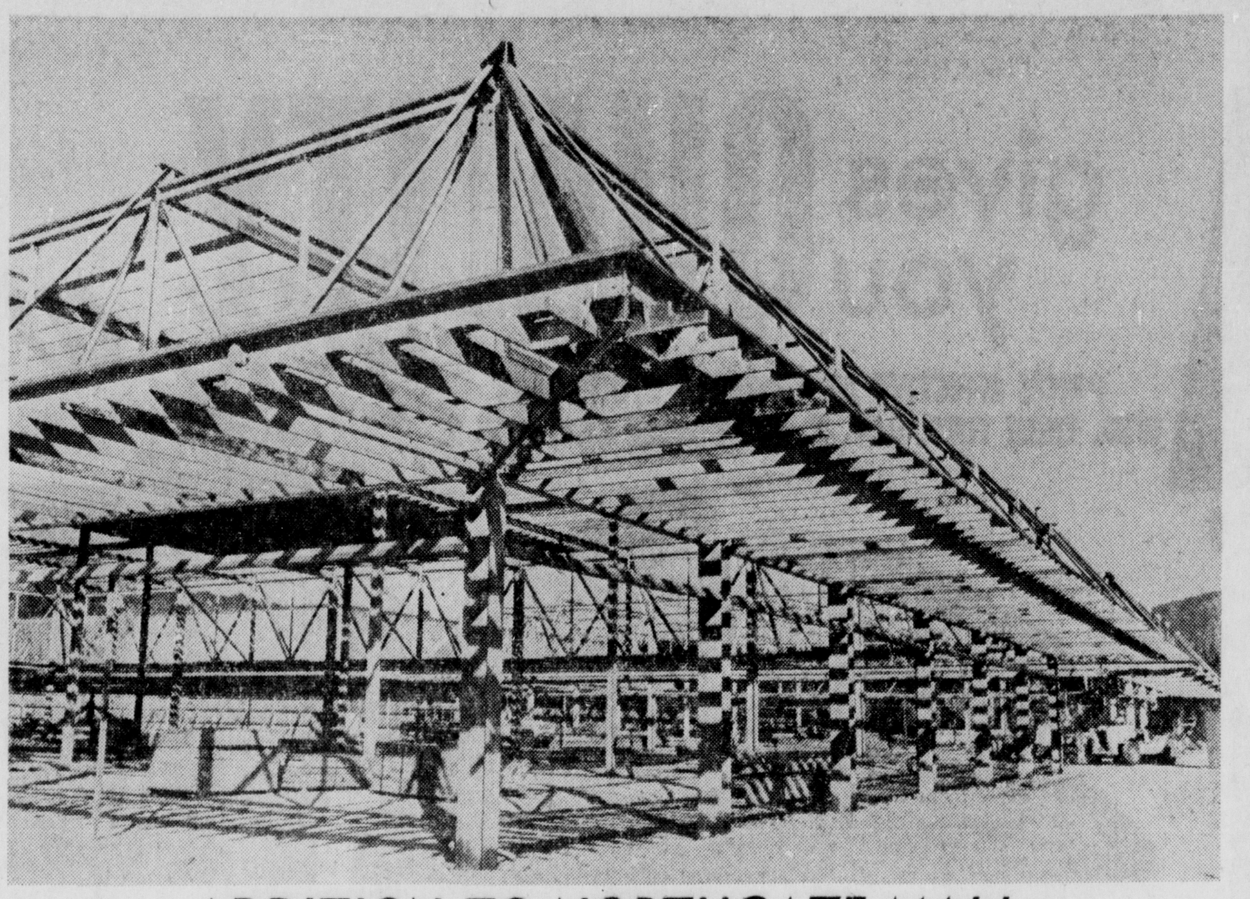
Called the Order IV system, the new product is an on-line computer system designed to enhance inquiry capability and file accuracy and provide inventory control and customer service.

Order IV will have a software cost ranging from $100,000 to $500,000. The system is designed for I B M 360 or 370 computers with a memory capacity of 256 K.

Computer Firm In Lease Accord

CONCORD (BW) Eldorado Electrodata Corp. has announced an agreement with Z. W. Leasing Unlimited of San Francisco, under which Eldorado will receive a $10 million line of credit and W. W. Leasing will purchase computer lease and rental contracts sold by Eldorado.

Major effect of the agreement is to provide Eldorado with immediate income and profit from leases.



ADDITION TO NORTHGATE MALL

Interesting planes and angles were caught by Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean in this new building under construction between the present mall and the Sears Roebuck building, also under construction. When completed, this and an adjoining new building are expected to provide space for 20 more stores in the shopping area.

Amex Mixed As Stock Sales Droop

NEW YO RK (UPI) — Stocks moved lower today for the seventh consecutive session, but selling was not so aggressive as in recent sessions.

Leading market indicators were slightly lower after two hours, and declines held a small lead over advances.

Prices were mixed in light trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were Genge Industries steady on more than 30,000 shares, Imperial Oil fractionally lower on 13,000 shares, and Tesoro Petroleum down slightly on 12,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Royal Dutch changed hands at 37⅛, down ⅜ in a cross transaction. Active Penzoil and Corning Glass were down a point or so.

Steels were steady to fractionally higher, while motors pointed in both directions. Rails, airlines and aircrafts backtracked.

WARDS RIVERSIDE PASSENGER TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees Riverside passenger car tires (to the original purchaser) against (1) defects in material and workmanship and (2) road hazards as follows:

If the tire fails due to such defects, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire FREE during the first 20% of original tread life, and for a prorated charge based on tread wear received during the remainder of the tread life. If the tire fails due to road hazards (excluding repairable punctures) during the original tread life, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge based on tread wear received.

Prorated charge is based on the regular exchange price in effect at the retail store to which returned or the current catalog price in effect at the store or agency to which returned, in either case including F.E.T. Original tread life is to the top of the tread wear indicator.

For service under this guarantee return tire with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

IMMEDIATE REPLACEMENT BATTERY GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees this battery to be free from defects in material and workmanship. If this battery fails to hold a charge Montgomery Ward will: 1. For 90 days from purchase, replace the battery free. 2. After 90 days, to the end of the guarantee period specified, replace the battery, charging a prorated amount—based on time since purchase—of the regular no trade-in selling price then in effect. Batteries used in commercial vehicles are guaranteed on a similar prorata basis for half of the normally specified term. For service under this guarantee, return battery with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

FREE BATTERY INSTALLATION

WARDS RIVERSIDE® SUPREME BATTERY LIFETIME FREE REPLACEMENT GUARANTEE

For as long as you own the car in which installed, Montgomery Ward will furnish a free replacement for any Riverside Supreme Battery which fails to accept and hold a charge. SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

FORECAST

Bay Area: Thirty per cent chance rain tonight and 40 per cent tomorrow. Northwesterly winds.

LAST OF A LANDMARK

The last of Marin's old county courthouse — a classic portal leading nowhere — suffers a giant bite from the wrecker's clamshell, bits and pieces of the wall falling to the street. Fate of the property in San Rafael, abandoned when the Hall of Justice in the Civic Center was completed, is still not decided. San Rafael Mayor C. Paul Bettini has proposed that the city buy it from the county. The 99-year-old building was gutted by a fire May 25.

Medical Facility Eyed For Quentin

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

SACRAMENTO — Conversion of violence-torn San Quentin Prison into a 1,200-patient psychiatric medical facility is a strong possibility in plans now being drawn here, the state's prison boss disclosed yesterday.

Raymond K. Procunier, director of the Department of Corrections, meeting with Marin County officials, also predicted that the inmate population at San Quentin will fall from the present 2,500 to 1,500 within 18 months.

But he dispelled any hope of county officials that the most violent convicts will be transferred elsewhere so long as the site is used as a prison.

He indicated that its possible conversion to a psychiatric medical facility is several years in the future, and probably will depend on first building a new maximum security prison in the San Diego area.

Procunier rejected pleas by the county officials to reverse his opposition to legislation requiring the state to pay for the Angela Davis and Ruchell Magee trials.

Marin taxpayers face trial costs totaling $956,967, for the 1970-71 and 1971-72 fiscal years, according to new figures by Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell. Because of a narrow interpretation by the attorney general's office of the state's responsibility for reimbursement, the state's share for the two years came to only an additional $83,188, according to Mitchell.

Procunier conceded "it's a crime for that place (San Quentin) to cost Marin $1 million, but I'm not going to volunteer $1 million out of my budget to take care of Marin's problems." He said he would not support the legislation increasing state reimbursement unless additional funds were appropriated. He noted that he was $500,000 short last year in reimbursements to counties for trials involving prisoners.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, has predicted he will get additional funds for the department's reimbursement account, but Procunier insisted that "I'm asked to take it out of my hide, and I'm tired of that."

Procunier, displaying a large hole in the sole of his left shoe, said "the principle of the bill is fine, but there's no money to pay for it." Even if the bill passes the Legislature, it faces a possible veto by the governor if the Department of Corrections continues its objections.

The two-hour meeting was held in Bagley's office, but the assemblyman was absent until the last few minutes because he was in the governor's office negotiating tax reform. Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and all five county supervisors attended, accompanied by several county staff members.

Procunier cautioned that the fall to 1,500 convicts at San Quentin would leave the prison largely with only the toughest and most violent men, but asserted there still would be no danger to the outside community.

The warden of the prison, Louis S. Nelson, said that a "mass breakout" from inside the walls was impossible. "We can have turmoil inside, but the perimeter will be secure."

What shook up Marin, he said, was last February's escape of a minimum security prisoner housed outside the walls. The prisoner kidnapped two Novato women and two children, and was recaptured near Los Angeles after the hostages were released unharmed.

Nelson insisted that during the Aug. 21 escape attempt in which six died there was "never any danger any of those people would have gotten out."

The warden cautioned that Marin still may face future trials of militants even if the prison were removed from the county. "That's the way the times are," he said.

Procunier said that prison population had fallen because of an increased success rate in

Citizens Upset On Education

In a second and even more mysterious show of disapproval, a citizens' group last night presented Mill Valley School District trustees with a petition expressing disapproval of district educational policies.

As with earlier objections in June, the petition, signed by 1,252 persons, did not detail group criticism. But the document did say, "While educational practices that employ unstructured or multigraded classes or both might work with some children, they clearly are not desirable or workable with all children."

The petition called for special public and private meetings with board members, although the audience was split on the matter of private meetings.

After lengthy discussion on how to get around the Brown Act in order to discuss the district's problems privately, board chairman William P. Everts Jr. asked Dr. Thomas Spencer, spokesman for the disgruntled parents, to invite two board members and Supt. James A. Collins to his home next Monday and Wednesday to review the complaints.

Spencer, it was agreed would phone and formally invite two board members one day, and two others another day, thus avoiding either a quorum of the board which would be subject to the open meeting law, or appointment of a committee of the board which would be similarly controlled by the Brown Act.

A subsequent public meeting on the problems was set for Oct. 18.

Tiburon Makes Offer On Strawberry Cove Land

By C. P. McCARTHY

The Tiburon City Council last night agreed to offer Leonard B. Fleischman $125,000 for his 6.7-acre parcel on scenic Strawberry Cove, property whose development has been snarled in controversy since 1968. (Other Tiburon City Council stories, page 24.)

Mayor Denis T. Rice, who sought council authorization for the offer, said he had no indication that the offer would be accepted.

Fleischman, who is attempting to develop the property into a 72-unit apartment complex, previously had set a deadline on negotiations with the city for Friday.

Rice called the $125,000 offer "a fair and generous offer" but said that Fleischman may not agree.

The city previously had made an oral offer of $117,500, but it was rejected by Fleischman, Rice said.

The short-handed council — Branwell D. Fanning and Carlisle Becker were absent last night — set its own deadline for acceptance for one week from receipt by Fleischman of the offer to be sent by certified mail today.

According to the Marin County Assessor's office, the land has a market value of $108,000. It was appraised in 1970 with an assessed valuation of $27,000 — 25 per cent of the market value.

Rice said the city, which wants to use the land as a park, may still have to attempt condemnation proceedings to acquire it. "But we wanted to make sure," he said, "we have made our best and firmest offer."

If Fleischman accepted the offer, Rice said, purchase would be made in five $25,000 payments through December 1975.

Fleischman has already won approval by the Marin County Planning Commission for his proposed apartment development. He and developer Paul J. Broman of Peacock Gap still must go before the board of supervisors and the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission which earlier killed plans for a 96-unit development on the land.

When Fleischman set his Friday negotiation deadline in August, he agreed to allow the city to withdraw from any agreement reached if an Oct. 9 annexation election for the Strawberry, Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bayview Heights areas, fails.

He and Broman have been attempting to get approval for development of the property since December 1968 when they proposed 112 units on the site on the east side of Seminary Drive east of Ricardo Road.

They have run into various roadblocks including a suit filed in Marin Superior Court by the Strawberry Recreation District claiming that the public through years of use had acquired an irrevocable right to the property.

Strawberry residents and conservationists who have opposed Fleischman's plans say the cove is unique and one of the last remaining untouched salt marshes on San Francisco Bay.

Ranch Area Alarmed By Faire Shift

Upper Lucas Valley residents today voiced alarm over plans to move the annual Renaissance Pleasure Faire to the 1,000-acre Grady Ranch off Lucas Valley Road.

Martin Kaufman, president of the Upper Lucas Valley Homeowners Association, ssid his group will ask a delay on land use permit hearings originally scheduled for next Monday by the county zoning administrator.

Phyllis Patterson, who heads both the faire and the nonprofit Renaissance Center foundation, said she also would ask Harvey Bragdon, county chief of current planning, to postpone the hearings.

Bragdon said he had not received any formal continuance requests, but would decide at the hearing on Monday whether to hear it then or set a later date.

Mrs. Patterson said she would meet Monday with Lucas Valley residents to tell them about plans to cope with traffic and other problems. She said that she was to confer today with California Highway Patrol officials and traffic engineers about the two-lane stretch of Lucas Valley Road leading to the ranch.

Mrs. Patterson denied reports circulating in Lucas Valley that the Renaissance Center merely held an option on the ranch until December, pending approval of use permits and rezoning applications. "The

Manzanita School Rejected By County

The Sausalito School District has offered the Marin County Sheriff's office the Manzanita School in Marin City for use as a sheriff's substation, Supt. Lawrence A. Lindberg revealed at last night's meeting of the district board.

In response to a question from Royce McLemore, Lindberg said the district had made the offer, but had been turned down by the sheriff's depart-

METHADONE PROGRAM

Former Heroin Addicts On The Comeback Trail

By JEFF GREEN
(First of two articles)

The neatly dressed longshoreman looked anything but the popular image of a heroin addict. His hair was trimmed; his fashionable boots were glossy; he was clear-eyed and husky.

In fact, Jim wasn't a heroin addict — he was a methadone addict.

Jim has voluntarily traded his "smack habit" of 17 years standing for a daily cup of fruit juice laced with methadone at the Marin Open House. He was volubly happy about his decision, even though he had been on the antihervn program only a few weeks.

He talked in the antiquated, cozy kitchen of Marin Open House, an old mansion at 1327 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. Coffee pots were simmering; the kitchen table was heaped with doughnuts, cartons of milk and bottles of fruit juice. More than a dozen men and women were crowded around the table or lounging against kitchen counters, eating, sipping, smoking and chatting.

Two friendly dogs wandered about, begging for crumbs.

This was the scene while Marin's commuters were grinding down Highway 101 to their jobs.

The methadone maintenance project keeps early hours — the dispensary opens at 7:30 a.m. so its participants lucky enough to have jobs can obtain their daily dose before going to work.

Later in the day, the building would fill with other visitors, mostly younger participants in the many other antidrug programs offered through Marin Open House.

Joining the erstwhile heroin shooters at the sunrise session were four of the Open House corps of 150 volunteer workers, two nurses and Vic Chiarolla, who oversees the methadone maintenance experiment that is just entering its second month.

The routine has been the same every day since the program began.

Enrolees arriving at Open House for their daily dose of methadone go first to a brightly lighted dispensary. They fill out a questionnaire — "How do you feel today? Be specific. Did you fix (take heroin)? How much and when? Do you think your dosage (of methadone) should be raised, lowered or remain the same? Did you use any

2 Arrested In Hirohito Attack Plot

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Two Japanese students were charged in a Copenhagen court today with attempting a "violent attack" on visiting Emperor Hirohito of Japan. They were jailed for two weeks pending trial.

The prosecution said Hisawotchi Tahara, 22, and Toshihiko Hidaka, 26, were found in possession of what appeared to be a Molotov cocktail when they were arrested at Kastrup Airport Monday night as Hirohito arrived on the first foreign trip ever undertaken by a Japanese monarch.

Police Prosecutor J. Koefoed charged the two students, who both live in Stockholm, with "attempting a violent attack on a foreign head of state." If convicted they can get up to three years in prison.

The prosecutor said a third Japanese student, suspected of having worked with the other two to disrupt the emperor's 40-hour visit to Denmark, was still at large.

The 70-year-old emperor and his empress, Nagako, 68, were met by leaflets at the airport describing them as symbols of "new Japanese militarism."

Police sources said a group of 30 militant left-wing Japanese students had come to Copenhagen to organize protests against the imperial visit.

The shy, bespectacled emperor, 70 and his wife, Empress Nagako, 68, had a busy tourist schedule on the first full day of their 17-day tour of seven European countries. They were visiting the royal Danish porcelain factory, the famed "Little Mermaid" statue on Copenhagen's waterfront, and Hamlet's Kronborg Castle in Elsinor before lunching with King Frederik and Queen Ingrid of Denmark.

Cardinal Mindszenty Abandons Hungarian Refuge For Vatican

Rome (UPI)—Cardinal Joszef Mindszenty bowed to a personal request from Pope Paul VI today and ended 15-years of self-imposed refuge in the U.S. Embassy in Budapest and flew to Rome. His departure ended a saga that began when Soviet tanks crushed the Hungarian rebellion.

Mindszenty, now 79, fled to the U.S. Embassy on Nov. 4, 1956, in the last hours of the Hungarian revolt and remained there through the years, an embarrassment to the United States, to the Vatican and to the Communist regime of Hungary.

Despite his age Mindszenty appeared in good health when he was met today by Vatican Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot. He made the sign of the cross and blessed a small crowd which had gathered to greet him.

Vatican sources said the pontiff personally wrote to Mindszenty asking him to make "the hardest sacrifice of our life." Mindszenty agreed but said it would mean accepting "the heaviest cross of my life." He had vowed to remain in the embassy until his full church role in Hungary was restored.

"I accept what will be perhaps the heaviest cross of my life," Mindszenty wrote to the Pope. "I deposit this, my sacrifice, at the feet of Your Holiness."

His departure from Hungary was announced by Radio Budapest which said the departure was the result of an arrangement between the Communist regime of Hungary and the Vatican. He left Budapest at 8:30 a.m., 2:30 a.m. EDT, but his departure was not announced for nearly eight hours.

He was driven to Vienna airport by Vatican representatives and flew direct to Rome where he was met at Leonardo da Vinci Airport by Vatican Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot. He was driven straight to the Vatican.

The Vatican has negotiated for years with Mindszenty and the Hungarian government for a solution to the diplomatic obstacles placed by Mindszen-

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tank-Burst Kills 6

ATLANTA, Tex. (UPI) — A nine-story steel tank burst yesterday while being filled, sending 1.1 million gallons of water cascading down onto a group of workmen. Six men were killed and 12 were injured.

The tank — 97 feet high and 50 in diameter — was at a mill under construction for the International Paper Co. Five of the victims worked for a construction company and the sixth for the paper firm.

The workmen were digging a foundation adjacent to the collapsed tank when water began seeping through cracks in the huge tank. The seams gave way and the water, chunks of concrete and steel plates thundered to the ground.

Four of the victims were pulled from the mass of wreckage within two minutes but it took five hours to recover the other two bodies.

Peking-Hanoi Pact

HONG KONG (UPI) — Communist China signed a new aid agreement with North Vietnam Monday and sent her foreign trade minister off to Paris for a visit, Peking Radio said today.

This Chinese broadcast did not give details of the agreement, which covers "economic, military and material assistance" to be provided to North Vietnam by the Chinese during 1972.

Diplomatic sources here said the agreement probably puts more emphasis on civilian-type economic assistance than any of the regular annual aid agreements signed by Peking and Hanoi during the past 10 years.

Nasser Honored

CAIRO (UPI) — Thousands of Arabs marched to the tomb of Gamal Abdel Nasser today to pay homage to their leader who died one year ago after a heart attack.

Traffic became snarled around the mosque housing the tomb as a constant procession of delegations, led by Nasser's widow and eldest son, Khaled, walked solemnly past, placing wreaths over the tomb.

Elsewhere in the Arab world, speechs, demonstrations and newspapers eulogized Nasser, who until his death Sept. 28, 1970, had ruled Egypt for 18 years.

Hurricane 'Seeded'

MIAMI (UPI) — Hurricane Ginger, a monstrous 19-day-old storm that is bigger than Florida, presented an almost stationary target today for another aerial seeding with cooling silver iodide bombs.

When cloud seeding planes took off at dawn, the 100-mile wide "eye" of Ginger was centered about 600 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., and was drifting northward at only four miles an hour.

Lottery Approved

BOSTON (UPI) — Massachusetts has become the fourth state in the northeast to establish an official state lottery.

The state senate voted 26-13 Monday to override Gov. Francis W. Sargent's veto of the lottery bill, affirming an override vote taken in the House last week.

Harriman Weds In Secret

NEW YORK (UPI) — Averell Harriman, former governor of New York and the first American chief negotiator at the Paris peace talks, was quietly married Monday to Pamela Digby Hayward, the daughter of a British baron.

Mrs. Harriman

The marriage between Harriman, 79, and his 51-year-old bride was so secret that only three witnesses attended the ceremony at St. Thomas More Church in Manhattan. Most of the 150 guests invited to the reception thought they were coming for cocktails.

It was the third marriage for both. Harriman was governor of New York from 1955 to 1959. His second wife died last September. Mrs. Hayward's first marriage to Winston Churchill's son, Randolph, ended in divorce in 1946 and her second husband, theatrical producer Leland Hayward, died in March.

Mrs. Robert Kennedy, the bride's sister Mrs. Charles Moore, and Harriman's daughter Mrs. Stanley Mortimer Jr. were the witnesses.

Talks Resume

LONDON (UPI) Prime Minister Edward Heath and the prime ministers of Northern and Southern Ireland resumed talks today on ways to end the Ulster bloodshed. A total secrecy blackout was imposed.

The talks were expected to end later today.

Israeli Holiday

JERUSALEM (UPI) — At sunset today Israel virtually closes down to celebrate the most solemn of the Jewish feast days, the Day of Atonement, or Yom Kippur.

For 24 hours the country's business activity, road traffic and international air transportation come to a halt while Jews mark the day with fasting and ritual atonement for their sins.

Prime Minister Golda Meir said before the holiday began there was only one "alleged" sin for which Israel had no need to atone —the annexation of Jerusalem.

Hike In General Revenue Funds

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state's general fund revenues and government expenditures both showed increases during the first two months of fiscal 1972 over the previous year, state Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported today.

He said expenditures for the two month period totaled $844,164,624—an increase of 7.65 per cent. Revenues at $553,868,091 were 7.01 per cent higher than last year.

Flournoy said increased receipts occurred in the inheritance tax, insurance companies tax, liquor taxes and liquor license fees, personal income tax, sales tax, and transfers from the Health Care Fund.

Guilty Ruling

ATHENS (UPI) — Lady Amalia Fleming, widow of the man who discovered penicillin, was found guilty of conspiracy today and sentenced to 16 months imprisonment.

Three other defendants accused with her of plotting the escape of a man sentenced for attempting to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos were jailed for a total of 42 months.

Fair Trials Are Possible —Younger

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—State Atty. Gen. Evelle Younger has labeled as "unsupportable" claims by defense lawyers in murder cases that their clients cannot receive a fair trial when pre-trial publicity is allowed.

Younger said Monday there is no evidence to support the contention that pre-trial publicity "necessarily prejudices a jury."

The state's top legal officer, who has repeatedly fought judicial gag orders in criminal cases, said, "any trial of a person charged with murdering a senator, judge or movie star will attract substantial attention.

"Under such circumstances, the defendant's attorney routinely claims that publicity surrounding the trial automatically deprives the defendant of a fair trial. This claim is unsupportable," Younger said.

The Republican attorney general said that for more than 100 years we have assumed that jurors would follow their oath to base their verdict on evidence presented in court.

"That's still a valid assumption," he said.

Mamie Feted At Birthday Party

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With President Nixon at the piano, 800 voices swelled the chorus of "Happy Birthday" Monday night as her friends of a lifetime fondly paid tribute to Mamie Eisenhower to celebrate her coming 75th birthday.

The former first lady, radiant and wearing a massive diamond necklace and earrings, at times had trouble keeping back tears as she was lauded in song and speeches during a gala dinner and star-studded show. Her birthday is Nov. 14.

"I have no words to say how deeply I appreciate this tribute," she said as a plaque was unveiled proclaiming her the military wife of the century. "No matter what Ike did —and of course I always followed him —I'll always be an Army wife."

The diamond jubilee celebration, sponsored by the Washington chapter of American Women in Radio and Television, was a $100-a-plate affair to fund scholarships in her name at the new Dwight D. Eisenhower College in Seneca, N.Y.

Dancer Ray Bolger was master of ceremonies for the show, which included performances by Ethel Merman, Red Skelton, Lawrence Welk, the West Point Glee Club and the Marine Orchestra.

But it was the President — arriving nearly three hours late after flying from his historic meeting with Japanese Emperor Hirohito in Alaska —who capped the show.

MAMIE EISENHOWER
Friends pay tribute

"All I can say is ... this is going to be a very tough act to follow," Nixon joked when Bolger invited him to sit down at the piano next to a five-tiered birthday cake on stage. But Nixon dashed off a flourish filled rendition of "Happy Birthday" and then went through it again as the crowd — loaded with former Eisenhower administration officials —sang and applauded.

Nixon, looking drawn with fatigue, praised Mrs. Eisenhower in a speech, then escorted her, his wife Pat and younger daughter Julie Eisenhower, home to the White House.

Newton In Red China: Enters Via Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—Huey Newton, a Black Panther party leader awaiting trial on a voluntary manslaughter charge, entered Communist China today.

A government spokesman said Newton and two other black Americans crossed the Hong Kong-China border in the early afternoon to catch a train for Canton.

The two Americans with Newton were Elaine Brown, information officer for the Black Panthers, and Robert Leonard Bay, identified in reports from Oakland, Calif., as a bodyguard.

Newton, free on $50,000 bond was scheduled to go on trial in Oakland Oct. 12 for a third time on charges resulting from the slaying of Oakland policeman John frey in 1968 in a Panther-police shoot-out.

Newton was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in September, 1968, but an appellate court overturned the verdict in July, 1970. A second trial ended in a hung jury last month.

Newton and his two companions arrived here late Monday night aboard a Canadian Pacific airlines flight from Vancouver, according to an airline spokesman.

They checked into two suites in the Hilton Hotel on Hong Kong island. When contacted by telephone this morning they refused to talk and hung up. Shortly afterwards they checked out of the hotel and disappeared.

They apparently went directly from the hotel to the Lowu border station with officials of the China Travel Service, which escorts foreign visitors to China.

Mainland China has been a strong supporter of the Black Panthers and other militant black groups in the United States.

Landmark Treaty To U.N.

GENEVA (UPI)The United States and Soviet Union, together with their respective NATO and Warsaw Pact allies, submitted to the disarmament conference today a new international arms control treaty which would ban biological weapons for all time.

It was the first time since the 25-nation talks began in 1962 that all NATO and Warsaw Pact countries joined in sponsoring a disarmament convention.

The East-West treaty now goes to the United Nations General Assembly which is expected to endorse it for worldwide signing some time in November.

The treaty, once in force, will prohibit the development, production and stockpiling of biological agents of warfare. It provides for the destruction of all existing biological weapons.

Today's draft was based on a U. S.-Soviet text presented in August and revised to meet suggestions from nonaligned nations as well as Britain.

Although Britain did not succeed in getting an outright ban on use of biological weapons in the main body of the treaty, the preamble was toughened in phrasing to make it clear the convention is designed to prevent for all time the use of such agents in war.

Nonaligned countries met with flat Soviet refusal to change the procedure on complaints so that suspected violations would first be handled by the U. N. secretary general rather than the Security Council.

The wording was changed, however, to make it less likely that any complaint could meet with an automatic big-power veto before an investigation.

American and Soviet negotiators also met wishes of neutralists by linking the treaty more firmly to future negotiations on a similar banning of chemical weapons.

Southland Quake

LA HABRA (UPI)—An earthquake described as a sharp jolt jiggled windows and rocked buildings in a wide area of Orange County Monday night but there were no reports of damage.

Heavy Red Guns Rake U.S. Posts

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied positions along the Cambodian border came under intense North Vietnamese and Viet Cong rocket and mortar bombardment Monday night and today in a third day of preelection Communist campaign against bases guarding infiltration routes to Saigon.

Military spokesmen said the Communist attacks appeared to be subsiding somewhat but that more than 200 rounds of rocket and mortar rounds were fired into South Vietnamese and American outposts overnight.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said at least 230 Communist troops had been killed in the three days since the Communist offensive began with government losses of 28 dead and 176 wounded. At least five Americans were wounded in three mortar attacks Monday night and today against Fire Base Pace 78 miles northwest of Saigon and one mile from Cambodia.

An American spotter plane sighted the bodies of 110 Communist troops Monday in an area two miles northeast of the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Krek, eight miles across the border and 85 miles north of Saigon. The South Vietnamese command included the 110 in its official report of Communist troops killed.

Heavy fighting—the most intense since the allied incursion into Cambodia in May and June of 1970—was reported Sunday and Monday around Krek with North Vietnamese troops firing nearly 800 mortars and rockets into South Vietnamese main force bases in and around the battered city.

Anti-Thieu Flareup; Students Fired On

SAIGON (UPI) — Police opened fire with rifles and tear gas today on students demonstrating against President Nguyen Van Thieu's one-man election campaign. Police provided an escort for a march by progovernment demonstrators.

Thieu failed to show up for a scheduled appearance at a ceremony observing the 2,522nd birthday of the Chinese philosopher Confucius. Squads of guards were stationed at the Saigon zoo where the president was to have spoken but acting Premier Nguyen Luu Vien represented Thieu.

The palace gave no explanation but observers speculated Thieu's aides may have felt there was insufficient security at the spacious zoo.

A plainclothes policeman shot one student in breaking up an antigovernment demonstration in the market place in suburban Phu Nhuan after protesters firebombed two American trucks, a police jeep and a jeep of the government information service.

Police fired tear gas to disperse demonstrators at the Saigon central market earlier. It forced the big market to shut down until the gas cleared.

The progovernment demonstrators marched along the major thoroughfare of Le Loi to the National Assembly. Police jeeps followed the youths and traffic cops waved the procession through red lights. They proceeded up Tu Do street past Independence Palace.

Luu Vinh Lu, a Saigon city councilman and Thieu's campaign manager in the capital, said the progovernment demonstrators included students, veterans and clerks.

To head DeMolay

Installation Of DeMolay Officers Set

August Venezia of San Rafael will be installed as master councilor of the Marin Chapter of the Order of DeMolay in ceremonies at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Marin Masonic Temple in San Rafael.

The 16-year-old Venezia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August Venezia Sr. of 2520 Opalstone Terrace and a student at Tamalpais High School.

EOC Unit Seeks Items To Sell

The Southern Marin Target Area Office of the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council is seeking donations of furniture of all kinds household items and usable bicycles.

According to area director Collie Gaines, the goods will be sold at the people's community flea market (held Saturdays and Sundays in Marin City), with proceeds going toward the area office's current fund raising drive. Each target area office must raise $5,000 to help finance its programs, because of reductions in federal funding, according to Mrs. Gaines.

Interested persons may contact the target area office, which will arrange for pickup of the donated items, she said.

Noise Pollution Bill Is Passed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A Reagan administration-backed bill designed to cut down on noise pollution in the nation's most populous state has been approved by the Senate.

The bill would require the state Public Health Department to establish maximum noise standards for machinery, appliances and other articles sold in California.

It was sent to the Assembly Monday on a 24-5 vote.

Sen. Anthony C. Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, told colleagues his bill, which also has been endorsed by State Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, would "put California in the forefront" of trying to do something about noise pollution.

Youth Center Sets Hike Along Dipsea

The Sausalito Youth Center will sponsor a hike over the Dipsea Trail Saturday, Oct. 9, beginning at 9 a.m. Walkers will depart from the center, 180 Harrison Avenue and will journey from one end of the trail to the other, then return home.

Interested persons are urged to make reservations at the center in advance of the hike. Hikers are asked to bring their own lunches.

U.C., State College Salary Hikes Voted

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Disregarding Gov. Ronald Reagan's opposition, a coalition of Senate Democrats and Republicans has voted to raise faculty salaries at the University of California and state colleges by 7 1-2 per cent.

The proposed wage boost, costing $17.8 million, now faces a stiffer test in the Assembly, where Republicans tend to be more politically partisan and vote with Reagan on major money issues.

Reagan earlier rejected a 10 per cent pay hike for faculty members, contending the state couldn't afford it.

With no votes to spare, the Senate yesterday sent the Assembly a salary raise bill by Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, which would take effect as soon as President Nixon lifts his wage freeze.

The vote was 27-6 after a marathon rollcall. The bill needed all 27 votes, two of which were cast as a "courtesy" by reluctant Republicans Robert J. Lagomarsino of Ojai and Howard Way of Exeter after some Democrat supporters left the Senate before the long rollcall was completed.
long rollcall was completed. Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, voted for the measure.

Approximately 29,000 university and college faculty members would receive 7 1-2 per cent salary increases under the bill, probably after Nov. 14. The university would be appropriated $8.4 million and the colleges $9.4 million.

The whooping crane wears a red patch on its head.

Frenchmen In Favor Of The Guillotine

PARIS (UPI)—A majority of Frenchmen are in favor of retaining capital punishment in France by guillotine, the private polling institute, IFOP, said Monday.

IFOP said 53 per cent of those polled over a six-day period early this month wanted to keep capital punishment, while 39 per cent wanted to abolish the guillotine. Eight per cent had no opionion.

Gromyko Proposes World Disarmament Conference

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)— Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko proposed today that a permanent world disarmament conference be created outside the United Nations to meet every two or three years.

Gromyko, in a policy speech to the General Assembly, said the world political situation was more favorable to the idea now than it had been in the past.

Before Gromyko detailed the Soviet proposal, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann called for elimination of existing armaments and a ban on any new manufacture.

"The result of all the efforts made in New York, in Geneva and elsewhere since the end of World War II is that no arms in fact have been destroyed," Schumann said. "On the contrary, we are watching the most fantastic arms race the world has ever known."

Gromyko said the Soviet Union was ready to develop political, economic, commercial, scientific, technological and cultural links with the United States for "mutually advantageous ties" on the basis of peaceful coexistence.

Gromyko, reported to have assured U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the Kremlin would not interfere in U.S. Middle East peace efforts, never-theless castigated Israel.

"Israel is miscalculating," Gromyko said. "The policy makers of that country have gone too far in laying bare their plans of seizure for them to obtain support in the international arena. Now nobody can any longer believe that Israel is allegedly defending its existence. The false arguments with which the Israeli ruling circles have been seeking to cover up the real meaning of their policy have fallen through, one after another. . .

"Israel does not want peace, and even if it does, it is an annexationist peace..."

In Monday's session, Japanese Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi warned that to deny National China its seat in the U.N. would intensify tensions in the Far East. He appealed to Taiwan and Peking to settle their own differences.

"It is highly desirable that the government of the People's Republic of China cooperate with all countries of the world for establishment of a lasting world peace," Aichi told the general assembly Monday.

"However, it is also a fact that there exists in Taiwan, the government of the Republic of China ruling a population of over 13 million," Aichi said. "Should this fact be ignored, it would upset the international balance prevailing in the Far East and intensify the tensions, rather than bring about the relaxation of tensions in that part of the world."

Indian Foreign Minister Sardar Swaran Singh, in a speech interrupted by the Pakistani delegation objecting to his discussion of the East Pakistani revolt, said, "there is only one China; there is only one China seat. Let us not procrastinate any further."

The United States seeks to keep Nationalist China's seat in the United Nations in the event Communist China is admitted.

Supporters of an Albanian proposal to seat Communist China and expel Taiwan announced they have three more sponsors for the resolution—Ceylon, Equatorial Guinea and Nepal.

PRISON

parole, earlier releases of convicts, and a slower growth of the general population.

Nelson questioned Procunier's assumption that the prison population will continue falling, the warden noting that county jails "are filled up" because they have been taking prisoners that formerly went to prison. Procunier, however, insisted that "the war babies are all over with now. There just aren't that many clients out there."

He added that the Youth Authority's case load was dropping, terming the case load "our barometer."

The department predicted three years ago that prison population would total 32,000 by 1971, Procunier said, but the actual population now was about 22,000.

Conversion of San Quentin to a psychiatric medical facility, he said, would take advantage of the concentration of psychiatric and medical experts in the Bay Area. It also would permit treatment of more Bay Area persons closer to home, instead of sending them to a similar facility at Vacaville in Solano County.

Supervisor Michael Wornum asked if this conversion would mean transfer of the gas chamber, but Procunier said he "hand't thought that far yet." He added that he hoped the U.S. Supreme Court will have resolved a constitutional challenge of the death penalty by the time the conversion would be made.

He acknowledged that "a death unit would seem incompatible with a medical unit."

Procunier stressed that the Vacaville facility was "no source of problems to that community."

He estimated that a new maximum security prison would cost $100 million, and would have to be designed to house 4,000 men in case "something happens in our society and people start coming back into prison."

He noted that San Quentin once housed 6,000 men.

Supervisor John F. McInnis pressed for reassurances that San Quentin was secure enough to prevent escapes, and Nelson promised to "come down and tell you what we have done." The warden criticized the supervisors for "never inviting me to come down when you discussed San Quentin."

Procunier, terming San Quentin cells "among the best we have," said that "if we had a better place to handle those people, they wouldn't be there." Both San Quentin and the maximum security prison at Folsom "stink" as outdated institutions, he said.

As for a $75,000 study proposed by Bagley to determine if San Quentin should be retained, abolished or replaced, Procunier added that another study would "give some legislators something to do."

Procunier concluded that he was "an eternal optimist. I think we're over the top (in prison violence) because we're aware of the problem now."

San Rafael Man Dies Of Gunshot

A 24-year-old San Rafael man died yesterday, the victim of an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head, according to the Marin County coroner office.

Deputy Coroner Bill J. Thomas said Ronald Bruce Johnson was found at 5:10 p.m. shot in the head in the bedroom of his apartment at 509 Canal Street.

His wife, Linda Louise Johnson, of 442 West Live Oaks, Mill Valley, told police they had been talking when he threatened to kill himself, according to the police report.

She said she heard a shot in the bedroom and went in and found him on the floor with a gun in his hand, police reported. She told police they had been separated and she was talking to him yesterday in an effort to reconcile.

Johnson was the son of Harry H. Johnson, former publisher of several Marin shopping papers.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Harry M. Williams mortuary, San Rafael.

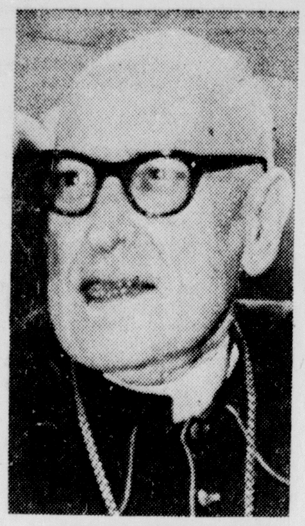
Soviets Launch Moon Probe, Earth Satellite

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned Luna 19 on a trip to the moon, Tass said.

Tass gave no details on the mission of the probe.

The last Soviet attempt at a moon probe was the flight of Luna 18 which ended in failure Sept. 11. Luna 18 was lost in an unsuccessful landing attempt.

Immediately after the Luna 19 announcement Tass reported the launch of an unmanned earth satellite, Cosmos 441, on an undisclosed mission. There was no evidence of any connection between the two launches. Tass does not normally give the missions of Cosmos sputniks.



CARDINAL MINDSZENTY
Flown to Vatican

ty's refusal to give up his self-imposed refuge. However, Mindszenty in past years insisted on walking out of the embassy a free man.

Mindszenty had been sentenced to life imprisonment in 1949 by the Hungarian regime for alleged high treason and black marketeering, but he was freed briefly by Hungarian freedom fighters before he received asylum in what was then the U.S. legation.

Through the years his presence there was a deep embarrassment to the United States, to Hungary and to the Vatican. And in Hungary he became a forgotten man—his name was never used in Hungarian newspapers and there probably were young Hungarians who had never heard of him.

But to the Communist regime in Hungary he remained as a vivid reminder of the suppression of the Hungarian revolt.

Ironically, it was Mindszenty himself who blocked his own freedom.

The stern old man refused to surrender his position as Roman Catholic Primate of Hungary despite Vatican urgings that he give up his asylum and leave for home. And so he remained isolated for 15 years until at the end he relented and decided to leave Hungary.

He spent this time in the fourth floor, three-room apartment in the U.S. legation which later became the embassy when U.S.-Hungarian relations improved. He read the newspapers left at his door, he said mass for the Catholic members of the legation and he took solitary walks in the building's enclosed courtyard.

Through the years Hungarian secret police in plainclothes waited in an automobile parked in front of the legation across from Freedom Square to arrest him if he should appear.

The U.S. position with Hungary was that the matter of his asylum in the embassy was one to be settled between Hungary and the Vatican. There were long talks and Vatican officials finally made the settlement.

At one point in his time of asylum Mindszenty threatened to walk out into the hands of the waiting police.

He was enraged when the United States raised the status of the legation to that of an embassy but decided to remain. Austrian Cardinal Franziskus Koening, on orders from the Vatican, hurried to Budapest and dissuaded him from his threatened walkout.

Within minutes of Mindszenty's arrival in Rome today the Vatican announced a new primate for Hungary. It said Msgr. Imre Kisberk would take over the duties of apostolic administrator.

Newhall Says He Was Bribed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Candidate for mayor Scott Newhall, former editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, has accused both Mayor Joseph L. Alito and supervisor Dianne Feinstein of offering him money to quit the race.

Newhall also said Monday he had been offered the city hall job of his choice if he didn't want the cash.

The charges were made in a two-page sworn affidavit Newhall gave to District Attorney John Ferndon.

Alioto and Mrs. Feinstein described the accusations as "desperate nonsense" and "sad."

public and press would be excluded, were supported by numerous parents and teachers but opposed by at least one trustee, Joseph E. Bodovitz, and several other audience members.

Once, the audience applauded for several minutes after a resident, James Henthorne, spoke in favor of closed sessions. Trustee John G. Eliot Jr. also voiced support for the meetings because he said so many persons had requested that procedure.

Bodovitz, however, said he could not understand the advantage in permitting only two board members, rather than the full board, to hear the complaints. He also expressed concern about sanctioning a meeting from which public and press would be banned.

Lani Bader, one of about 75 persons in the audience at Park School, said, "I dislike the idea of running board members through meetings two by two specifically to avoid the Brown Act. I am rather offended by that. These things should be presented at public meetings so that residents with different views can present their ideas.

Everts then said he would meet with Bader next Tuesday and Thursday to hear opposing views, but the proposed sessions were not set up.

The petition, which also asked that the board undertake a testing program to evaluate changes instituted in classrooms, alleged that an absence of teacher direction was causing poor study habits, a lack of motivation and a lack of respect for the rights and property of others on the part of pupils.

Three Held In Armed Bar Robbery

Two 20-year-old youths were booked into Marin County Jail and a 15-year-old Petaluma youth was booked into Marin Juvenile Hall last night following an armed robbery at a tavern near Novato.

Details of the robbery, at Joe's Crossroads, 7595 Redwood Highway, just north of the Novato city limits, were unavailable today from the Marin County sheriff's office.

Novato police identified those held as Lester Matthew Becket, 20, of 504 Seventh Street, Petaluma; Douglas Richard Callahan, 20, no known address, and William Thomas Stanley, 15, of 711 Petaluma Boulevard North, Petaluma.

Novato police said the trio was arrested after a policeman noticed them driving away from the vicinity of the tavern without headlights at about 10:30 p.m.

Following a chase at speeds of up to 95 miles an hour, their car finally was stopped in the Atherton Avenue area between Bugeia Lane and H Street.

As the officer was writing out a speeding ticket for Becket, who was driving, he heard a bulletin on the robbery over his police radio and held the trio for Marin sheriff's deputies.

Becket and Callahan were held at the jail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

Student Center Bid Awarded

The Novato Unified School District board last night awarded Biltwell Development Co. of San Francisco, low bidder, a contract to construct a student center and fine arts center at San Marin High School at a cost of $573,000.

Trustees reviewed the bid at a special meeting last night since it was above the $521,000 estimated by architect Kal Porter.

The base bid was $587,000, but trustees brought the cost down $14,000 by substituting a tar and gravel roof for a shake roof.

Clothing Stolen

Clothing valued at about $325 was stolen yesterday from the trunk of an auto owned by Charles W. O'Connell of Lower Via Casitas, Larkspur, police said today.

Boy Injured In Fall From Truck

Four-year-old Vincent Hinds of 811 Butternut Drive, San Rafael, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital where he was being treated for a concussion.

The child was taken to the hospital at about 9:15 p.m. yesterday after falling from a truck, according to hospital officials. Further details of the accident were not available.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. A. Scotto, 82, Dies

Amelia Scotto, 82, longtime San Rafael resident, died yesterday after collapsing at her home at 214 Mission Avenue.

The coroner's office said Mrs. Scotto was stricken shortly after eating dinner and that she was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 6:43 p.m.

Mrs. Scotto was born in Italy and she and her husband, Salvatore, were married near Naples in 1910. Scotto came to San Francisco in 1913 and his wife followed in 1919.

They lived in Novato for a short while, then settled in San Rafael where they lived since.

Scotto is a retired innkeeper, at one time having operated the Travelers Inn in San Rafael.

Mrs. Scotto was a member of St. Raphael's Church and the Italian Catholic Federation.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by four sons, Michael and Guido Scotto of San Rafael, Hugo Scotto of Novato and Vincent Scotto of Mill Valley; a daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Thierfeldt of Marinwood; nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

A Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael.

property is in escrow right now. We never had it under option," she said.

She said "there never was any plan not to" hold the faire on the Grady Ranch, but that the faire might continue another year at the Sartori Ranch near Black Point, before relocating to Lucas Valley. She said earlier reports on the Grady Ranch purchase should have said there were no "present" plans to hold the faire there.

"The whole thing is kind of an integral part" of the foundation's plans to construct an Elizabethan Village to house Medieval and Renaissance studies, artisans and cultural events, she said.

Bragdon reported the land use application was to permit the village to be constructed in a A-2 zone, for the holding of cultural, recreational and educational events — which would include the faire.

Also before the county is an application to rezone the land from A-2 to commercial recreation -resort zoning or to one of the new agricultural zones that would permit uses such as the Renaissance Center, Bragdon said. That hearing is set for Oct. 11 before the county planning commission, regardless of whether the use permit hearing is continued, Bragdon said.

ment which said it had no interest in the facility.

Plans for construction of a public safety building for the community, including a sheriff's substation and fire department, have already been approved by county officials.

Mrs. McLemore is director of the Marin City Learning Center which had asked to use Manzanita for classes. The private school is currently located in the village Baptist Church in Marin City.

Last week the Sausalito School Board denied "uneviquocally" the learning center's request to use Manzanita.

Delta Christ, chairman of the school board, told the Independent-Journal the district offered the building to the county "because it is already sitting there and we are planning to declare it surplus. Since the county is planning to build a substation, we felt it would be economically feasible to use that site rather than build another," she added.

Scouts Looking For New Boys

Signups for boys and adults in the Boy Scouts of America are taking place this week and next week at all Marin elementary schools and some junior high schools, scouting officials said yesterday.

The Marin recruiting is part of a Bay Area program to enroll boys as Cubs, Boy Scouts or Explorers and parents as unit leaders, den mothers and other volunteer committee workers, according to Carol Harris, registrar for Marin scouts.

She said people can call the schools for date and time of the recruiting and informational meetings.

MRS. GENANT

Jeanette E. Genant, 94, a Tomales resident for 10 years, died today at a local convalescent hospital following a long illness.

She was a native of Missouri and moved to Sacramento 51 years ago. Mrs. Genant was a member of Rising Star Rebekah Lodge No. 8 and Women's Auxiliary to Lansdale Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, both in Sacramento.

She and her husband, George, moved to Tomales in 1961.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. at Parent Funeral Chapel, Petaluma. Burial will be at Tomales Protestant Cemetery.

C. R. HALEY

Mass of the Resurrection will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Kentfield, for Charles R. Haley, a retired real estate investor.

Haley, 83, died Friday in a Larkspur convalescent home following a long illness. He had resided at the convalescent home.

Born in Los Angeles, Haley was a lifelong Californian, residing in Marin the past two years. He was self-employed prior to his retirement.

He leaves no immediate family.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be private.

MRS. DANIELS

Elfie (Peggy) Daniels of Mill Valley died yesterday in a local hospital after a long illness. She was 84.

A native of Mankato, Minn., she had lived in California 60 years and in Marin County five years, residing at 208 Helen Avenue.

Mrs. Daniels was a member of the Redondo Beach Woman's Club and Senior Citizens Club in Los Angeles County. She was also a member of the Deers of Redondo Beach, Lodge No. 1387 and the Carnation Chapter, No. 171, Order of the Eastern Star in Redondo Beach.

Mrs. Daniels is survived by two daughters, Beatrice Tomasello of Mill Valley and Nona McSpadden of Downey, Los Angeles County, three grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapel in Mill Valley, and entombment will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MRS. ROEMER

Private funeral for Elizabeth F. Roemer of Mill Valley was held today in that city. Mrs. Roemer, 86, died Friday in a local hospital after a long illness.

A native of Oakland, she was reared in Petaluma and moved to Mill Valley after the 1906 earthquake. Mrs. Roemer, a homemaker, resided at 21 Nelson Avenue.

She is survived by three sons, William, Frederick and George Roemer, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

DAILY DOSE — A heroin addict who tried more than a dozen times to "kick the habit" — and failed — turns to the Marin Open House for help under the new methadone maintenance program. While chatting with chief nurse Valerie Stilson, he sips at fruit juice laced with the drug which is designed to break his dependence on heroin.

METHADONE PROGRAM

other drugs? What? When? Why?"

"You better tell the truth," explained methadone user Jack Gallagher, whom the other patients have made their public relations director. He explained that methadone recipients never know which day they will be ordered to submit a urine sample that can instantly tattle on any violations of the antidrug routine.

After turning in the questionnaire, the addict is handed a paper cup containing his or her measured dose of methadone. The drug takes about 20 to 30 minutes to take effect, Gallagher explained.

That's when the kitchen gets the heavy traffic. The breakfast group chats about personal problems, luck or failure in finding jobs, how the youngsters are doing in school and a melange of other topics.

This particular morning, 10 men and a woman stayed late for a meeting. They trooped after Chiarolla into an adjoining room, draping themselves around the floor on cushions. Then, Chiarolla posed the addicts the days problems. He stayed with them during preliminary discussions - and eventually left so they could thrash out the answers in uninhibited debate.

He asked the methadone users to form one or two committees to deal with program members who fail to "stay clean," and to decide how to handle enrolees who stall on paying their bills for the program.

The methadone program is not free — a fee of $20 is charged for the initial physical examination, entrance screening and other costs of the first week. In following days the bill is $10 a week.

"On this paid thing," one member objected, "a lot of us are getting welfare — we're busy getting our feet under us. I've been tapped (penniless) all week . . ."

"No sweat," replied Chiarolla. "Just make up your head about when you can pay, man. Then tell the nurses. If you decide you can pay Friday, pay it — but don't wait until next Wednesday. That's not cool"

He stressed that the methadone program requires "changing your life style." Paying the bills without robbing somebody is part of the change.

Chiarolla changed the subject. "Who's hep to changing the dispensary hours from 7:30 to 8:30 to 7:30 to 9:30?"

A chorus of "yeah" greeted the idea.

Most of the informal meeting was devoted to educating a newcomer to the methadone program. "Veteran" participants — none more than four weeks into the schedule — joined Chiarolla in answering the young man's worries.

They explained that a enrolee must report to Open House every morning, seven days a week, for the medication. After "staying clean" — shunning heroin or other drugs for a month — the newcomer is eligible to take home a supply on Saturday for Sunday consumption. After three months, the participant is trusted with a two-day weekend supply, and three days' doses after six months.

Enrolees who fall into using heroin again "have to start all over" on the daily Open House visits.

"How can you tell if I'm shooting it up (taking heroin)?" the beginner asked.

"They make you pee in a bottle," Gallagher shouted, laughing.

"What happens if you're busted?"

"We take the meth to you in jail, if it's a short-term thing," Chiarolla answered.

"How long does it take you to get hooked on methadone? What happens if I miss my dose for a day?" the newcomer wondered.

"Meth is addictive after a week. It's longer lasting than smack. If you miss a day, you just feel queasy," Chiarolla answered.

"How long would I be really sick with meth withdrawal?"

"Methadone's really a bitch when it comes to withdrawal," Ciarolla said softly. "Smack's bad, but the symptoms are over in a week."

"You'd be laying down sick 14 to 21 days to get off meth," a user broke in.

The novice pondered, then nerviously smoothed back his collar-length hair.

"When you get to take it home with you, do you hafta carry a little cup of juice, or what?"

Gallagher, considered by his peers to be the wit of the program, could restrain himself no longer:

"They put it in a balloon for you and tie a pretty pink bow on it."

Everyone laughed — heroin sellers commonly keep their illicit wares inside small balloons, and have even been known to swallow the balloons when in danger of being searched by police.

"Now I'm embarrassed," the newcomer said. He blushed heavily.

Doctor Will File Appeal Of Decision

Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman of San Francisco, who for eight years has fought for staff privileges at Marin General Hospital, yesterday filed a notice of his intent to appeal a recent Marin Superior Court ruling which upheld the hospital's refusal.

That appeal, if carried through, will be heard in the First District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

The notice follows a Sept. 13 ruling by Judge Joseph G. Wilson that the hospital's denial of Ascherman's 1963 application for privileges was valid.

Ascherman had contended during his long legal struggle that the hospital district had exceeded its jurisdiction under state law by refusing his application.

His legal fight began in 1964 after a hospital credentials committee turned down his application with the support of the hospital board.

At the same time, Ascherman became embroiled in similar fights with five San Francisco hospitals and the San Francisco Medical Society.

During the course of his fight in Marin and San Francisco, numerous court appearances and state hearing were held, — Judge Wilson's ruling noted — one of which cited the doctor for professional incompetence and violations of medical ethics.

Marin General, throughout the fight, has maintained that the doctor has provided "insufficient evidence of medical proficiency."

The legal status of Ascherman's case, which has been dormant for about two years, will be reviewed tonight by the district board which will meet at 7 p.m. at Marin General.

Hospital To Seek 4-Fold Expansion

Plans to increase Kaiser Foundation Hospital by four times its present size will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today at the gegular San Rafael Planning Commiysion meeting at city hall.

The hospital at 99 Montecillo Road will reveal plans to add a five-story L-shaped building to make the facility a full-service hospital, according to Charles J. Linthicum, senior planner.

The commission is expected to take action on a 400-mobile-home site proposed by Jordan Smith on Smith Ranch Road, Linthicum said. At the past two meetings, the commission has been concerned about whether to impose an access road across the mobile home site to Smith Ranch Airport.

Disconnection Of Drains Eyed

Almonte Sanitary District board will ask Tamalpais High School to disconnect its storm water drains from the district's sewer lines, a condition which causes raw sewage to be dumped into Richardson Bay during heavy rains.

According to John J. Crncich, secretary, recent smoke tests of the district's lines by Roto-Rooter Sewer Service revealed the high school lines were infiltrating the sewer lines with rainwater.

The board is under a cease and desist order from the Regional Water Quality Control Board to prevent stormwater infiltration which causes bay pollution, Crncich said.

The district also decided to hire Roto-Rooter to repair broken or cracked mains in the system for $8,000.

Unusual Opportunity Afforded Pres. Nixon

Not since William Howard Taft has a President of the United States had an opportunity to name so many justices of the Supreme Court during his first term in office as has Richard M. Nixon.

Retirements of Hugo L. Black (whose death followed a few days later) and John Marshall Harlan open the third and fourth seats on the court to be filled by Nixon since he took office in January, 1969. He already has placed Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Harry M. Blackmun on the high bench.

Franklin D. Roosevelt — another President who was unhappy with the composition of the Supreme Court as he found it on taking office — got nine nominations to the top tribunal; but it took him three terms. He got none at all during his first term. Taft (who later served as chief justice himself) named five during his single term as President.

JUSTICE BLACK'S retirement leaves only William O. Douglas on the court from the nine men named by Roosevelt as he tried to remake the tribunal from what he considered its too-conservative cast. (Roosevelt proposed that the justices be forced to retire at 70, but Black, whom he named, served until the age of 85, and Douglas is still serving at 72.)

Justice Harlan's retirement leaves William J. Brennan and Potter Stewart from among the five appointed by Dwight D. Eisenhower during his two terms as President. Justice Byron White was named to the court by John F. Kennedy, and Thurgood Marshall was appointed by Lyndon B. Johnson. Thus, with replacement of Black and Harlan, six of the nine justices will have been appointed by Republican presidents.

NIXON HAS NOT had an easy time with court appointments. Although his initial choice — that of Burger to replace Warren as chief justice — was widely acclaimed and readily confirmed, he ran into trouble with the Senate when he tried to replace Abe Fortas, a Johnson appointee who retired under fire.

His first choice, Clement F. Haynsworth of South Carolina, was refused Senate confirmation because of a rather minor conflict of interest in cases he had heard in lower courts. If the same strict conflict-of-interest standards were applied throughout our judicial system, there would be a lot of empty benches. But the matter was highly sensitive at the time because of the disclosures of wheeling and dealing by Fortas while he occupied a Supreme Court seat.

With Haynsworth refused, Nixon turned to G. Harrold Carswell of Florida, an unfortunate selection since he had little to qualify him for such high office. When Carswell was refused confirmation, the President abandoned naming a southerner and chose Blackmun.

IT MAY BE TAKEN for granted that Hugo Black, an Alabaman, will be replaced with another jurist from the South. There are plenty of well qualified men below the Mason and Dixon Line from among whom Nixon may choose. Let us hope he will not propose another Harrold Carswell.

The opportunity for so many appointments gives President Nixon an unusual opportunity, not only to put a majority of "strict constructionists" on the court, as he has indicated he wants to do, but also by juidicious selections to restore the Supreme Court itself to the pinnacle of respect it occupied in some past periods of our history.

By RUS WALTON:

Court Decision Another Diminishing Of Individual

SACRAMENTO — For several weeks now, I have been chewing on reactions to the State Supreme Court's decision on school financing — the one which held that dependence on local property taxes to fund public education was unconstitutional.

In general, I have noted, response to the decision depends largely on whether your school district would gain or lose money on the deal. Those who stand to gain, cheer; those who would lose, growl.

I guess I hear a different drummer. At any rate I get a case of philosophical indigestion when I try to swallow some potential ramifications of the decree.

You'll get no quarrel from me over the court's point that each individual should have an equal educational opportunity, be able to approach the school as he approaches the bench — equal and without discrimination. The accident of geography, or the economics of a given district, should not affect the basic public education made available to each freeman.

But it is still (so far) a fact that whereas each individual stands equal before the law, some may wish to employ the services of an F. Lee Bailey. And so it is with school districts: some may wish to add enriched programs on top of the state's basic program.

MOST PROPOSALS for educational reform involving a statewide property tax have included a provision that local school districts could go on from there (via a tax override) if they choose to enrich their curriculum. If the court's decision is held to make such enrichment programs illegal, such egalitarianism would make me choke. Uniformity does not equate with equality.

I have no quarrel with the court's assertion that there is no equity when taxes for public education fall roughly and unevenly on the property owners' backs. The education tax on property should be equalized. A large portion of the costs should be shifted to other sources.

But all of this is secondary compared to the big threat inherent in the court's decision. When you strip away the erudite cliches and the Horace Mann quotes, the court decision boils down to one cold and frightening fact. It can, if it stands, mean the end of local control. The end of pluralism and diversity. The onslaught of uniformity.

With public funds go public control. The level of appropriation determines the level of authority, the number of controls and the quantity of paper work. It was ever thus.

EVER SINCE the court dropped the first shoe on this matter I have been waiting for someone to drop the other shoe. And, sure enough: Tom Braden dropped it the other day!

Tom Braden. He who was head of the State Board of Education under Governor Brown. He who ran for lieutenant governor in 1966 and was defeated in the primary.

Tom is a political schizoid. He has a deep distrust for certain things big — such as big business; yet he has an abiding trust in certain things bigger — such as big government.

It was not startling for him to suggest that if the court's decision makes sense within a state, it makes even more sense within a nation.

Thus, according to the Gospel of Tom, the federal government should take over education — in the name of equality.

And, that's the other shoe I had been waiting for!

Dual Citizenship Not In Constitution

Factually replying to R.W. Skewes-Cox letter (I-J, Sept. 23) re mundialization.

Radicals, dissidents etc. have the timerity to read laws, and government documents, so that they will say what these persons would have you believe.

Taking parts of the United States Constitution out of context they rationalize, or attempt to, the legality of dual citizenship, under the banner of mundialization.

In the Constitution, there is no indication, expression, or statement concerning the legality of dual citizenship. Most likely at the time of drafting, no thought of such desire crossed the writers' minds.

If a gnawing of such a possibility was there at all, it was carefully covered in the oath to country and flag of the United States. "I pledge allegiance to the United States, and to the flag for which it stands. One nation indivisible under God".

Acknowledging, and stating this pledge makes one, to wit: a citizen of the U.S. living in California, County of Marin, a resident of San Anselmo. Not a citizen of.

San Anselmo residents cannot legally vote mundialization in or out under the Constitution. . .

It was totally unfair to attempt to berate Mrs. Susan Tennler (and I am not acquainted with the lady), for her efforts to keep the residents of San Anselmo totally American. She is, as most of us, aware of our voting rights, when, and where, and has no intention of voting twice for the same man as Skewes-Cox has indicated.

Action Is Needed To Save Landmark

Many discussions, arguments pro and con, and protests regarding the sale of the Marin Town and Country Club by Mr. Max Friedman to Kaiser Aetna for building high-rises, apartments, etc., but there haven't been enough interest or protest by the voting public. It's all very well not to get involved and stay safe in our little cocoons, minding our own affairs until it's too late. This concerns all of us living in Fairfax, San Anselmo, the County of Marin and the Bay Area in its entirety. . .

We are awfully late in getting any action on this matter. If the town of Fairfax or County of Marin can't handle the purchase of this 25 acres, the State of California should.

Don't get me wrong. Mr. Friedman has a perfect right to sell this property to whomsoever he wants. He owns it. The poor man probably needs a tax deduction. Of course, Dear Mr. Friedman, you could give it to the City of Fairfax and be forever a hero to us all. How does that grab you, Max? Just think of the tax exemption a gift of this magnitude would give you! You know the old saw, "you can't take it with you," still holds good, but your memory would linger on and on. Think about it, Mr. Friedman. In the meantime, let's not hold our breath. Get busy getting involved securing the lovely Town and Country Club for a park for all the natives and children. They are our future.

Students' Statements Do Not Ring True

I have no doubt that Mr. (Frank) Farrara's interview with two Jerusalem Palestinians (Sept. 22) is an objective piece of reporting. However, the way the interview came about is highly suspect, as are many of the statements made by the young Palestinians . . . The Anti-Arab, Pro-Israeli statements made by the two young men somehow don't ring true. You must remember that the relatives, and most likely the parents, of these boys are still living under Israeli rule.

The young men repeated the familiar Zionist cliche of the economic and democratic benefits brought to Jerusalem under Israeli rule. But does their description conform to the facts?

According to James Feron of the New York Times, over 7,000 Palestian homes have been demolished in Jerusalem, the West Bank, and Gaza. (The actual figure exceeds this conservative estimate.) How does this action fit with the picture of a democratic, non-discriminating Israel?

In Jerusalem, new apartment buildings are being constructed on the ruins of demolished Palestinian homes. These apartment buildings are designated for new Jewish immigrants coming from Russia, America, and other countries to claim Israeli citizenship and Arab lands. This action has been condemned by the United States, the United Nations, and the Vatican . . .

So much for "democratic" Israel. Pity the more than one million Palestinians living under Israeli rule who must compromise so much for their existance.

Dairying Permitted In National Parks

In your coverage of the Point Reyes National Seashore master plan hearing you quote Mr. Joseph Rumburg as saying that one of the reasons he would not recommend the change of classification from national seashore to national park is that "no dairying is allowed in a national park." I believe that Mr. Rumburg is mistaken, and I quote from the National Park Service's "Administrative Policies for National Parks" booklet:

"Agricultural uses, including domestic livestock raising, may be permitted in natural areas only where they are desirable to perpetuate and interpret significant historical resources, are permitted by law, or are required pursuant to acquisition agreements or similar documents."

Indeed, Congress provided that when the lands were purchased, "the former owners will be allowed to continue their dairying . . ."

WASHINGTON REPORT

Money, Politics Both Figure In Space Shuttle Decisions

By BENJAMIN SHORE

WASHINGTON — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is expected to announce next month its selection of launch and recovery bases for the proposed space shuttle. California is very much in the running for this billion-dollar bonanza, but the factors of science, money and politics make it impossible to predict the decision.

A delegation of Californians, led by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, descended on NASA recently, to make a final pitch for getting the bases in California. After the presentation, Reinecke was not cocky about the state's chances.

The space shuttle, which is to begin flying in 1980, is designed to save money for the manned space program by using winged launch and orbiting vehicles which can blast off together and return separately to earth up to 100 times each. But the shuttle program is jeopardized by its high cost in these times of desired economic austerity and declining public enthusiasm over expensive manned space flights.

THE MONEY FACTOR, as Reinecke learned during his visit to NASA, could determine which state will come up the winner in the competition for shuttle bases.

NASA, eager to keep the shuttle program on schedule, is considered likely to begin flights using Saturn V or Titan III rocket engines in both the launch vehicle and orbiter. Since NASA already has the men and machines to produce and fly these engines, this could lower the cost substantially for the first few years of the shuttle program and avoid congressional delay.

Cost cutting is almost mandatory when one considers that the Office of Management and Budget reportedly wants to keep the shuttle's annual peak-year operating costs at the $1 billion level. NASA had been thinking of $1.8 billion.

Congressional leaders with a voice in matters of space spending have told NASA they want the shuttle to use existing facilities for launch and recovery of shuttle vehicles.

So if NASA decides to utilize a Saturn booster for the launch vehicle, chances are good that Cape Kennedy would be selected because of the expensive Saturn facilities already in place there. If NASA wants to use Titan rocket engines, the site could be Cape Kennedy or California's Vandenberg Air Force Base. Vandenberg, on the western coast of Santa Barbara County, has $4.2 billion worth of facilities.

CALIFORNIA IS ALSO boosting Edwards Air Force Base in Kern County's high desert as the ideal spot for the launch and orbiting vehicles to land. But the huge launch vehicle and the smaller 12-passenger orbiter could land almost anywhere. There is 10,000 feet of thick runway — and there are a lot of those strips around the United States.

Getting both the launch and recovery sites in California would mean 45,000 more jobs for the state's recession-crushed aerospace industry and $10 billion for the state's economy over a 10-year period, Reinecke estimates. But even if California gets neither site, its aerospace industry will benefit from the shuttle's lucrative research and hardware contracts.

One of the first such plums already hs come to California. The Rocketdyne Division of the North American Rockwell Corp. has been selected to build reusable engines for the launch and orbiting vehicles. It is a $500 million contract planned to run to 1978.

However, if NASA opts for expendable Saturn or Titan rockets for the first few years of the shuttle program, then Rocketdyne's contract will be either reduced or delayed for that period of time. The decision on initial engines is expected in December or January.

POLITICS, OF COURSE, plays a role in the site selection process, but exactly how is virtually impossible to decipher at this time. When the engine contract went to Rocketdyne a few months ago, the Connecticut congressman who has runner-up Pratt and Whitney in his district accused the White House of trying to buy California votes in 1972.

The decision on sites will be subject to the same interpretation, but even California's boosters expect the selection to stand largely on technical and financial considerations.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Puerto Rico's Violence Laid To Weakest Faction

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

On a wall in downtown San Juan is scrawled "Estado 51." It is an expression of Puerto Rico Gov. Luis A. Ferre's determination to make Puerto Rico the 51st state in the United States.

It also is an expression of one of the chief issues that divide Puerto Ricans — whether the island should remain as it now is, a commonwealth with advantages including special U.S. citizenship without U.S. income taxes, whether it should become a state or become independent.

Among the three, advocates, advocates of independence are the smallest numerically and most active, frequently invoking terrorism to make up for their weakness at the polls where they never have taken more than three per cent of the vote.

A frequent target is tourism, both because this embarrasses the government and because it strikes at an industry which contributes more than $100 million a year to the Puerto Rican economy.

FERRE, WHO HAS set 1980 as a target date for statehood, likes to cite the three per cent figure as evidence of the weakness of the independence movement. Privately, he has admitted it may have support of 20 per cent of the people.

The story of violence inside the independence movement goes back many years.

On Nov. 1, 1950, two Puerto Rican nationalists attempted to assassinate President Harry S. Truman. In the attack outside Blair House in Washington, one of the Puerto Ricans was slain and the other wounded. One of the guards also was killed and two others wounded.

On March 1, 1954, three or four Puerto Ricans sprayed from 20 to 25 shots on to the floor of the House of Representatives from the spectators' gallery, wounding five congressmen.

They also were identified as nationalists.

Puerto Rican sources said later the attack was part of a plot in which attacks were planned against President Dwight D. Eisenhower, the then secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

WHILE LESS spectacular in recent years, the attacks have continued.

In March of this year, two policemen and a student were killed in rioting which erupted after a fight between student radicals supporting independence and members of the University of Puerto Rico's ROTC unit.

And, as American governors convened in San Juan for their annual conference, some 25,000 demonstrators shouting for independence and "Yankee Go Home," kept the governors virtual prisoners for some hours inside their hotel.

The radicals take advantage of Puerto Rico's natural difficulties, which are numerous enough. Despite an economy which under "Operation Bootstrap" leaped ahead at an annual rate of 10 per cent for years, Puerto Rico has difficulty running fast enough to keep up with itself. It is one of the world's most thickly populated areas and its birth rate continues to boom. The result is mounting unemployment and increasing unrest both in the rural areas and in the cities.

School Children As Salesmen Both Annoying And Impressive

Back-to-school time for Eastside residents of Petaluma means more than the return of yellow school buses and lines of eager children playing in school yards. It means junior-sized salesmen coming in droves.

Hundreds of 11-year-old children fresh from the summer's play return to the Old Adobe District schools and attack the annual magazine sale drive with unbelieveable vigor. Children, who a few weeks ago were playing happily outside your house, turn into high pressure salesmen in a few short days.

A representative of Curtis Publishing Co. visits each school to give the regular pep talk and recruit pupils to peddle his lengthy list of magazines. This year the selection was expanded to include books as well.

With great enthusiasm, the youngsters hit the streets in a manner unknown since the invasion of Normandy.

SPURRED ON BY thoughts of potential prizes like candy, most youngsters go about their work in a serious fashion. In many cases it's difficult to refuse when the youngster reports he needs to sell only one more subscription to win a Sugar Daddy.

The campaign, however, is not really to be trifled with. Last year the three sixth grade classes at Old Adobe School earned $1,600 from their labors to be used for extra field trips, parties, and a class graduation gift.

That amount of money is really impressive — especially if you're 11 years old. The possibilities could be needless if this source of energy were to be exploited further. Bond issues and tax rate increase elections could become a thing of the past.

IN A SCENE something like this, the principal could say, "All right students, settle down. I called this assembly to discuss a very serious financial question. As you all know, classes are really crowded and we have to build a new school. Wouldn't everyone like a new school?"

This, of course, brings hearty applause from the students, weary of fighting 40 others daily into the broom closet-sized classroom.

"Tell you what we're going to do," the principal continues as the cleesful shouting dies down. "We're going to raise $487,000 for a new school." The applause and shouts are deafening as the students rally to the cause.

As the youngsters pounded doors on a year 'round basis selling everything from used galoshes to life insurance, homeowners might wonder if paying taxes wasn't easier after all.

ART BUCHWALD

What If Those TV Shows Really Told It Like It Is?

WASHINGTON — We're never going to close the credibility gap in this country until the television programs become more honest. No TV show tells it like it is.

If the TV producers were really mirroring life, this is how some of their programs would go:

"CHIEF, I'M STUMPED on the Logan murder case. We've tracked down every possible clue and hit a dead end. There are no motives, no fingerprints, and the guy had no enemies. It's baffling."

"Did you check the wife's whereabouts on the night of the crime?"

"I didn't have time to. It meant going out to her aunt's house on Staten Island, and so I said the hell with it."

"What about Logan's business partner?"

"We asked the West Coast police to check out his alibi. They never replied to our query."

"Any women in his life?"

"There was a Miss Fan Fan La Tulipe who danced at the Pink Gypsy. Kelly was supposed to find out her connection with the victim, but he was suspended last week during the graft scandal in the 12th precinct."

"From what you've told me, you seem to have done a thorough enough job. I guess we'll put this down as an unsolved murder. If we spent all our time on one murder, we'd never get anything done around here."

"I was hoping you'd say that, Chief. The case was really becoming a drag."

THE HOSPITAL SHOWS aren't much better at telling the truth about what happens in a large medical center:

"Dr. Edwards, come in please."

"Yes sir, Dr. Fauntenroy, you asked to see me?"

"I was curious about that little old lady who almost died in Room 506. They say you forgot to replace her oxygen bottle."

"So I made a mistake. One lousy error and you're going to wash me out?"

"It wasn't just the little old lady in Room 506, Edwards. I was thinking of the man in the emergency ward the other night — the one whose leg you amputated after the automobile accident."

"What was wrong with that? Dr. Peters said it was one of the best operations he had ever seen."

"It was, except you cut off the wrong leg."

"So that's why it took him so long to recover!"

"DR. EDWARDS, you're an intern, a good intern, but you have to stop making so many mistakes. Now what I've called you in about is that I've heard through the grapevine that you left an instrument in Mr. Cummings' stomach this afternoon."

"But I remembered it as I was washing up and made them bring him back."

"Edwards, you're young, and you're impetuous and you're careless. But I'm going to recommend that you be kept on. Do you know why?"

"You owe my father a favor?"

"No, it's deeper than that. You look like a doctor and that to me is very important. Most of the men trying to be doctors these days have long hair and beards. But you know how to dress and you give the hospital a lot of class. Keep your hair short, Edwards, and you'll have a job here for life."

Application For Federal Funds To Be Made

An amended application for additional federal funds and more time to complete development of Marin City will be considered by the Marin County Redevelopment Agency board at a special meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Manzanita Center, Marin City.

Wallace K. Shepherd, executive director of the agency, said the application, which was originally submitted to the department of Housing and Urban Development in May, seeks a two-year extension and $918,105. Of that amount, he said one third of the funds sought must come from local sources.

A recent study of the agency's noncash credits has shown that all the local share needed is already available, according to Shepherd, who said the application will be amended to reflect this fact.

The revised application will be submitted to HUD later this week, he said.

Safety Award For Ross Workers

The town of Ross is among 12 California cities receiving first place awards in the 1970-71 California Cities Employee Safety Contest. The awards were presented to cities achieving the best on-the-job accident prevention records during the past year.

Other first place winners in the contest, sponsored by the League of California Cities and State Compensation Insurance Fund, are: Brentwood, Rosemead, Auburn, Bellflower, Los Gatos, South Lake Tahoe, Woodland, Redding, Redondo Beach, Palo Alto and Sacramento.

A total of 249 cities participated in the competition.

Antibusing Amendment By Clausen

I-J Special Report

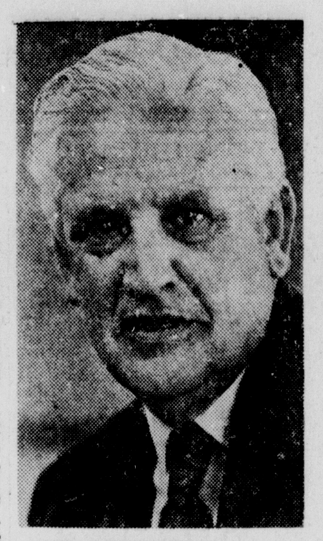
WASHINGTON — A constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing of school children based on race, color or national origin has been introduced by Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-Frist Dsitrict.

His proposed amendment would declare that "no public school student shall, because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school." If passed by both houses of Congress, the amendment would require ratification by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Clausen, in a press statement, said the U.S. Supreme Court, which ordered school desegregation in 1954, "should be compelled to reconsider this unfortunate, regressive and unworkable decision."

The congressman asserted that the decision had worsened racial tension, and was "a giant step backwards in the struggle to improve relations and communications between the races in this country."

More important than "forced physical integration," Clausen said, would be "more emphasis on economic and political integration, and also more emphasis on quality education wherever the child's family or student lives."



VICE PRESIDENT — John K. Riley of Tiburon has been named vice president for university relations for the University of San Francisco. He was formerly vice chairman of the board of G. A. Brakeley and Co. of New York, a national firm of fund raising consultants.

Migratory Waterfowl Protection Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin has enrolled his department in the effort to protect nesting and breeding areas for migratory waterfowl.

Congress authorized $10 million for the water bank program. The money will be used to compensate farmers who agree not to use wetlands for agricultural purposes or otherwise destroy such areas.

North Coast Panel Clears Big Hurdle

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill creating a North Coast planning commission to include Sonoma County, newly amended to strengthen its power, has reached its final committee hurdle in the Assembly.

The bill, SB 920 by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, would create a five-county North Coast Area Planning and Development Organization as a counterweight to the Association of Bay Area Governments. Sonoma County voters have balloted to quit ABAG in favor of such a north coast organization.

The Assembly Governmental Organization Committee amended the bill Friday to eliminate an escape hatch for local governments. The committee eliminated a provision that no action or policy "shall have effect within any jurisdiction, unless and until such a jurisdiction shall concur in such action or policy."

The bill went to the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, where it is expected to receive prompt passage to the lower house floor. As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Collier usually has no difficulty with his bills in the ways and means committee, the lower house counterpart to his own committee.

Less certain, however, was approval of Collier's bill on the Assembly floor. Opposition is expected from legislators favoring a strong Bay Area regional organization including Sonoma County. The bill already passed the Senate.

Board Assured On Middle School Move

Supt. John F. Plank assured the San Rafael Board of Education last night there would be sufficient facilities to switch to a full middle school program in the 1972-73 school year.

With both Santa Venetia and Davidson schools scheduled to operate as middle schools with sixth, seventh and eighth grades, the question of attendance areas however remains undetermined.

Plank said that "since middle school children who attend from the East San Rafael area, including Glenwood and Peacock Gap schools, are transported by bus at present, it would seem logical that this area's students could be assigned to Santa Venetia."

Plank said after planned improvements Santa Venetia Middle School would have a capacity of 700 pupils and Davidson, with two sixth grade classes housed at nearby Laurel Dell Intermediate School, would have a capacity of 850. He estimated enrollment would remain at about 1,600 for the next two years and drop about 100 in the 1974-75 school year.

Plank said the elementary district could make the move by two steps, or make the change all in the 1972-73 year.

If it were all done at once, he said, it would bring the enrollment to Santa Venetia Middle School to 610 and at Davidson to 1,040, requiring more use of Laurel Dell School.

Plank said the changes wouldn't require any additional capital outlay for transportation. "The final plan is to have three middle schools, for about 660 to 700 each, but that won't happen for five years, unless there is a change in growth."

He emphasized that this year's seventh graders at each school wouldn't be transferred next year.

The San Rafael Board of Education Also:

TEACHERS' PAY — Received a report from the Marin County Schools Office that teachers' pay raises would have to be authorized individually to comply with Office of Emergency Preparedness rules, a regulation contrary to a previous report, and sought advice from Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino. Plank said the payroll has been prepared with the pay raises included.

HIRED — Authorized hiring seven teachers, Ann Case, kindergarten, at $7,194 a year; Ann Cohen, kindergarten, $8,067; Sandra Jim, mathematics, high school district, $8,984; James Porter, floating substitute, elementary district, $7,998; George Ridout, continuation education, high school district, $7,481; Robin Selfridge, intermediate grades, $8,784; and Frank Shippey, intermediate grades, $9,599; and Robert Hermann, custodian 1, elementary district, at $6,840 a year; and David Boyce and William Trenchard, substitute custodians, at $3.29 an hour.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of Richard Sydow, industrial arts teacher, Terra Linda High School; Jan Page, library clerk, Terra Linda High School; and Gerald Denman, John Littleton and Elizabeth Howell, instructional aides.

RETIREMENT — Accepted the retirement of Alice Gateley, teacher, Santa Venetia Middle School, who has been ill.

ADULT EDUCATION — Approved a list of 52 instructors for the adult education program, all hired at $8 an hour.

INSTRUCTIONAL TV — Approved a contract with KQED to provide educational television services for the school year at a cost of $4,110, with the state expected to reimburse the district about $2,000.

GIFTS — Accepted a bass, amplifier and speaker cabinet valued at $750 and a sound system and cabinet valued at $1,000 for the San Rafael High School music department from the BOC (Band, Orchestra, Chorus) Association, and a clarinet, valued at $150, for the same department from John Castle; and 74 issues of National Geographic magazine for Gallinas School library from Pat Geiger.

ON-LOCATION SCHOOL — Received a report from Supt. John F. Plank that the "On Location" High School would be located at the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael, 1510 Fifth Avenue, starting Oct. 14 and the cost to the district for light, heat and custodial service would be about $40 a month.

CSBA DELEGATE — Voted for Board Member Marilyn Bolinger as a representative to the California School Boards Association Delegate Assembly.

UNIFICATION — Received notice from the Marin County Committee on School District Organization that an election for trustees of a unified San Rafael-Dixie school district wouldn't be held until after the unification election next June. The alternative would have been to have the unification and trustee election at the same time.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENT — Authorized an interdistrict agreement with Sonoma County so a pupil who moved to Petaluma can continue to attend Santa Venetia Middle School.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned to a joint meeting with the Dixie School District Board at 8 p.m. Oct. 6 at Terra Linda High School faculty lounge to discuss the unification election for both districts required by the state next June.

Board Member Herman L. Childress was absent.

Art Center Plans Auction Sunday

The Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street, will hold a fund raising auction Sunday at the center, beginning at 11 a.m. and continuing until 3:30 p.m.

Among the items for sale will be: A full size air conditioner, complete western water bed, frame and heater included, two airplane wings, a canopy bed, sewing machine, several historical documents relating to Sausalito, a pre-Columbian pot from Nicaragua and one "atrocious standing lamp."

13 Named To Citizens Committee

The San Rafael Board of Education last night appointed 13 members to its Citizens Advisory Committee as replacements.

Named to the committee, subject to their acceptance, were: Larry L. Quistgaard, representing Coleman School; Mrs. Leon Fish, Davidson Middle School; Robert Bolen, Gallinas School; Carolyn Wilson, Laurel Dell intermediate and primary schools; Diane Cook, Short School; Mrs. John McNear, San Rafael High School; and Steve Gillespie, work-study center.

Robert P. Rimes, Charles Peek, Mrs. Robert McVey, James Forkin, Alyce I. Quiros and Daniel Bell were appointed members at large.

If all serve the committee will have a full strength of 31 members. Board members agreed new members could draw for length of term, with 10 spots open for three years and three for two years.

Belotti, Wife Mending After Auto Accident

SANTA ROSA (UPI) — Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, and his wife, Delphine, continued in "stable" condition today with injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Both were taken to Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital after their car went out of control near Cloverdale on Sunday as they were leaving the Mendocino County Fair at Boonville. The car went off an embankment.

Belotti, 73, suffered a severe neck injury and is in intensive care unit.

Mrs. Belotti, 66, reportedly suffered fractures of the wrist and hip in addition to head injuries.

Youth Nabbed In Drug Probe

A 19-year-old Novato youth was arrested yesterday on suspicion of possessing and being under the influence of dangerous drugs, San Rafael police reported.

Robert Wesley Cobbler, 72 Leland Drive, was booked into Marin County Jail where he posted $1,000 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court Thursday.

He and his 17-year-old companion were picked up at about 1:30 p.m. near 1405 Third Street after police received a report that the youths had run their car into a tire cabinet at a service station at Second and D streets.

Cobbler's companion was issued a juvenile citation.

Twelve Youths Held On Pot, Alcohol Counts

Twelve youths, ranging in age from 14 to 16, have been cited to juvenile authorities after being caught by Larkspur police holding a beer and marijuana party in a vacant apartment.

Officers said the youths — 10 boys and two girls — were cited Friday night after residents of the apartment house at 30 Via Belardo in Greenbrae complained of loud noise from one apartment.

Entering the apartment, officers said they found six youths sitting around candles in the front room and another six hiding in the apartment's bedroom closets.

With the exception of a San Francisco youth, all the teenagers were from Lakrspur, Greenbrae and Kentfield homes.

Officers said they found a quantity of beer and suspected marijuana in the apartment.

Fire Sweeps A Hotel; 10 Perish

EINDHOVEN, The Netherlands (UPI)—At least 10 persons died when fire swept through a five-story hotel at Eindhoven, in southern Holland, today, police said.

Nineteen persons were taken to hospitals and 20 guests were missing, police said.

The fire, which gutted the Silver Seahorse hotel, was believed caused by a leaking gas pipe, a fire brigade spokesman said.

Construction Stops; Firm Goes Bankrupt

Construction has stopped on the 81-unit townhouse project known as Scottsdale Village in southern Novato, a development of Western Hosts of San Francisco.

Western Hosts, a California corporation, has been adjudged bankrupt in the United States District Court on a petition filed Sept. 17. The first meeting of creditors will be held Oct. 13 at 10 a.m. in Room 17435 Federal Building and U.S. Courthouse, 450 Golden Gate Avenue, San Francisco, when claims may be proved. Creditors may then appoint a trustee, a committee, authorize the sale of property of the estate, examine the bankrupt and transact other business in connection with the bankruptcy.

According to Murray and McCormick of Novato, engineering firm associated with Scottsdale Village, exteriors of most of the townhouses have been completed and utilities have been brought in. Still to be completed are interiors and some street improvements.

The development adjoins Scottsdale Boulevard west of Highway 101 which was planned to connect the highway with South Novato Boulevard.

Western Hosts, which formerly listed its offices at 875 Stevenson Street, San Francisco, has had its telephone service at that address disconnected.

GIGI VISITS FROM BONN

Margarete Returns To Marin

By BARBARA HOSMER

It's not unlikely than an old grad will return to the alma mater, but for Margarete Karenke it's quite a trip.

Margarete is a San Rafael High School graduate in the class of 1959 and her home town is Bonn, West Germany.

Known to her classmates as Gigi, she spent a year in 1958-1959 at San Rafael as an American Field Service exchange student from her home city. Now she's back 12 years later to have a look at the school and to visit with the friends she made there then.

MARGARETE SAYS she knew when she left that she wanted to return for a visit, and the past week-and-a-half she has been staying up late "catching up on things" with Mr. and Mrs. James McFarlane of San Rafael, the family with whom she stayed for her year in America.

Then on Saturday she will begin a week's stay with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pendergrass in San Rafael and his daughter Rhea, whom she knew during her Marin County year. It is with Rhea that she plans to return to San Rafael High School to visit with her former teachers and have a look at changes in the school and student body. Margarete also hopes that some ofher other San Rafaael friends can visit with her while she is in Marin. Many, says Mrs. McFarlane, seem to have married and moved away.

SHE AND THE McFarlanes planned to spend the weekend at the McFarlane cabin at Lake Tahoe, and they have visited San Francisco and Sausalito and taken a tour through the San Rafael area. Margarete noticed some building had gone on in the 12 years she has been away, "especially in the Peacock Crest and Lagoon areas."

"Also, I noticed that the girls and women are not so dressed up as they were," she said, adding that it is part of changes in thinking which are going on in Germany, too. She said that previously you could recognize an American girl by her clothes, but now in Germany the young people wear similar clothes.

"California drivers are less polite than they were 12 years ago," she smiles.

THE PAST eight years in Germany Margarete has been working as a secretary to a deputy member of Parliament in Bonn, West Germany's capital. She helped with general preparation of papers for the sessions, attended the sessions and answered the lobby mail concerned with bills in preparation.

"Now there's a women's liberation movement and there are a couple of bills reflecting the new liberal thinking to reform the abortion law." No abortions are legal now in West Germany, she said.

Bur Margarete quit the job this month and will become a teacher when she returns to Bonn. She said that there is a shortage of teachers in West Germany.

After graduation from San Rafael High School, she returned to Germany to continue school and then went to a business college to acquire office skills. She has completed six weeks of practice teaching and will begin as a teacher of history, civics, English and German for youngsters aged 11 to 15 who do not intend to go to college.

TWELVE YEARS ago Margarete Karenke was an exchange student at San Rafael High School from Bonn, West Germany. Now she's back in San Rafael to visit old friends before she returns to Bonn to begin a teaching career. She looks forward to visiting her former teachers at San Rafael High and seeing the changes in the school.

Margarete said that such students don't have much motivation toward school and that getting them interested is a challenge to a teacher. Good teachers there, like here, are respected, she said.

COMPARING THE German and American education systems, she said that "everything is different." Here she found that it's up to each student to learn what he wants or feels he has to do for each class. In Germany, school assignments are definite and the student knows exactly which pages of the book he must know.

"For the creative personality, it's probably better over here," she said.

Margarete said that the job market is good in most parts of West Germany. A friend of hers put an ad for a secretarial position in a Bonn newspaper and had 40 job offers, she said. Much of the factory labor in West Germany is from Southern European countries, she noted.

Margareta already visited with her foster sister Louise in New Jersey on her way to the West Coast. And when she leaves she will visit in Salt Lake City and then Minneapolis, where she will meet the girl who came with her from Germany.

In the meantime she wants to see the area, talk to people and to correct her impressions of America in the 1970s so she can teach about it correctly.

"And I would like to bring my own family here sometime for a visit," she says.

Grape Festival Slated Saturday

One of the oldest continuing events in the Bay Area is the Grape Festival, which will be held Saturday at the Marin County Civic Center grounds in San Rafael for the 72nd year.

The Sunny Hills home benefit is sponsored by the Sunny Hills Guilds' Governing Council and involves a large participation by all its guilds as well as student, business, church, fraternal and women's organizations.

THE HOURS ARE 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the one-day event, which last year drew 25,000 festival-goers. The style will be an old-fashioned country fair with some 80 booths offering gourmet foods, handmade articles of all kinds, and the traditional baskets of grapes from a large center booth.

A special gayway will be set up for the entertainment of the children. New this year will be caftans, men's ties, leather, batik and macrame handcrafts, posters and umbrella stands. Youngsters from the Sunny Hills homes will also participate this year and they will have a special booth offering their 1972 calendar, "the words of youth." The 37 Sunny Hills guilds will sell their handmade specialities.

A motorized cable car will be used to transport festival visitors to and from the parking lot and child care will be provided. Admission to the festival is free.

PICNIC FOODS and drinks will be available and guests may enjoy the foods at tables and chairs under an awning. There also will be a cabaret with a minstrel wandering through strumming and singing folk music.

Mrs. Anthony Cameron of Tiburon is festival chairman. Other chairmen are Mmes. R.F. Hilliard of San Rafael, H. Reginald Hammond of Fairfax, Darrel Beckstead of Corte Madera, Paul Scheller of Novato, Frank Huntington of San Rafael, Tabor Kopan of Mill Valley; Stanley Fontez, Ronald Horne, Cliff Radus, Allen Thomas, Fred Soloman, Robert Knox, all of San Rafael; Herbert West of Ross, John Quinn of Kentfield, and Richard O'Brien of Larkspur.

Mrs. Sue Clark of San Anselmo is coordinator of volunteers. Mrs. Wes Bidgood is set-up chairman, and Mrs. Robert Dougherty is publicity chairman for the festival.

All proceeds from the day go to support the Sunny Hills homes in San Anselmo and San Francisco.

Gaining Points

Gold-toned pearls that have not been so popular in the United States in the past are now gaining points fast.

Wedding Rites Held In Fairfax

Fairfax Community Church was the setting Saturday for the marriage of Doreen (Dorrie) A. Ericson of San Anselmo and Leonard G. Van Dyke of Napa. A reception in the social hall of the church in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Barbara Bariola of San Jose, and Tony Stoer of Napa was best man. Larry Wright of Napa, the bridegroom's brother, and John Uhte of Mill Valley ushered.

Dorrie is the daughter of Mrs. Marge Ericson of San Anselmo and E. W. Ericson of Los Angeles. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and San Jose State College and is an occupational therapist at the Community Mental Health Center in Greenbrae. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Uhte of Fairfax are her grandparents.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Texas the couple will live in Napa.

Leonard is the son of Mrs. Eldon Wright of Napa and Grady Van Dyke of Texas. A graduate of Napa High School, he is employed as a licensed psychiatric technician at Napa State Hospital. He is also the brother of Wesley, Sharon, Karen, Noel and Vicki Wright, all of Napa.

Couple Is Married In Ross Ceremony

Karen Beda Seastrom became the bride of Charles Frisbie Bowen Saturday afternoon in a ceremony at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

A reception at the Meadow Club followed.

Mrs. Eugene Toulouse of San Rafael, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, and the bride's twin sister, Mrs. John Lando of Fairfax; Mrs. Craig Handley of Mill Valley; and Kathleen Giono of San Anselmo were bridesmaids.

Steve Anderson of Fairfax was best man, and guests were ushered to their seats by Tom Batch of Novato, Eugene Toulouse of San Rafael and Tom Stevens of San Anselmo.

After a wedding trip to Yosemite the couple will live in Campbell.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris E. Seastrom of San Anselmo. She is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School, College of Marin and Sonoma State College. The bride is employed by Security Pacific National Bank in San Jose.

Charles is the son of Capt. John Bowen of Seattle and Dawn Frisbie of Tiburon. He is a graduate of Novato High School and Everett Junior College and is employed by Ralston Purina Company in Hayward. The bridegroom is the brother of Vona Siroky and Jack Jaquish, both of San Rafael.

ON THE AGENDA

'Fiesta Under Stars' Theme In Boys' School Dinner Dance

"Fiesta Under the Stars" will be the theme for the annual dinner dance of the St. Vincent's School for Boys Women's Auxiliary Saturday evening. The benefit party will be held in the gardens of the school in San Rafael.

Guests may come in Mexican costume, according to chairman Mrs. John R. Kingery, and music will be provided by a strolling trio. The social hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing to follow.

Committee chairmen are Mmes. Ted Van Bebber, reservations; Pat McDowd, decorations, and Leroy Bersaglieri Jr., awards.

THE FIRST "Friday Forenoons" series of program will begin at 11 a.m. Friday with a talk on bookbinding by Shiela Casey. The series is presented by the Moya Library Guild at the Jose Moya del Pino Library, Octagon House, at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The program is free to guild members.

A SPECIAL fund-raising "Golf-a-thon" will be held by the Auxiliary of Sonoma State Hospital beginning Friday at the San Geronimo Golf and Country Club. Five golf courses will participate. Others are Marin Golf and Country Club in Novato on Saturday and Sunday, Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club on Oct. 8, Sonoma Golf and Country Club on Saturday, and Bennett Valley Golf Club in Santa Rosa on Oct. 9.

Proceeds from the entire event go to the Sonomaland Park for patients at Sonoma State Hospital.

MARIN CHAPTER of Cystic Fibrosis will hold its annual benefit dinner dance, "Una Festa Italiana," at Mill Valley Outdoor Art Club on Saturday. Cocktails will be served from 6:30 to 8 p.m., dinner at 8:30 p.m., followed by dancing.

Chairman Mrs. Richard Chicca is assisted by Mmes. Ronald Kiesel, tickets and decorations; Lou Roncarati, food; and Joseph Ramblas, awards and publicity. Proceeds go to cystic fibrosis research.

CORINTHIAN YACHT Club Women's Auxiliary will hold a barbecue steak dinner on Friday. The social hour begins at 5 p.m. and dinner will be served on the Belvedere clubhouse patio at 6:30 p.m. Chairman Mrs. Ralph Jennings plans benefit games after the dinner, which is called "Autumn Reflections at Corinthian Harbor." Club member chefs will be Jack Copper, Bill Fuss, Hal Monozon and Warren Vincent.

WINNERS OF the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club's three-day club championship tournament ending this Friday will receive awards at a party at the clubhouse to be held after the last round of play.

The defending champion is Mrs. Robert McDannold, who represented the club at the Marin County tournament of champions of women's golf held Aug. 26 at Peacock Gap.

Tournament chairman Mrs. Joe De Smet and golf captain Mrs. John Ericson, who will present the awards, are directing the tournament. Planning the party are Marcia Lee and Mmes. G.D. Dickey and Clifton Brinkley.

A DANCE for single adults will be held Saturday evening at 9 o'clock at the Santa Rosa Hotel in Santa Rosa, sponsored by the Social-Lites of Sonoma and Marin Counties.

CONCERT PIANIST Edward M. Hopkins will present a program Friday at 2 p.m. for members of the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Prior to the program the club's executive board will meet at 12:15, and there will be a business meeting at 1:15.

Hopkins is known as a piano and organ soloist and accompanist and conducts a chorus for the San Francisco Adult Education Program. He is accompanist for the Loring Club of San Francisco and the Southern Pacific Chorus. Hailed as a child prodigy, he first performed in public at the age of 7 and gave his first full length recital when he was 9 years old.

Garden Site For Rites In San Anselmo

The garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Benoit Jr. of San Anselmo was the setting for the wedding of their daughter, Kathleen Lorraine Benoit, to Kim Gregory Beno of Chino.

Teri Spence of San Anselmo was maid of honor for the Sunday morning nuptials, and Mrs. Linda Morrison of San Luis Obispo was the bridesmaid. Best man duties were performed by Mike Stapleton of Rialto.

A picnic was held in the garden of the home prior to the wedding.

The bride is a graudate of The Principia in St. Louis, Mo., and atended California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo. She is the sister of Jerry Benoit of Spartanburg, N.c., and George Benoit of Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beno of Chino are parents of the bridegroom. Kim is a graduate of Damion High School in La Verne, and of Cal Poly. He is employed with Moss Enterprises, Read Island, B.C.

The bridegroom is the brother of David, Lonny and Craig Beno of Chino.

Sgt. Leathers, Sydney Kinsey Are Engaged

The engagement of Sydney Rae Kinsey of Novato to Sgt. John Francis Leathers of San Rafael has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eulin L. Kinsey of Novato.

The couple are planning a Nov. 13 wedding.

Sydney is the sister of Mark L. Kinsey of Novato. She is a graduate of San Marin High School and is employed in Novato.

John is the son of Mrs. Georgia Butler of Prairie Lea, Tex., and the brother of Mmes. Tom Kimura and Tracy Hemmeret and of Tom and Ronald Leathers. Mr. and Mrs. William Green of San Rafael are his grandparents.

John was graduated from Prairie Lea High School and is serving with the Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Pair Says Vows In Terra Linda

Linda Joyce Paris and Charles Edwin Wilbur, both of San Rafael, were married Sept. 18 at St. Isabella's Catholic Church in Terra Linda.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard K. Paris of San Rafael, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Wilbur of Oswego, N.Y., and Leroy Willbur of East Syracuse, N.Y.

Susan Schultze of San Rafael was maid of honor, and the bride's brother, Ronald Joseph Paris, also of San Rafael, was best man.

A reception followed at the bride's parents' home.

Linda is a graduate of Novato High School. Mrs. Emil Paris of Novato is her grandmother.

Charles was graduated from high school in New York. He is employed at the Shell Service Station in Terra Linda.

Following a wedding trip to Monterey the couple will live in San Rafael.

THE GENERATION RAP

by Helen and Sue Bottel

His Hair Length Not Frozen, Even Though His Pay Raise Is

DEAR BOTTELS:

My boss explained that the raise he promised me was out, due to Mr. Nixon's cold spell. I understand. It's a part-time job after school and on weekends, and I'm glad to have it, even at starting pay.

But it seems like the freeze should work two ways. Like when he hired me, my hair was chin length — which it still is. Even my folks don't complain.

Well, the boss called me in yesterday and said, "No haircut, no job," because a couple of customers beefed.

I don't get it. If the government can freeze my wages, why can't I freeze the length of my hair? Could I bring suit, and to whom? — HIRSUTE GUY

DEAR HIRSUTE:

Will a "hair suit" keep you hirsute? I'm afraid the wage and price control folks might call this hair-splitting and suggest a trim.

While I don't agree with your employer, it's his ball park and you'll have to play the game his way or get benched. — HELEN

DEAR HIRSUTE:

Maybe not. Your boss isn't really un-cool — or he wouldn't have hired a long-hair in the first place. Maybe a minor trim, with a half-way kidding letter about "one good freeze deserves another," might thaw him. — SUE

DEAR SUE:

I gave a party last Saturday night. My folks (who trust me) went out for the evening. After all, our average age is 18 and our crowd doesn't get drunk, though some of the guys brought beer and I served wine coolers.

But a couple I didn't know very well lit up joints and started passing them around. Nobody seemed concerned. As one guy said, the cops don't bother you any more unless you're dealing: A little weed at a party is expected.

But I thought "paranoid." Besides, my folks have a strong sense of smell, and I'd like to keep their trust.

What do you do when friends bring grass to your party? — APPREHENSIVE

DEAR APPREHENSIVE:

Tell 'em politely if they want to blow weed, take a walk down the street. (And don't come back "holding.") Most people these days understand and respect your attitude toward grass, but if these two don't . .

well, better you lose a couple of minor friends than gain one record (either with your parents or the police). — SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN:

Before some of you readers inform us that it is illegal to sell alcoholic drinks to 18-year-olds, let me add that this letter came from New York, where it isn't. — H.

NOTE FROM BOTH OF US:

But legal or not, there's seldom a college-age or older-teen party these days that doesn't include at least wine and beer. Sort of an irrepressible force against an unenforceable law. — H. AND S.

DEAR SUE AND HELEN:

I have a boy friend who is 18. I'm 12. We've tried a few things so we know we're in love. Mama found out and she's real mad. She told me I couldn't see him again.

She thinks she knows it all, but I know I won't get in trouble. I won't get married until I'm anyway 15, so please help me convince her I can go steady, 'cause I'm — WISE AND MATURE FOR MY AGE

DEAR W AND M:

Sorry, kid. I say, listen to your Mommy until you're old enough to call her "Mother!" Get the message? — SUE

DEAR 12-YEAR-OLD:

And by that time, let's hope you'll be wise enough to keep on listening! — HELEN

INSIDE YOUR HOME

Phony Classifications Out In New Furniture Designs

By CAROLYN S. MURRAY

There's a new direction in home furnishings this year and you should begin to notice it during a program called Debut '72. The direction is away from phony design classifications and toward the reproduction of some truly classic forms.

The bane of a reporter's existence has been the silly style designations that were given to furnishings during the past five or six years. You've seen them. The Spanish, Mediterranean, Italian provincial, so-called Contemporary. Most of them were figments of the manufacturers' imagination. They revealed a lack of original thought in the field, since once the word got around that a look such as Spanish was going to be big, everyone jumped on the bandwagon and started knocking out mock Spanish lines.

Finally the industry has done some soul searching. This year, for the first time in my knowledge, manufacturers and retailers have banded together to develop a consumer-conscious program for home furnishings.

It's a national effort, but one in which every home furnishings retail store in your community could participate. The idea is based on a concept of presenting you, the consumer, with a variety of choices. But instead of permitting these choices to come to you hit-or-miss throughout the calendar year the retailers and furniture makers want to offer you a total package for viewing during late September and early October.

Hopefully, though, you won't become a victim of a marketing war. In fact, this Debut '72 program should give you more than you've ever got from home furnishings retailers. The first year will be the hardest in this program, but there is a five-year plan in operation. So as the program matures, the benefits to the consumer should increase.

ALONG WITH the promotional aspects of the program, there seems to be a more direct approach to design. Museum caliber furniture appears to have inspired some fine reproductions and new interpretations. Traditional lines are having a great renaissance. One example of the look that is proliferating in the Debut '72 marketplace is the long, lithe cherry table shown today. Designed as a sofa-back table, it would also stand alone as a console or entry hall piece.

The Heritage design staff followed the graceful sweep of the style of Louis XV. Cabriole legs seem to flow out of the apron area. It is just one of many handsome, rational pieces — one that needs no phony labeling.

Weekly Talks Explore 'Family In Transition'

"The Family in Transition" will be explored in a series of five weekly discussions held by the University of California Extension on the Berkeley campus, beginning Oct. 6.

The class will be held each Wednesday through Nov. 3, from 8 to 10 p.m. in room 22 Warren Hall at U.C., conducted by Arlene and Jerome Skolnick, assistant research psychologist and professor of criminology, respectively, at the university.

Their aim will be to approach conventional assumptions about the family from a variety of viewpoints — to ask, for example, why some couples remain together, rather than why others are divorced; what harm is done to children by long hours under the total surveillance of their mothers, rather than how children are deprived when their mothers work; and why women have accepted inferior status for so long, rather than why they are protesting today.

Topics under which these and other questions will be explored include ideology and myth in the study of the family; sexuality and sex differences; male-female partnering; the politics of child-rearing; and the future of the family.

The Skolnicks are the authors of a book, "The Family in Transition," published this year.

Dinner To Fete Princess

By MOLLY MARIN

Marinites will be much in evidence at the English-Speaking Union dinner honoring Princess Alexandra and her husband, the Hon. Angus Ogilvy Friday night at the Garden Court of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel.

Attending this opening event for British Week in San Francisco will be a contingent from Belvedere, Messrs. and Mmes. Kirk Underhill, David P. Legge, Frank J. Baumgarten and Edmund W. Nash.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Francis Ingall and Mrs. Simon B. Buckner will attend from Sausalito, as will Mmes. Virginia Lissner and Rhoda W. Boyd. The Philip A. Cranes of Kentfield, the G.H. Ekornes of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick T. Vincent of Mill Valley also will be among the dinner guests.

The consuls general of Great Britain, Canada, New Zealand, India and Australia will attend, along with a large group of Londoners and the British Ambassador to the United States, the Earl of Cromer.

Members of the Consular Corps from Marin planning to attend are British Consul and Mrs. Donald H. Stokes of Sausalito and British Consul and Mrs. John S. Renwick of Mill Valley.

MR. AND MRS Robert Paraspolo have returned to Salt Lake City after spending four weeks with Dorothy Paraspolo's grandmother, Mrs. Anita Freese of San Rafael. Paraspolo will enter the University of Utah.

INTERNATIONAL GOVERNMENT and world press members touring the U.S. were entertained recently by the Thomas Marshalls of Kentfield aboard their yacht, the Victoriana.

Aboard were C. Langhorne Washburn, assistant Secretary of Commerce; and regional directors from throughout the world, Beverly Miller of London, Paul Guidry of Paris, Hans Regh of Frankfurt and Fritz Schmitz, Tokyo.

Press figures were Hubert de Segonzac of Paris Match, Ernesto Inigo of Novedades in Mexico City, Kevin Rafferty of the Financial Times in London and Michael Knuth of Der Frem-denverkehr in Frankfurt.

8 Lectures On Notable Women Set

The contributions of notable women to science, mathematics and medicine will be the subject of eight lectures to be held at the University of California Extension Center, 55 Laguna Street, San Francisco.

Opening Oct. 13, the class series will be held Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p.m.

The lectures will be devoted to the lives and achievements of physician Elizabeth Blackwell, biologist Rachel Carson, physicists Marie Curie and Irene Joliot-Curie, psychoanalyst Anna Freud, zoologist Libbie Henrietta Hyman, nutritionist Agnes Fay Morgan, nurse Florence Nightingale and mathematician Emma Noelther.

Among the speakers will be U.C. physicist and Nobel laureate Emilio Segre, research zoologist Dorothy Pitelka and medical specialist Lillian Cartwright; and training analyst Anna Maenchen of the San Francisco Psychoanalytic Institute.

Boys Favored

A study of children's books conducted by a group called "Feminists on Children's Media," and reported on in the October issue of New Woman magazine, finds that the central figure in popular children's stories is a boy three times as often as it is a girl. The study also finds that boys in children's books are always pictured as the ones who "do things."

BIRTHDAY QUIZ

By GORDON GREB

Guess who was born today and became famous.

1. You could have watched today's CBS celebrity on his Sunday night "Toast of the Town" for 23 years but now no more. His long-run TV variety show ended its contract and now onlyspecials will bring him to you, saying, "Friends, we have a really great shoe!" (A) Jimmy Durante; (B) Lawrence Welk; (C) Ed Sullivan.

2. Know what Harvard art student turned Ozark mountain folks into an American mythology? He cartooned his way to fame drawing Li'l Abner, Mammy Yoakum, and Daisy Mae, and made Sadie Hawkins Day the great national bachelor hunt: (A) Al Capp; (B) William DeBeck; (C) Ham Fisher.

3. Thanks to La Belle France, birthday parties for two of her offspring come today. One is for that powerful statesman who argued against his country's colonialism in Africa, predicted the coming of World War I, and as French Premier in 1919, punished German militarism with the Versailles Treaty: (A) Charles De Gaulle; (B) Georges Clemenceau; (C) Guy Mollet.

4. The other will surprise a petite Parisian screen cutie who is 37 today. Her natural charms created a sensation when first seen by American viewers in that French picture, "And God Created Woman": (A) Brigitte Bardot; (B) Claudine Longet; (C) Denise Darcel.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Never Attempt A Finesse That Is Sure To Be A Loser

As everybody knows, leading toward your partner's king is a type of finesse. If the ace is in favorable position, the king will win a trick; but if the ace is behind the king, your finesse will not succeed. When you have good reason to believe that the ace is in unfavorable position, you have no reason to try the finesse of leading to the king.

WITH ACE

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the ace of hearts, and that was the last sound move he made. At the second trick he led dummy's ace of spades, expecting to draw trumps and give up two diamonds and a club at most.

The bad trump break gave South something to worry about, and he continued with a trump to the king. This put him in position to lead a diamond to dummy's king.

East won with the ace of diamonds and returned a club to the ace. South led another diamond, and East returned another club, forcing out dummy's king. Now declarer was in the dummy for the last time with the diamonds still not set up. He eventually had to give up a club. Down one.

EARLY START

As soon as South sees the dummy he should realize that East must hold the ace of diamonds for the opening bid of one heart. The normal diamond play is not going to work.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, declarer should lead a low diamond from dummy. East wins with the jack and leads a club to the ace. South cashes the king of spades to see how the trumps break. South then leads a diamond just in case West has the ace and decides to play it.

CLUB TO DUMMY

East wins and returns a club to dummy's king. South ruffs a diamond, discovering that the suit breaks favorably. Now he leads a trump to dummy's ace and cashes a good diamond to get rid of a club. West can ruff, but this kills his natural trump trick. South therefore loses only one trump and two diamonds.

Pensioner Wins A $700,000 Pool

MADRID (UPI) — A 70-year-old retired postman living on a pension of less than $57 a month parlayed a 23-cent bet into $700,000 by winning Spain's biggest soccer pool, it was announced Monday.

Rafael Fontan correctly forecast the outcome of 14 matches played in Spain Sunday. The elderly widower went into hiding when newsmen learned of his win.

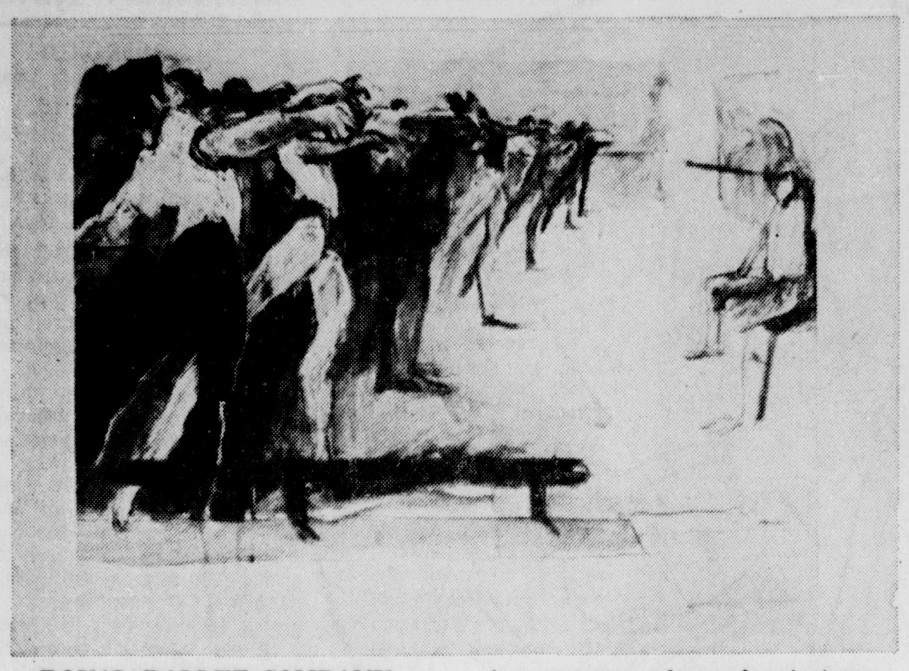
2 Die In Fire At Mobile Home

SANTA ROSA (UPI)—The wife and stepson of a Santa Rosa police dispatcher were killed in a flash fire at their mobile home.

Sonoma County sheriff's investigators said Sunday an explosion in the heating and cooking system caused the fire.

The victims were Mrs. Earl Milliken, 41, and her son, Lance Thomas, 16. Both were found dead Saturday in the kitchen of the mobile home about a mile from Santa Rosa.



ROYAL BALLET COMPANY — Artist Judy Nelson's "quick-study" drawing in oil-crayon of a stage rehearsal is included in her one-man show of paintings, drawings and a mural at the Marin Fellowship of Unitarians, being shown through Oct. 29.

ART REVIEW

Rich Colors Are Central To Judy Nelson's Oil Paintings

By ADA GARFINKEL

The setting at the Marin Fellowship of Unitarians in Terra Linda is an advantage to artist Judy Nelson, whose wide-ranging variety of expression needs intermittent pauses for thoughtful observation and reflection.

In Miss Nelson's emotionally charged oil paintings, color is the message — impasto, discrete and interlocking figures — in brilliant carnelian, ruby, amythest, emerald and pearl, interlaced with rich blues and blacks.

These are not "fashionable" paintings in the "now" styles of "pop," "funk," hard-edge or psychedelic art. They do, however, relate authentically to the underside of the self in keeping with the artist's statement: "I paint because I want to see my imagination."

Years of experience as an illustrator and designer for various public and private industries have endowed her with a facility for "quick studies." Several years ago, when the Royal Ballet Company (with Margot Fonteyn and Rudof Nuryev) was performing in Los Angeles, Judy Nelson was the only artist invited to sketch both rehearsals and performances. A number of Miss Nelson's oil-crayon drawings and a 27-foot mural are dramatic recordings of this experience.

There is an overwhelming fascination for ballet expressed in Miss Nelson's own words: "This is a dance of life . . . the dancers existence is realtive to the nature of space. A dancer's struggle is to become weightless . . . this causes turmoil in the stillness of space and within the form of the dancer . . . the air is charged with change!"

True to her observations, Miss Nelson records this drama in various ways — the contortions of a ballerina at the practice bar; the preoccupied concentration and facial intensity of the company waiting for a cue; in a moment of spread-eagled arrest of a dancer, in an entre-chat position.

Where she had achieved dramatic composition in her oil paintings through such devices as high floor-line perspective and figure cropping, it is in the drawings and in the mural that she has isolated the momentum of performance and psychic interaction of individuals immersed in the process of creating a single symbolic entity — the dance. This is high drama.

Marin Fellowship of Unitarians is at 240 Channing Way, San Rafael. Miss Nelson's exhibit which continues through Oct. 29 may be seen every day from 10 until 5 p.m.

Marin County Fair To Offer Ballet, Puppets And Flamenco

Three civic ballet companies, the Theater Flamenco of San Francisco and the Guckenheimer Sauerkraut Band will be among the diverse entertainment offered at the Marin County Fair which opens Friday.

The fair, which will continue through Monday, Oct. 11, will be held at the fairgrounds adjacent to the Marin County Civic Center and will also feature traditional exhibits of floriculture, horticulture and art.

On Friday, the Oakland Ballet Company will perform "Soiree Musicales," with music by Britten and Rossini, "Chimera," the dream sequence from "Hansel and Gretel," "Quiet City" by Aaron Copeland and the folk ballet, "Carnival."

On Saturday, the Sacramento Civic Ballet will perform "Caprice," with music by Vivaldi, "Songs of a Wayfarer," based on Gustave Mahler's music and "LaRonde," featuring music from Rossini's "Overtures."

The presentation by the Marin Civic Ballet on Sunday will include the premiere of a work, "Shining World," with choreography and costumes by Norbert Vesak and music from Shubert.

All three performances will begin at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building auditorium.

The fair will also feature outdoor entertainment, including a Punch and Judy puppet show by Bert Hansen, displays of magic by Phil Temple and Dick Zimmerman, bands from Terra Linda and San Rafael High School.

Square dancing and folk dancing will be presented and there will be a circus, boat rides and a carnival for the youngsters.

Other features of the 1971 fair, the first to be held at the Civic Center Fairgrounds, will include the winning entries in the first Marin Film Fair competition, to be shown at 11 a.m. and 1, 3 and 5 p.m. daily.

An added attraction will be a National Aeronautical and Space Administration exhibit which will feature a moon rock.

The performance by the Theater Flamenco will be on Monday and will include a repertoire of classical Spanish and Flamenco and regional dances from various provinces in Spain.

First Film In Wildlife Series Set

"British Columbia - Mountains to Sea," a documentary film of a pack trip into the Caribou Mountains of that province will begin the Marin Audubon Society's 11th annual wildlife film series next month.

The documentary which pictures the changing activities of wild creatures in response to the changing seasons, will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 17 in Olney Hall at the College of Marin in Kentfield.

Other films in the series will include: Nov. 14, "Filming in No-Man's Land," which captures animal behavior rarely observed and never before filmed; Jan. 30, 1972, "Mule Deer Country;" Feb. 20, "Treasure of East Africa," and March 26, "Journey in Time," filmed in the Grand Canyon.

Further information on the films can be obtained from Mrs. Thomas S. Price, 7 West Shore Road, Belvedere.

Five Picked To Judge Film Entries

Five judges have been named to select the winning entries in the first Marin Film Fair competition of the Marin County Fair.

The judges include: David Sohn, a screen writer from Evanston, Ill.; Robert Bell of Ross, chairman of the film department at San Francisco State College; David Adams, owner-producer of Pyramid Film Productions in Santa Monica; Peter Monahan of San Anselmo, film maker and teacher at Sir Francis Drake High School, and James Schock, executive news director at KGO-TV in San Francisco.

The judges will select the three winning entries in each of the independent and student categories, and will make a special award for the best entry using "Man and Nature" as its theme.

The winning entries and other films selected by the judges will be shown in the Veterans Memorial Building at 11 a.m. and at 1, 3 and 5 p.m. daily during the fair scheduled for Oct. 8 through Oct. 11 at the Civic Center Fairgrounds.

Oil Kills Trout

WEAVERVILLE, Calif. (UPI) —A 3,000-gallon oil spill from a runaway tank truck has killed an estimated 1,000 rainbow trout, the State Fish and Game Department reported Monday.

Hearing Set On Stinson, Bolinas Plan

The future of Bolinas and Stinson Beach — their population, density and type of development — will be discussed at a public hearing during the second week in November.

Marin County Planning Commissioners yesterday asked County Planning Director Werner Von Gundell to set up a night meeting in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area so that all segments of both communities can be well represented.

The public hearing will determine whether the existing Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan, drafted in 1961, should be repealed, amended or retained as it is.

County Planning Director Von Gundell yesterday pointed out that changes are needed in the 1961 plan because many provisions are outmoded and do not conform with the proposed preliminary countywide plan or the Bolinas Lagoon Plan.

Primary inconsistencies are that the 1961 plan calls for commercial development in Bolinas and Stinson Beach and harbor-commercial at Bolinas Lagoon, whereas the new countywide general plan warns against development along the San Andreas fault and would leave Bolinas lagoon as an ecology reserve.

Commissioner John F. West suggested an evening meeting, somewhere in Bolinas or Stinson Beach.

A half-dozen residents of Bolinas and Stinson Beach said they appreciate a night meeting held in their community because many would be unable to attend a day meeting at the Marin Civic Center.

Gregory Hewlitt of Bolinas, speaking for the Bolinas Future Studies Center, called for immediate restrictions on building on the Bolinas Mesa. He charged that the county is approving septic tank permits for lots 40 by 100, and this will aggravate the drainage and sewage problems.

He and Stephen Matson, a professional planner living in Bolinas, suggested that a community-based planning body be created to work with the county planning staff on future plans for Bolinas and Stinson Beach.

"People like me are willing to put in at least one-half of our time to help develop this plan," said Matson.

Commissioner Margaret B. Azevedo said she welcomes Matson's offer, but stressed that help from a community group would be purely advisory, with no official authority.

Commissioner William P. Lynch warned residents not to be selfishly concerned with their own little community to the point where they would reject cooperation with the rest of the Bay Area on areawide problems such as waste disposal.

Six commissioners voted for the evening public hearing at either Bolinas or Stinson Beach during the second week in November. Commissioner George P. Leonard abstained, explaining he sees no urgent need to change the 1961 Bolinas-Stinson Beach General Plan.

Closing Date For Cotati Election

Voter registration for the Nov. 30 special election for the Cotati School District will close on Oct. 7, according to Eugene D. Williams, Sonoma County registrar of voters.

Voters will elect a replacement for board member Lester Peterson, who resigned to join the Cotati City Council.

Planners To Eye Bigger Lot Sizes

New zoning that would increase the minimum lot size in northwestern Marin from two acres to as much as 20 to 60 acres will be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission on Oct. 11.

The planning commission meeting will start at 9 a.m. on the third floor of the Marin County Civic Center Administration Building.

The rezoning proposal will apply to all properties within the agricultural preserve category, whether they are under agricultural preserve contract or not.

The Oct. 11 hearing will cover only the northwestern one-fifth of the county, including Tomales, Marshall and portions of Chileno Valley. Specifically, the hearing will be on parcels in the Marin County Assessor's books 100, 102, 104 and 106. The area stretches from the Sonoma County line to Tomasini Point and most of Chileno Valley. All owners of land in that area will be notified of the Oct. 11 hearing.

Subsequent hearings will be held for the rest of the county, with similar notification for each property owner who will be affected.

County planner Rowland Darnell said most of the northwestern area is now zoned limited agricultural (A-2), which means a minimum lot of two acres. The county planners hope to replace the limited agricultural zoning with the Agricultural and Conservation Districts (A Districts), with density ranging anywhere from three acres per lot to 60 acres per lot. Much of the northwestern area is proposed for low density of 20 acres or more per lot.

At the same hearing, the county planning commissioners will consider deleting two parcels of land from the agricultural preserve category because they are being or are about to be developed. One is Oceana Marin subdivision north of Dillon's Beach and the other is an area east of Tomales, between the town and Tomales High School.

The rezoning of agricultural preserve areas is a state law requirement. The Williamson Act of 1965, with subsequent amendments, requires all counties to zone all areas in the agricultural preserve category to uses compatible with agriculture.

Sand Quarry Given Conditional Approval

Merle E. Lawson will be allowed to operate a sand quarry on sand dunes south of Dillon Beach for the next five years under a series of conditions imposed yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

On a motion by Margaret B. Azevedo and a second by George P. Leonard, the planning commissioners voted 6 to 1 to allow a quarry on 10 acres of dune area between the town of Dillon Beach and Lawson's Trailer Camp. John F. West, the lone dissenter, said he does not oppose the quarry itself but wanted another two weeks for engineer Irving L. Schwartz to recommend specific conditions on the basis of field inspections.

Among conditions imposed by the commissioners were these:

Excavation only on week days and during daylight hours, the access road must be improved as required by the public works department, no removal of vegetation, and no hauling through the town of Dillon Beach. The public works department can reduce or limit excavation if the quarry causes deterioration of surrounding dunes that contain vegetation.

Another request for a similar sand quarrying permit was withdrawn yesterday. Assistant County Planner Harvey E. Bragdon reported that James Hazen of Marin Landscaping Co. would not seek a use permit for sand removal from the property of Richard Hicks, northeast of Tom's Point on the east side of Tomales Bay.

Marin County Planning Commissioners Also:

REST HOME — Continued until Oct. 11 a request by Harold Nichelini of San Rafael for permission to operate a rest home with 25 beds at 1100 Las Gallinas Avenue, across the street from Bernard Hoffman School, Terra Linda. On a motion by William B. Lynch, the commissioners asked for more information on whether the terrain can be safely used by rest home residents.

LOT SPLIT — Continued until Oct. 11 a lot split request by Herman Weaver on property at the corner of Mountain Lane and Redwood Avenue, Muir Woods Park. Commissioners want to visit the site to check the road access, which Planner E. Ross Parkerson said is narrow and difficult.

SCHOOL — Granted James T. Toliver Jr. a use permit to operate a five-day a week elementary school at 825 Drake Avenue, Village Baptist Church, Marin City. Commissioners imposed several conditions, including the paving and striping of the offstreet parking area within six months.

Workshops On Cancer Are Set At College

Recent developments in cancer research will be discussed in workshops Oct. 16 and 23 at the College of Marin.

The sessions will be co-sponsored by the Sonoma State College extension division and the American Cancer Society. Dr. Kenneth Flynn, professor of health and physical education, will coordinate the programs.

Taking part in panel discussions will be Dr. Robert R. Celli, Dr. Russell R. Klein and Dr. John D. Manwaring, all of San Rafael; Faith Bartlett, Continuity of Care director of Marin General Hospital; Mrs. Robert L. Brown, president of the California division of the society; Dr. Charles E. Keyes of Mill Valley; Mrs. John Horton, public education committee of the Marin County unit; and John Boyle, director, school health and physical education of Sonoma County schools.

One unit of credit is available for the workshops scheduled from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Registration will be made at the first meeting.

Bolinas Candidates Night Is Saturday

A candidates night, featuring brief talks by contenders for seats on the Bolinas Fire Protection and Community Public Utility district boards, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Mesa clubhouse on Elm Road.

The event is sponsored by the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club and will be the group's first meeting since last spring, according to president Alonzo S. Nelson.

IQ Tests Booted In Lagunitas

The Lagunitas School District board last night agreed that IQ tests should not be given to children in primary grades, according to Supt. William E. Johnson.

Johnson said the board's decision was reached after parents and teachers questioned the validity of such aptitude tests and objected to "categorizing" children.

Children in the district are presently given required state achievement tests but not aptitude tests, he said.

In other discussion last night, the board learned that district teachers have set smaller classes and higher teacher salaries as the first two priorities if additional district money becomes available.

(Johnson said that class sizes now range from 25 to 30 pupils.)

The board also discussed requests for more counselling time and more transportation for field trips.

Johnson said that no decisions were made on any of the requests because priorities will not be set until all factions have been heard.

The Lagunitas School District Board also:

TENNIS — Reached an agreement with the San Geronimo Swim and Tennis Club for sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys to use tennis courts during gym classes.

MINIMUM — Approv ed a request by second and third grade teachers to hold minimum day schedules one day a week (probably Friday) so that teachers can have more time for planning a team teaching program.

POSTPONED — Put off to the Oct. 11 meeting a discussion of administrative policies for granting tenure, evaluating and dismissing teachers.

TOWN HALL — Made further plans for a town hall session at 7:30 p.m. Monday in San Geronimo School to hear public ideas for the district goals and objectives report required by the state.

PLAYGROUND — Learned that a group of local residents will help install a sprinkler system at the Lagunitas playground.

Sales Pitch Lands Man In Trouble

A Sonoma County man ended up in jail yesterday, according to sheriff's deputies, as a result of trying to sell stolen goods to the person he took them from.

Kenneth Edwin Carter, 40, of Monte Rio, was arrested by Marin sheriff's deputies and held at Marin County Jail in lieu of $31,250 bail to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on charges of robbery and burglary.

According to an affidavit by Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas, Carter has been identified as the man who burst into the home of Arlene Grossenbacker, 30 Rosebank Avenue, June 14.

Armed with a pistol, the man bound Mrs. Grossenbacker with tape and took $1,300 in cash, as well as jewelry and antique silver.

Several days later Mrs. Grossenbacker got a telephone call from a man who offered to sell her back the antique silver. It was agreed he would leave a piece of the silver in a locker for her to confirm that it was indeed her silver being offered.

According to Thomas, the silver was Mrs. Grossenbacker's and fingerprints on it were Carter's.

Thomas said that Carter has been convicted of burglary in Texas, grand theft in Sonoma County, forgery in Los Angeles County and is currently wanted for auto theft in Los Angeles.

Missing Inmate Is Captured

A San Quentin inmate missing since he failed to return after a 72-hour furlough about 12 days ago was captured yesterday in South San Francisco, suffering from a gunshot wound.

Raymond Labrum, 20, first came to the attention of officers when he was hospitalized in Mountain View for the wound, which he said he received in a fight with three men in East Palo Alto.

San Quentin officials said he escaped from the hospital but was picked up yesterday by police in South San Francisco.

He was due to have been paroled next month.

Auto Is Stolen

Richard W. Baker, 1048 McNear Avenue, Petaluma, told police yesterday that his 1963 Chevrolet was stolen Sunday from his home. It had license OTK 334.

Syphilis Cases Climb In Marin

The state Department of Health released new figures yesterday which showed syphilis cases are increasing at an alarming rate.

In Marin, the story is the "same," according to Dr. Marilyn Hicks, assistant county health officer.

In the first eight months of this year, 2,017 cases of infectious syphilis were reported statewide, compared with 1,636 cases in the same period last year — a jump of nearly 25 per cent.

Figures released by Dr. Hicks counted 56 cases reported in 1970, with 38 of them infectious — that is, in an early stage. For the first nine months of this year, a total of 54 cases already have been reported, with 32 of them infectious.

Dr. Hicks said she planned a meeting next week with Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, director of the county department of health services, to discuss ways to meet the problem. She hoped more time could be devoted to locating contacts of infectious cases.

State officials said the syphilis figures have been rising steadily for five years, with the biggest jump in the last three years. In 1969, there were 1,795 cases; in 1970, 2,348 cases. As many as 3,000 cases are expected to be reported this year.

State officials estimate that no more than 60 per cent of syphilis cases are formally reported, meaning the actual statewide total for 1971 could run as high as 5,000 cases.

Gov. Ronald Reagan recently was asked by the State Task Force on Venereal Disease, which he appointed, to authorize deployment of 27 full-time syphilis control workers in local health departments.

Last Friday, the governor signed a bill authorizing public display of contraceptives for sale, providing the displays include VD educational material. The legislation was sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael.

Kentfield Facing Cut In Teachers Next Year

The Kentfield School District board informally put teachers on notice last night that there may be a reduction in force next year because of a continuing drop in enrollment.

According to Supt. Anthony G. Bacich, student enrollment this year dipped between 35 and 40 children from last year. He said the enrollment figure now stands at 1,320 students.

The drop in number supports a district wide survey taken two years ago which predicted a dwindling number of students, he said.

Most of the loss was felt in the lower grades and appears as if it will continue, he said.

Bacich said he could not give an estimate of the possible number of job slots which will have to be dropped.

The Kentfield School District Board Also:

OUTDOOR EDUCATION — Authorized the expenditure of $1,500 for hiring of two consultants for the district outdoor education program and inservice training of teachers on the ecology of Marin.

ELECTIVES — Heard a report that 16 elective courses are being offered seventh and eighth graders at Adaline E. Kent School. The courses include ham radio, journalism, typing and an African Club for the study of Africa.

TRANSITION CLASS — Authorized the district staff to apply for $13,000 in state funds to support a "transition class" for a mentally retarded student. The program will integrate the student into the district's regular program under special guidance.

HANDICAPPED STUDENTS — Authorized the hiring of a part-time teacher to assist handicapped students in the seventh and eighth grades.

MEETING — Set Oct. 5 at 7:30 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School for a special meeting to review the district's policy handbook.

Educators To Speak Oct. 12

Two educators involved in innovative programs in the Tamalpais High School District will participate in a panel discussion of new options in education at 8 p.m. Oct. 12 at San Rafael High School.

Speaking at the session will be Roger Griffith, founder and director of Tamalpais High School's On Location program and Warren Fairbanks, a staff member of Redwood High School's new school within a school.

The discussion is sponsored by the Marin Young Women's Christian Association.

Special Meeting

Directors of the Bolinas Fire Protection District will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to accept the resignation of Fire Commissioner Harvey Crotts and appoint a new commissioner to fill the vacancy, volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva reported. The meeting will be held in the Bolinas Fire Station on Mesa Road.

Tot Lot Has Park Unit Nod

Preliminary plans for a tiny-tot playground area in Boyle Park in Mill Valley — with nearly 50 per cent of the $6,200 cost to be raised by the Mill Valley Jaycees — was approved last night by the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission.

William D. Devlin, past president of the Jaycees, presented a timetable that sets construction in April and shows preliminary plans for playground equipment similar to the type used in Old Mill Park, according to Megan Nolan, secretary.

The Jaycees tentatively have approved raising approximately $3,000 for the improvements, if the necessary city commissions approve the plan, Mrs. Nolan said. The plans must be submitted to the planning commission and the architectural advisory committee for approval.

A request by the commission last spring for capital improvements in the park was disapproved by voters in a June bond election. However, the commission set aside $3,200 in its budget for minor park improvements.

Devlin's proposal is scaled-down from earlier suggestions to improve the park, Mrs. Nolan said, and would cost about $6,200.

In addition to the money raised by Jaycees, volunteers would help construct the equipment and donate some materials, according to the Jaycees' secretary.

In other business, the commission will study the possibility of creating a lake near the Mill Valley sewer treatment plant using secondary treated sewer water based on a report from the San Francisco Recreation and Park Department which outlines its method of using treated sewer water for such a purpose, Mrs. Nolan said.

Also, a special committee will be formed to study existing horse trails in the city in an effort to prevent the paths from being closed off as has happened in nearby towns, Mrs. Nolan said.

Nov. 1 Trial Is Set For Angela

Errors in editing a story yesterday caused the wrong dates to be printed in yesterday's story about Angela Davis's court appearances.

Miss Davis's trial has been reset for Nov. 1.

She is to return to court next Tuesday for hearing on a motion asking that certain evidence in the case is to be suppressed.

Following that motion, Judge Richard E. Arnason is to consider her request that her trial be moved from Marin to San Francisco.

AQUEDUCT FINANCING

Irate Taxpayers' Paper To Represent Opponents

By MARY LEYDECKER

A kind of an essay writing contest whose theme was "why we oppose the Marin-Sonoma Aqueduct project" has been won by the Irate Taxpayers of Marin County Inc.

At stake was whose arguments against the proposed aqueduct will be sent to voters along with the Nov. 2 ballot when the issue goes to the voters. The Marin Municipal Water District is asking the electorate for permission to join the Sonoma County Water Agency in building an aqueduct to bring Russian River water to Marin.

The district's share of the project has been estimated at $43 million.

A legal notice earlier this month, stating the measure would be on the ballot and asking that arguments be submitted, brought forth responses from groups whose opinions usually don't coincide.

One set of arguments was submitted by the Irate Taxpayers, another by the Leagues of Women Voters of Southern and Central Marin and a third by a coalition including the Sierra Club, Marin Medical Society Environmental Health Committee, Marin Alternative and the Ross Valley Reporter.

Under the law, it was up to County Clerk George H. Gnoss to choose which set of arguments to use, according to Peter C. Meyer, head of the elections department. With Meyer's help, Gnoss decided that the Irate Taxpayers' arguments were the strongest, most complete and easiest to understand.

The Taxpayers' started off by saying that "your property will be taxed up to 32 cents per $100 assessed valuation" and the water rates increased for the project estimated to cost $43 million plus interest over 50 years.

"These facilities will be owned mostly by Sonoma County Water Agency, not Marin," the arguments continued.

Furthermore, the project is based on a "future need entirely unjustified by objective statistical projections of property development, population trends and per capita consumption of water," according to the Taxpayers.

They also charge that the water district has not made sufficient effort to promote conservation of present water supplies, or to find feasible methods of recycling water or to investigate using water runoff from flood control projects.

"The district is proceeding hastily without waiting for a county master plan to be completed," the Taxpayers say. This plan will show how much and where future development will take place and whether increased water supplies will be needed, they claim.

Finally, the Taxpayers say that the project will "create a lake on the reservation of the Dos Rios Indians, leaving them homeless. . ."

The Taxpayers call the project "vague and ambiguous" and say that "costs could greatly exceed the estimates."

The two branches of the League of Women Voters were also concerned about lack of coordination with land use planning agencies and suggested that alternate proposals such as reclamation and desalination had not been fully explored.

The women voters also said that effects upon the Russian and Eel rivers as well as the Marin coastline have not been considered.

The other groups in their joint argument said that population growth in Marin has slowed dramatically and that "Marin Municipal Water District Water consumption was down 6.4 per cent last year."

They charged that Russian River water would be "harder," than Marin's present water supply, and contains human and industrial wastes, pesticides and mercury."

This set of arguments said Marin's participation in the project would total $110 million.

In a legal summing up of the effect of the aqueduct proposal, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney agreed with the opponents that the "sums (given by the water district) are only estimates, not limitations."

Arguments prepared for the voters by the water district say merely that the "aqueduct is needed because the present water consumption exceeds the safe yield of the Marin County watershed area. . . Shortages can occur during periods of subnormal rainfall."

Water district officials claim that there are no adequate reservoir sites in the county and that "Several million dollars can be saved by going into the joint project now."

Wild Horse Residential Area Backed

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended prezoning 113 acres east of Wild Horse Valley for planned community and limited agricultural use with one-acre lots.

The area is primarily rolling, tree covered hillsides at the west end of Indian Valley and the one-acre zoning established by Marin County reflects the rural character and low level of development, the staff reported.

Commissioners recommended that 43.77 acres, where estates are planned, be prezoned planned community and the remaining one acre residential.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

MENDOCINO GARDENS — Approved precise development plans by Norman T. Gilroy for 32 single-family homes on 8.1 acres on both sides of Mendocino Lane, west of Eucalyptus Avenue.

REZONING — Recommended rezoning of four parcels on the north side of Center Road between Crescent Lane and Lu Sutton School from limited agricultural to planned residential as requested by North Marin investors.

REFINISHING — Granted John Revelle a permit to operate a furniture refinishing business at 4 Front Street.

TACO BELL — Denied an application by Taco Bell to operate a restaurant on the west side of Highway 101, between Olive and Vallejo avenues.

ADJOURNMENT — Adjourned until 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House for a special meeting on a proposed moratoriumon townhouse and apartment construction until the city's master plan is revised.

Beach Nudes, Nudes-Watchers Feel The Pinch Of The Law

Beginning Oct. 8, nude sunbathing will be prohibited at Little Beach in Muir Beach because it will come under county jurisdiction, with county ordinances and regulations in effect.

In recent years the privately-owned beach, also known as Bello Beach, has been a haven for nudes and those who come to watch the nudes, according to Bruce E. Harlow, chairman of the Muir Beach Community Services District board.

In the past few months, he said, hordes of people have swarmed to the small beach, which has no trash or restroom facilities.

"At times there have been as many as 400 persons on the little beach and only about 65 on the much larger state beach nearby," Harlow said.

Harlow said the combination of crowds and lack of sanitary facilities has created serious health problems in the area.

"The visitors have used surrounding private property as a bathroom," he said.

As a result, the community services district board earlier this month decided to lease the small beach from its owners, a group of residents, for one year for $1. Eventually, the services district hopes, the state will take over operation of the area as part of the state park, Harlow said.

Since the services district is an arm of county government, the beach will automatically come under county regulation next week. One county ordinance prohibits nudity and will be enforced on the beach. Violators can be prosecuted and fined up to $500 and/or imprisoned up to six months if convicted.

To prepare people for the change, Harlow said signs have been erected around the beach and leaflets are being passed out to visitors.

He emphasized that the closure had nothing to do with moral objections to nudity.

The services district board will urge county officials to set aside a beach area somewhere in the county which could be used for nude sunbathing, Harlow added.

Bolinas Woman In Serious Condition

Alice Silva of Bolinas, wife of Bolinas volunteer fire chief Jose A. Silva, was reported in serious condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Mrs. Silva, who has undergone three operations in the last month to repair arteries in her legs and abdomen, may have to undergo additional surgery later this week, her husband said.

Ballet Company Slates Concert

The San Francisco Ballet will present a "Caravan Concert," including full-dress ballets from the group's current repertoire, at 8 p.m. Saturday in the College of Marin's Fine Arts Theater in Kentfield.

The company, the oldest resident classical ballet company in the United States, will bring to the program a full corps of dancers, technicians and costumes.

Tickets for the single performance may be obtained in Room 137 at the college and will be available at the theater box office from 7 p.m. Saturday.

Auto Is Looted

Henry J. Mozzucatelli, 144 Horn Avenue, Petaluma, told police that a rifle and scope valued at $250 were stolen from his car yesterday while parked at Wilson and East D streets.

NEW FROM SULLIVAN!
A PRICELESS OPPORTUNITY FOR CHILDREN AGES 3-6
The Sullivan Early Achievement Program Costs Less Than a Babysitter!

READING:
At the end of the program children not only know colors and direction, but they'll know straight lines, curved lines, circles and squares, the alphabet, the five short vowel sounds and the common sounds of the consonants. Your child will have mastered the understanding and spelling of 126 two and three letter words.

MATHEMATICS:
At the end of the Math program children will have learned to recognize numbers zero to nine and write the numeral corresponding to the number, and to count any number of objects from one to nine. They will also know how to add and subtract numbers whose sum is not greater than nine. They will have a solid understanding of the basic concepts needed to work with numbers.

The Sullivan Early Achievement Program consists of 10 week sessions. Each child attends three 80 minute classes a week. Each group is limited to ten students. This small size enables teachers to give the children lots of individual attention. The cost of a 10 week session is $60.00.

The Sullivan Early Achievement Program will start October 4th. Please dial R-E-A-D-I-N-G for further information.

Please sign up early, enrollments are limited.

If for any reason you are not satisfied with the progress of your child your money will be refunded.

HOW TO BE SURE YOUR HOUSE SITS INSTEAD OF SELLS

You can put up a sign and wait for a prospect. Or advertise, and wait for the phone to ring. Both are guaranteed to get you more "lookers" than buyers.

Save time. See us first. We're Realtors; experts who know how to price your home, promote your home, and bring you real prospects. Professionals who are pledged to a strict code of ethics, and work in your best interests. So you can relax, knowing you're being taken care of. Professionally.

WHAT A REALTOR CAN DO FOR YOU

2 Big Questions . . . For New Car Buyers

1. Do you want the best possible deal on your new car? . . . 2. Do you want convenient, reliable, local service?

Why choke yourself with added costs when you buy across the bay? In MARIN, you're in the driver's seat. Marin dealers' lower overhead shows right in the price. Lower sales tax too! And for servicing your car there's nothing like local convenience! Your best deal is right here with Marin dealers . . .

Yes, of course . . . You do!!

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE
No. 61359

Superior Court, State of California County of Marin

Application of EDWARD SCHWARZ and ANNA MAE SCHWARZ for Change of Name.

WHEREAS EDWARD SCHWARZ and ANNA MAE SCHWARZ, petitioners, have filed a petition with the clerk of this court for an order changing petitioners' names from EDWARD SCHWARZ to THOMAS BARRETT and from ANNA MAE SCHWARZ to ANNA MAE BARRETT, respectively.

IT IS ORDERED that all persons interested in the above-entitled matter appear before this court at 9:00 A.M., on Nov. 4, 1971, in the courtroom of Department No. 4, at the courthouse at Marin Civic Center and Hall of Justice, San Rafael, California, County of Marin, and show cause, if any, why the petition for change of name should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this order to show cause be published in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed in the County of Marin, California, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the date set for the hearing on the petition.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Diseases Kill More In A Day Than Pollution Does In A Year

Never before in our history have we been fighting for so many projects. At one time, controversies were limited to religion, politics and simple matters, such as the need for a smallpox vaccine. Nowadays we are confronted with all types of pollution, insecticides, herbicides, chemical fertilizers, disposal of solid wastes, noise, preservation of our natural resources, defective autos, taxes, war, consumer goods, narcotics, urban decay, birth control, promiscuity, overpopulation etc.

PERHAPS WE should blame the mess of our affluent society. Our problems are mounting faster than are man's solutions for them. Everyone wants to get into the act, but there are so many things going on that most of us are getting frustrated. All too often the problems are overexaggereated. To add to the confusion, the government takes a paternalistic attitude and insists that we cannot think for ourselves and need to be protected.

These projects should be considered in their true perspective, In one day, heart disease, high blood pressure, stroke, cancer, accidents and infections disable and kill more people than all pollutants, food additives and guns, etc. kill in a year. Our real problems need our attention.

I, FOR ONE, am getting tired of this constant uphill struggle to correct things without losing votes or stepping on the toes of vested interest groups. Before the term ecology became a household word, many people found solace in returning to nature. They were the hippies of ther day. Two centuries ago, Rousseau idealized the life of primitive man in his rural setting. Leo Tolstoy dedicated much of his life to building up the peasant as having an ideal existence. Life close to the soil was the good life.

THERE IS PLENTY of open space in America. It is unfortunate that more people do not migrate to the country, especially from their ghetto existence. James Meredith may have the right idea. He would rather live in a shack in the open country or beautiful South than swelter in a broken down tenement.

CORTISONE IN ASTHMA

C.E.R. writes: Is cortisone prescribed in bronchial asthma?

REPLY

Yes, preferably to control acute attacks. Physicians hesitate to recommend steroids in chronic asthma because dangerous side reactions may occur with continued usage. Our leaflet on bronchial asthma can be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

EDEMA OF LEGS

Mrs. T.H. writes: Is there any way to eliminate excess water from the tissues of the legs and feet except by medicine?

REPLY

A low salt diet may be of some help, but best results are obtained with drugs. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on edema of the legs and feet.

SMOKING AND VEINS

Mrs. R.G. writes: Does smoking have any ill effects on varicose veins?

REPLY

No, not even in those who inhale deeply.

Bike Rider Is Victor In Race

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Tom Standing, carrying the hopes of the city's bicycle lovers, pedaled across town in 19 minutes, nine seconds Monday, easily beating a man on a streetcar and another man in a private auto.

Standing, riding a 1969 blue two-wheeler, was declared the winner of the first annual commuter race, held to publicize bicycle week.

David Mogilefsky, riding a city-run streetcar, was timed in 31 minutes 20 seconds. Bob Safford, driving his own car through city traffic, was third, 38 seconds behind Mogilefsky.

Japan Puts Third Probe Into Orbit

UCHINOURA, Japan (UPI)— Japan launched its third satellite into earth orbit today.

Space scientists from Tokyo University fired a 138.6-pound package of scientific instruments into space aboard a Japanese-built MU-4S rocket and it went into orbit about one hour later.

CHANNEL CHUCKLES

"Next up—a bit of comedy relief as we take a look at teachers' salaries."

Opera News Editor Sets Ross Talk

Speight Jenkins Jr., of New York, editor of "Opera News" magazine, will present the second in this season's series of opera previews sponsored by Marin Opera Action Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the barn at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross. He will discuss Wagner's "Die Meistersinger."

Jenkins, 39, is a graduate of the University of Texas and holds a law degree from Columbia University and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He has been with "Opera News" since 1967. His writings on opera have appeared in the opera programs of the San Francisco and Metropolitan opera companies and on record jackets of RCA Victor opera recordings. He has also written the Libretto of "Das Rheingold."

Mrs. Julio Davila is Marin Action chairman. Ticket information may be obtained from Mrs. W. R. Hodgson of San Rafael. Refreshments are served, and records, libretti and tickets are available at the preview.

Moroccan scenes had a special attraction for Sir Winston Churchill as a painter.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Unusual on television tonight:

Aqueduct Financing Bill Becomes Law

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation empowering Marin Municipal Water District to join the Sonoma County Water Agency in building a new aqueduct, subject to voter approval, has been signed into law by the governor.

The district has gone ahead with plans for submitting the issue to the voters on Nov. 2, expecting the measure to become law in time. As an urgency measure, it became effective immediately upon signature by the governor.

The bill, AB 2423, was introduced by Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, after Marin legislators refused to handle the controversial proposal.

Water district financial consultants have recommended the district finance its share of the aqueduct with water rates and property taxes instead of from more costly revenue bonds. The district's share of the project is $43 million.

Films Scheduled For Senior Citizens

The Novato Branch Library will open a series of films for senior citizens starting next Tuesday at the library meeting room, according to Martha Van Etten, branch librarian.

Films will be shown every Tuesday at the same time, Mrs. Van Etten said.

Behr's VD Bill Signed By Reagan

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation allowing the display of contraceptives in pharmacies has been signed into law by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The measure, SB 650 by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, provided that such displays must be accompanied by educational material on venereal disease prevention.

Behr said that venereal disease "is no longer considered a mysterious disease infecting only the depraved, but a common communicable illness which can be eradicated through knowledge and use of protective measures, such as prophylactics."

BURNING BAN IN SONOMA STARTS FRIDAY

Outdoor burning will become illegal in Southern Sonoma on Friday.

Petlauma, Rohnert Park, Cotati and Santa Rosa residents will no longer be permitted to burn household rubbish, garden trimmings in the open or in backyard incinerators under regulations of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Backyard barbecues, recreational bonfires and hearth fires within the home will not be affected by the ban. District controls on emissions from factories, refineries, commercial incinerators hospitals and schools will also go into effect Friday.

Proposal On Bedroom Tax Revived

A year-old proposal for a "bedroom" tax was revived last night by the Tiburon City Council. (Another Tiburon City Council story, page 1.)

The revival didn't get very far, however, as three members of the council who were present continued discussion of the proposal until Oct. 12 so that two absent councilmen could participate.

The proposal, which the city calls a property development tax ordinance, calls for levying a $125 fee for single-family residences constructed in the city, $100 per unit for multiple residential unit developments and 1.5 cents per square-foot for commercial construction.

Councilman Anne L. Ellinwood — who with Albert H. Sennett and Mayor Denis T. Rice agreed to continued discussion of the proposal —said the philosophy behind it was that new residents coming into the community bring with them a need for services which is not compensated for by their initial property tax payments.

But she said she thought the proposed fees might be too high.

Rice disagreed, saying the proposed Tiburon figures were lower than a similar tax in Newport Beach, Orange County.

(Similar taxes have been adopted by Novato and San Rafael. San Rafael's is a $30 fee for each bedroom in new residential units and Novato's is a $75 tax on the first bedroom and $15 for each additional bedroom.)

Rice said he didn't think the proposed Tiburon fees were too high in light of what he said was a $40,000 construction cost for the average home in Tiburon.

Miss Ellinwood also expressed concern that the low cost Hilarita housing project would have to pay the tax, but Rice directed City Atty. Robert I. Conn to find a way to exclude the project.

The proposed ordinance was first submitted to the council in August 1970, but was tabled last October to await the results of a law suit by the Associated Home Builders of the Greater East Bay against the city of Newark which adopted a similar tax.

Tiburon City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer reported to the council last night that the courts had ruled the tax was fully authorized by state law, was not preempted by a statute limiting fees for building permits and did not discriminate unreasonably in taxing residential construction at a higher rate than commercial construction.

Horse Lovers Pan Tiburon Proposal

A move to legalize keeping horses in Tiburon ran into opposition last night from horse lovers who found the proposal "repressive."

The unlikely opposition arose as a result of standards and regulations the ordinance would set for keeping horses, which has been illegal — a fact which surprised Tiburon horse owners last night — since adoption of the city's zoning ordinance in 1967.

The proposed ordinance would set minimum corral sizes and distances from neighboring residences and streets and establish a license fee.

Mayor Denis T. Rice said the idea for a horse ordinance was first discussed in May 1969, but the council last night referred the proposal to the city's planning commission for further study after horse owners said they had not been consulted in its preparation.

The battle against council action on the ordinance was led by 18-year-old Janet Figari of 40 Delmar Drive, who said that horseback riders in Tiburon are a minority and that most of them are girls and juveniles.

"I guess we're really the absolute bottom of the totem pole," she said, as she urged the council not to "sit on us too hard."

In a related action, the council asked the city's parks and recreation commission to determine that, if any, rules and regulations are needed for bicycle and horse paths through Tiburon.

Commissioner F. G. Knight said he would "agendize" the council's request for the commission's next meeting.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ZONING — Rezoned five lots in the Golden View Heights subdivision from two-family residential to two-family residential cluster zoning for a proposed 10-unit development in two clusters, one of four units and the other of six.

BIKE PATH — Heard parks and recreation commissioner Donald S. Tayer report that dedication ceremonies for the Richardson Bay bike path would be at 11 a.m. Oct. 9 near Blackie's Pasture, and directed city staff to take "reasonable" action on safety precautions suggested by Councilman Anne L. Ellingwood to remove what she called a "terrible potential for tragedy" on the bike path.

PARKING — Extended passenger loading zone provisions and limited parking regulations to Sundays and holidays and established passenger loading zones on Tiburon Boulevard for ferry commuters and on Juanita Lane for taxis.

UTILITIES — Directed City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to continue an investigation of costs and financing plans for undergrounding utilities in residential areas and to proceed with plans for a postcard survey of residents of the Little Reed area to determine whether they would pay for undergrounding in their area.

CONSULTANT — Agreed to hire the San Francisco firm of Williams and Mocine for $16,090 to prepare an open space element for the city's general plan.

PEACE — Endorsed a Tiburon-Belvedere "Join Hands for Peace" walk Oct. 13 on the Richardson Bay path as a public expression against the war in Southeast Asia.

RUBBISH — Rejected a proposal for a weed and rubbish abatement ordinance, but directed Balmer to see if existing ordinances could be used for removal of rubbish, including abandoned vehicles.

PARKING — Renewed a temporary use permit for a parking lot operated by Northwestern Pacific Railroad at Paradise Drive and Main Street.

ENGINEER — Expressed appreciation to Ray W. Foreaker Jr., who served as city engineer on a consulting basis and who has resigned to become county public works director.

MEETING — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 12.

Solutions Are Sought To Erase Urban Decay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A noisy and abrasive city breeds noisy and abrasive people," Seattle's Mayor Wes Uhlman told a federal hearing yesterday.

Uhlman made his observation while noting that such people are "more likely to turn on each other."

The mayor was speaking at a three-day hearing sponsored by the Environmental Protection Agency's office of noise and abatement control.

Laboratory rats can be driven mad by noise, he said. "They lose their health and eventually turn on each other."

"For us, the quiet message should be clear."

Asking how it could be told that cities are dying, the mayor said: "Just listen, you can hear it...urban death has a large rattle to it."

An aide of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., testified that the senator will introduce legislation next week transferring to the environmental agency all federal authority to control noise and fuel emissions from jet aircraft. This authority now is spread among "industry-oriented" federal agencies, he said.

The senator's legislation also will require installation of soundproofing in the engines of all older jet airliners. The cost, estimated by Cranston at $1 billion, would be financed through higher air fares.

He pointed to a prediction by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration that street noise is becoming so intense that "by 1985 people won't be able to hear each other talk."

Another speaker was Dianne Feinstein, president of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors.

Discussing legislation she is proposing, she said this city needs "comprehensive noise standards for building codes."

"Far too many of the more recently built dwellings in the city suffer from inadequate sound proofing and noisy heating, air conditioning and plumbing."

"We have been far too slow in recognizing the symptoms of urban decay and diagnosing them: finding cures and effecting them," Mrs. Feinstein said.

Sausalito Art Center Offers Varied Classes

A variety of unusual classes, from classical Javanese dance to cartoon animation, will be offered this fall at the Sausalito Art Center, 630 Nevada Street.

Evening courses now open include: batik making, jewelry, animation, drawing, composition and editing of animated films, guitar, multi-media art exploration — which combines graphics, theater, film, slides, music dance and sculpture — picture framing and "the thirsty ear and separate eye," a class featuring monoprint, collage and sculpture.

Afternoon classes include Javanese dance and Scottish Highlands dance.

Further information may be obtained by calling the art center.

Death Is 25th

The Independent-Journal erred Saturday in reporting the death of Serfio Serda as the 27th traffic fatality in Marin this year. Serda's death was the 25th fatality, up two from this date in 1970.

Prep Gridders Get Ready For League Inaugurals

By RON LENT

Six of the seven Marin County Athletic League football teams begin league play this weekend with only San Rafael High School deviating.

The Friday slate: San Rafael visits Homestead of Sunnyvale while Tamalpais High plays Terra Linda at San Rafael High, both 8 p.m. affairs.

On Saturday, Drake travels to Redwood at Larkspur, 1 p.m. and Novato faces San Marin of Novato's field, 1:30 p.m. In other prep games, Marin Catholic invades Cardinal Newman of Santa Rosa, 8:15 p.m.

Defending champion Terra Linda High School stresses execution and strength, not razzle-dazzle. The junior-laden Trojans bring a 2-0 mark against Tamalpais, 0-2. Coach Don Lucas's 1971 edition displays a balanced attack, mixing the running of backs Steve Sabel, Sean Casey and Doug Long with the passing of quarterback Kevin Donohoe.

The strong-armed Napa transfer throws primarily to John Buckley and Steve Miles, two long distance artists.

Mike Davlin's young Indians are eager to upset MCAL title aspirants, starting with the reigning king. Tamalpais shows zip in the backfield with speed merchants Alvin Price and Cliff Hall, plus a three-man quarterback tandem.

Mark Dawson, Pat Locey and Brad Bann shared field general responsibilities against Skyline of Oakland last week and are likely to do so again.

In addition, two valuable cogs may return to the lineup for the MCAL, 1971 inaugural. The pair are all-league middle guard Herb Wade, out a week with a kidney infection, and halfback Tom Collins, a shoulder separation victim.

Redwood High School mentor Phil Roark stressed "our great respect for Drake. Drake's offense has been sleeping, and we're just afraid it will wake up against us."

While the Drake attack "slumbers," someone might keep an eye on the four-deep Redwood running show starring the Edralin brothers, Bill and Daryl, Jay Lehman and Mark Asiano, an underrated performer, Roark claimed.

"Asiano doesn't look fast," Roark agreed, "but he breaks a lot of tackles and has a deceiving style. He gets the ball down there for us."

When Roark contemplates ways of getting his team "up" against the struggling Pirates, Novato Hornet grid chief Al Scott won't have such worries. His Novatans face arch-rival San Marin on the Hornet's field with the Mustangs the "home" team.

"It would just make their season if they beat us, because, face it, they are not going to win many games. So they're going to put it all on the line against us."

To circumvent a Mustang shocker, Scott is working feverishly on triggering his explosive offense. All-league quarterback Marty Moroski will bark cadence, throw a bushel of passes, and sometimes handoff to elusive halfback Leo Magers.

Mustang leader Bob Martin counters with sophomore quarterback Hoza Wright, a bomb-tossing southpaw with great potential. The strong field general generally throws to standout flankerback Marty Larson, end Bob Briot or fullback Fred Doar.

The defense has been suspect; but, reports indicated, that it is fast gaining respectability and has tightened significantly against the long pass, a weapon Moroski intently uses.

The pride and championship stakes involved force both coaches to approach the tussle grimly.

San Rafael completes its "warmup" schedule Saturday against a burly Homestead group which beat Mission San Jose 13-0 Friday evening.

The hosts, 8-1 last season, lost only to Los Altos High School in a championship playoff, and are seeking revenge. But before

Giants' Showdown In San Diego

Perry To Hurl Tonight

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants packed the champagne when the went on the road last week. They hope to finally open it here.

The Giants, whose last pennant came when they captured the National League title in 1962, begin a crucial three-game series against the San Diego Padres tonight.

Leading the National League West since April 12, the Giants hold a one-game edge over the Los Angeles Dodgers with three contests remaining for each club.

The Dodgers are at home against the Houston Astros for their final series.

"We've got to try to win them all," Giant outfielder Bobby Bonds said. "We can't depend on the Dodgers to lose. We've got to do our own thing."

San Francisco has won 11 of 15 meetings with San Diego this season and manager Charlie Fox has his two aces — Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry — set to start.

Perry, 15-12, will go in the series opener against the Padres' Ed Acosta, 3-2.

"We're in good shape with Perry and Marichal ready to pitch," Fox said.

In the second game Wednesday night, Fox will start John Cumberland, 9-6, against Clay Kirby, 14-13. Marichal, 17-11, is listed as the Giant pitcher Thursday night while the Padres go with Dave Roberts, 14-16.

The Giants have been threatening to break open the divisional race all season but the Dodgers have kept coming back.

San Francisco took a three-game lead into a three-game series at Cincinnati last weekend but lost two of three while Los Angeles swept three straight at Atlanta.

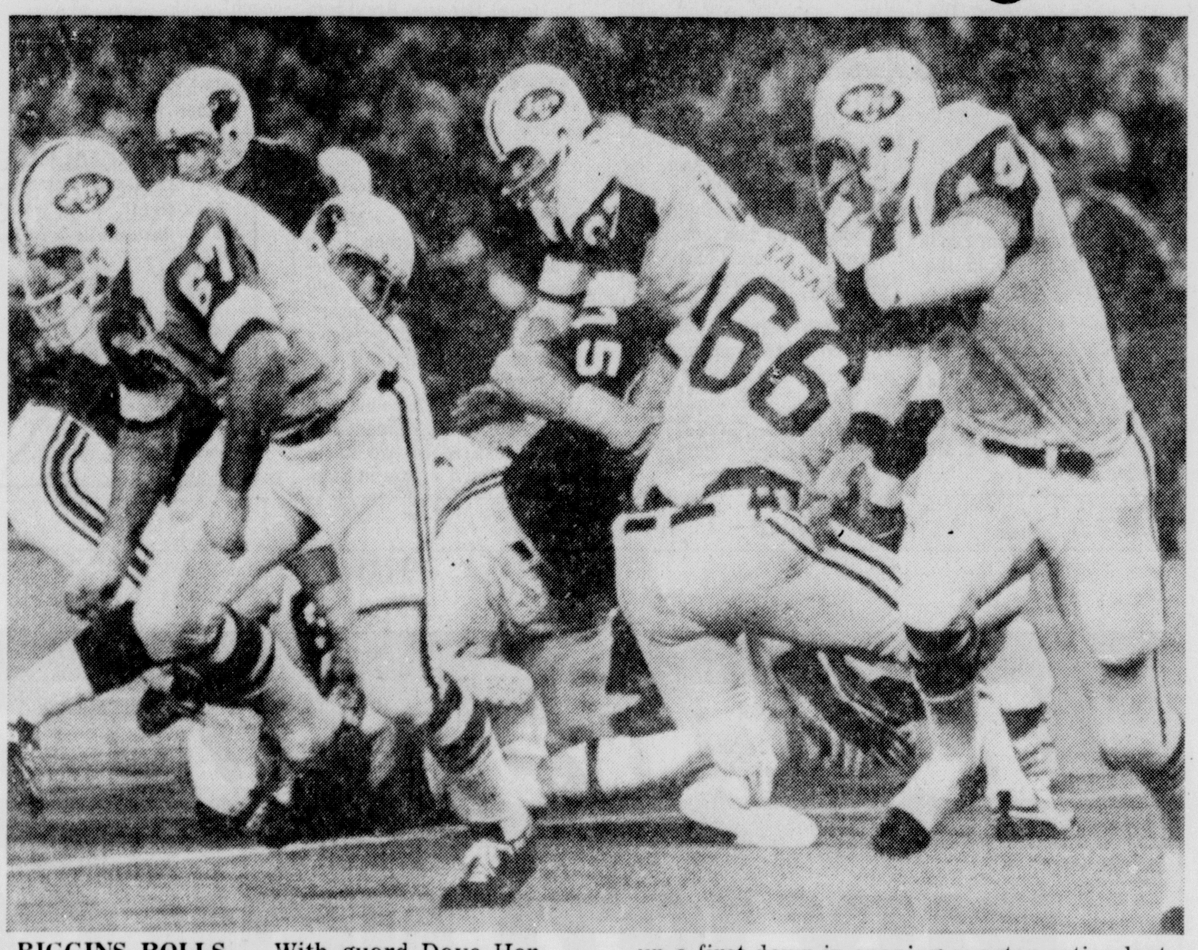
But the Giants overcame a 2-0 Cincinnati lead to post a 12-5 win Sunday as Fox was able to get Willie McCovey, Dick Dietz and Willie Mays into the starting lineup.

In that vportant come-from-behind win, the Giants ripped 17 hits off six Cincinnati pitchers.

"We swung the bat Sunday," Fox remarked. "It was the first time in several weeks that we were able to field our regular lineup."

After the series, Cincinnati manager Sparky Anderson said:

"San Francisco has a big edge. There's no doubt about it. The Dodgers have to be thinking sweep and even then they need help from the Padres."



RIGGINS ROLLS — With guard Dave Herman (67) leading the way, New York Jet fullback John Riggins circled end and picked up a first down in opening quarter action last night against the host St. Louis Cardinals. St. Louis won 17-10. (UPI Telephoto)

Laver Takes Opener

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rod Laver, still probably the world's greatest tennis player, is back in action in the Pacific Coast International Championships where he had to go three sets to win his opening match.

Nearly 2,000 fans sat in on the noon match Monday as he defeated Frew McMillen of South Africa, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

Laver said he was satisfied with his game with the exception of his serve, but also had good words for his opponent.

Laver added that he was nervous, probably due to the layoff.

"The rest helped me physically," the red haired star said, "but it dulled my mental alertness."

Most of the matches in the PCI are being played at Berkeley, where Andrew Pattison of New Zealand blasted local favorite Jim McManus in shocking 6-0, 6-0 fashion while California gained some revenge when Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette knocked out Aussie Fred Stolle 6-2, 6-4.

The players are competing for $50,000 in prizes.

Mens Singles First Round: Rod Laver d. Fred McMillen 6-2, 5-7,6-3; Haroon Rahim d. Patrico Cornejo 6-2, 6-2; Roy Emerson d. Ray Keldie 6-4, 6-2; Jim Osborne d. Terry Ryan 7-6, 6-2; Ray Moore d. John Alexander 6-4, 6-3; Jeff Borowiak d. Fred Stolle 6-2, 6-4; Andrew Pattison d. Jim McManus 6-0, 6-0; Charles Pasarell d. Steve Krulevitz 6-4, 6-4; Cliff Drysdale d. Philip Dent 6-1, 6-2; Ross Case d. Ony Parun 3-6, 7-6, 6-3; Ken Rosewall d. Tom Edlefsen, 6-1, 6-2.

Mens Singles Qualifying Fourth Round: Larry Dodge d. Peter Campbell 6-2, 1-6, 6-4; Rick Fisher d. Barry Axtell 6-2, 6-3; Steve Cornell d. Mark Shires 4-6, 6-2, 6-3; Steve Krulevitz d. Mens Doubles Qualifying Third Round: Bleckinger-Saputo d. Berkman-Dodge 6-4, 6-1; Anderson-Leaver d. Moody-Shires 7-6, 6-3; Mann-Margot d. Hager-Smith 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; Skinner-Wiman d. Litrich-Plascowe 6-3, 4-6, 6-2; R. Ricksen d. Kamakana-Shephard default.

Net Group Withholds Prize Money

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The management committee of the Pacific Southwest Open tennis tournament met Monday and decided to withhold $6,500 in prize money to women's finalists Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals.

Mrs. King and Miss Casals walked off the court Sunday after Acting Referee John Coman refused to replace a woman linesman.

In a prepared statement, the management committee said:

"In view of the double default of Billie Jean King and Rosemary Casals...the committee of management has decided to withhold the prize money for the top two places and has entered an official protest with the disciplinary committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association."

Jack Kramer, the Pacific Southwest tournament director, announced the decision.

"You can't walk off just because you can't have your own way," he said. "We're sorry to have to do what we did but maybe our decision will mean some firmer legislation just as the other sports have."

SAYS 49ER:

Watch Out For Atlanta

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Displaying the confidence the 1971 San Francisco 49ers seem to abound with, offensive tackle Cas Banaszek told a gathering of 49er boosters the Atlanta Falcons, not the Los Angeles Rams, are the real threats to S.F. in their division.

"We'll be ready for them in December," the 249-pound lineman told the Marin County chapter, 49er Goal Rushers, meeting yesterday at the Holiday Inn, San Rafael.

"Atlanta has one of the finest defenses in the NFL and they just might win 10 games this year," he said. Then he added: "But they won't win 13. We will."

Atlanta defeated the Niners in the season opener, Sept. 19, by 20-17, and then tied the Rams Sunday, 20-20, to take the lead in the NFL's Western Division. The 49ers, meanwhile, whipped the New Orleans Saints 38-20 Sunday to remain on the heels of Atlanta. The Falcons will be taking on the 49ers Dec. 12 at Candlestick Park. By then, that just might be a biggie.

Banaszek, one of the "Protectors" who blocked manfully for quarterback John Brodie last year to help set a NFL record by allowing him to get sacked only eight times, told the luncheon goers the 49ers are going to be more of an intimidating team this year, a more physical team, as demonstrated by some of the rough play in Sunday's New Orleans game.

"In the past, teams have tried to intimidate us with rough play. It's not going to work any more," he said.

In regard to the Saints' rookie quarterback, Archie Manning, he predicted Archie was going to change his style.

"A quarterback can be a rollout or running quarterback in college ball but it just can't be done in pro ball where the defensive linemen are so big," he said. "Can you imagine getting hit quite a few times by a Charlie Kreuger? I think he'll eventually change into a drop-back quarterback."

Banaszek, fourth year pro out of Northwester, said the 49er coaching staff was very pleased with the newly developed running attack which netted 194 yards against the Saints.

He had praise for new 49er offensive line coach Dick Stanfel who has made line changes to aid the team's rushing attack. (Stanfel, by the way, coached four years for the Philadelphia Eagles, the 49ers foes next Sunday.)

"He really knows what he's talking about out there, because he was a great lineman himself. And if he had his way, we'd run every play. As it is, you'll be seeing us run more this year."

And the way new addition Vic Washington is running, it's going to be an exciting running game. He's the first real breakaway running threat the 49ers have had in years.

In answering questions from the Goal Rushers, Banaszek said all teams will be double and triple covering the talented Gene Washington. But because of this there'll be more passing to the tight ends. "But don't worry, Gene will be getting his catches."

When asked to name the toughest defensive ends he had to face, Banaszek singled out Rick Jackson of the Denver Broncos ("the most aggressive, meanest, dirtiest end in football") and Minnesota's Carl Eller ("strongest").

Asked to name the 49ers' weak points this year it took some thinking by Banaszek. Apparently it would have been much easier to name the strong points.

"I would have to say depth in the defensive secondary."

Another question came from the audience concerning the cut of defensive tackle Alex Karras by the Detroit Lions.

"A lot of us were surprised," he said. "But it made Woody Peoples (49er guard who played opposite Karras) the happiest man in the world."

Hopeful Giants Announce World Series Ticket Sale

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— The San Francisco Giants will conduct the sale of world series tickets through the mail only with the following requirements for all orders strictly enforced.

All orders must be sent to:
Giants World Series
P.O. Box 1971
San Francisco, Calif. 94101

No postmarks prior to Tuesday Sept. 28, will be honored. Payment must be by either money order or cashier's check. Name and return address must be in the upper left hand corner of the envelope.

Reserve seat tickets only will be sold. There will be a limit of two sets per order.

Each reserve set is $31.50 for a set which is one ticket to each of the three World Series games at Candlestick Park, Oct. 12, 13 and 14. One dollar must be added to the cost for handling and mailing. If ordering one ticket, the amount enclosed would be $32.50. If ordering two tickets, the amount should be $64.00.

All orders which must be returned because of the limited number of tickets available will be stamped refused and returned unopened.

All orders which do not meet the requirements will be automatically returned.

Cardinals Hold Off N.Y. Jets

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Pete Beathard started at quarterback for the St. Louis Cardinals in Monday night's 17-10 win because Coach Bob Hollway thought "it was just the thing to do at the time."

Beathard has been battling with Jim Hart for the Cardinals' starting quarterback job, and Hart, starting the season opener a week ago, was booed unmercifully at Busch Stadium.

"Jim's ankle bothered him all week but he could have played," Hollway said. "I made the decision on Beathard just before the game."

Beathard, now in his second year with the Cardinals and making his first regular-season start, hit 11 of 23 passes for 222 yards as the Cardinals scored 17 points in the first half, and the St. Louis defense played to the point of exhaustion in the second half in holding the New York Jets.

Beathard, upholding his boss' claim that he was picked to start just a few minutes before game time, said, "This way of doing it definitely makes you very anxious. I threw poorly in the pregame warmup, so apparently he didn't make his decision on that basis."

Cid Edwards scored both of the Cardinal touchdowns on one-yard plunges, "the kind," he says, "you ought to make all the time."

But the Jets' inability to accomplish the same feat was the beginning of the end for their offense in the game and fired up the Cardinal defense. Trailing 17-7 in the third quarter, the Jets moved the ball to the St. Louis 1-yard line and sent John Riggins over center for the touchdown attempt. But the New York line, rather than the St. Louis line, gave way on the scrimmage, and, as Riggins hurtled over the linemen, Larry Wilson and Jamie Rivers clobbered him in the air.

George Nock scored the only New York touchdown in the second quarter on a 3-yard run, and Bobby Howfield added a 25-yard field goal for their only other score. Jim Bakken kicked a 19-yard field goal for St. Louis.

No Inside Info Told — Biletnikoff

SANTA ROSA (UPI)——Oakland Raider wide receiver Fred Biletnikoff is scoffing at a San Diego paper's story that Dave Grayson tipped him off on how to beat Charger cornerback Bob Howard during the Raiders 34-0 triumph.

"It makes me laugh," said Biletnikoff Monday. "If David had told me something, I sure wouldn't have mouthed off about it. That writer makes me out to be pretty ignorant."

Grayson was also emphatic in his denial.

The two men, long-time friends from the Raider days, got together with some other Raiders socially before the game.

Biletnikoff, who caught five for 93 yards and two touchdowns, said it was Eldridge Dickey who gave him the best advice after a disappointing game in the opener.

"Eldridge told me I seemed to be catching the ball and just stepping out of bounds or waiting for a defensive back to hit me. He said I should try to run after catching the ball to give the defensive back more to think about. I took his advice and I think it worked out well for me."

The Raiders are back home working out for next Monday night's tough test at Cleveland.

Bruce Taylor Says He Will Be Ready

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)— Cornerback Bruce Taylor says he'll be ready to play Sunday when the San Francisco 49ers call on Philadelphia and if he does it will mean a full team will be ready for the Eagles.

Taylor hurt his leg in the opener against Atlanta and it began acting up in last Sunday's win at New Orleans. Taylor grew up in New Jersey and will have his family in the stands Sunday. He wants to play.

Coach Dick Nolan, in reviewing the 38-20 win over the Saints, was especially pleased with the 49er running attack's 194 yards. As a general rule, if a pro football team is operating effectively it gets over 150 yards on the ground.

Newcomer Vic Washington galloped for 82 yards while the man he replaced, Doug Cunningham, scored on a 7-yarder.

Nolan praised both backs and said fullback Ken Willard ran well, too.

Nolan said the offensive line fired out well, but offensive coach Dick Stanfel praised the runners for "helping to set up blocks better than they used to."

A's Trying For 100th Win Of Year

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland A's tried for their 100th victory of the season today when they encountered the Kansas City Royals.

Despite the A's enviable record Oakland Manager Dick Williams was not happy with his relief staff and he wanted them to shape up in time for the forthcoming playoff with Baltimore.

Williams said he read off his firemen for "lack of concentration" after three of them yielded six runs in two innings to Milwaukee on Saturday.

He tapped Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 20-11, to pitch against the Royals. However, the manager said Hunter would only go seven innings or 115 pitches before heading for the showers. Then the relief staff will perform the windup.

Hunter will pitch the second game of the American League championship series against the A's on Sunday.

Kansas City named ace Mike Hedlund, 15-7, to take to the mound.

Pats Obtain Gardin

FISH AND GAME

Long Time To Think About Their Errors

By AL GIDDINGS

A recent release from the Department of Fish and Game mentions a deer case. It reads: "Two Half Moon Bay men with a penchant for hunting deer out of season will have a long time to reflect on the error of their ways, thanks to a judge who has ordered a lifetime revocation of their hunting and fishing licenses.

"Gerald J. Marsh and Michael Brotherton were cited in late July by Department of Fish and Game Warden Al Frush for possessing deer meat out of season after he found the carcasses of four deer at Marsh's residence and the body of a fifth deer at Brotherton's home. On Aug. 24, March and Brotherton appeared before Judge Marcel Biscay of the San Mateo Municipal Court and pleaded guilty. After reviewing the evidence in the case, Judge Biscay fined them each $250 and sent them to jail for 10 days. He further decreed that they never again be issued licenses to hunt or fish."

RECENTLY IN Marin County, a pickup truck was stopped after the truck was noted without lights in an area in the Tamalpais Game Refuge near the Meadow Club area. The time was 3 a.m. After the stop was made, a freshly killed, ungutted and untagged buck deer was noted in the bed of the pickup. There were two men in the truck at the time who were advised of their rights before questioning. Subsequent questioning revealed that the deer had been shot in the refuge using the car lights. The men were charged with spot lighting a game animal, killing a deer in a game refuge and possession of an untagged buck. Their rifle was seized as evidence along with the deer.

In court, one of the men showed up with an attorney. He entered a plea of not guilty to the spot lighting charge. To the other two charges, he pleaded guilty. The second man asked for a postponement. The judge accepted the guilty pleas of the first defendant, the spot lighting charge was dismissed and the defendant was given a 48-hour jail sentence. By legislative action, the Fish and Game Code reads that anyone found guilty of a tag violation automatically forfeits his tags for the remainder of the season and that no new tags can be sold to him.

THE GUN used in the violation is up for confiscation by the court. If confiscated, this gun will be sold at auction by the Department of Fish and Game. The monies go into the Fish and Game preservation fund.

The man entering the guilty plea had been arrested last year on two Fish and Game violations on the same day. He was placed on a year's probation and fined $150. His hunting and fishing licenses were revoked for one year.

If the man is cited again to court on a Fish and Game violation, he not only goes to the local court, but must appear before the Fish and Game Commission for further revocation of any new hunting or fishing licenses that he might buy. I don't think it's worth all that trouble, do you?

IN ANOTHER case, two wardens noted a man fishing in the Petaluma River. As the wardens approached, the man folded his rod up, picked up his gear and met the wardens halfway up the levee bank. He was checked, everything seemed okay, so he was permitted to leave.

A bag was subsequently noted under a bush nearby which contained eight undersized fresh striped bass. What to do? The wardens drove about two miles away, setting up a spotting scope (60 power) to watch the area. In an hour, the same man returned. In the next two hours he caught 15 more undersized bass making a very flairy effort to return these to the water. Finally, the man looked the area over from here to there, then over to the bush with the bag, which he quickly picked up, and hurriedly left for his car, arriving as the wardens got there too! A number of these cases are being made on the Petaluma River bank area. Don't you be so foolish!

Tennis Finals To Be Shown On Television

Station KQED, Channel 9, will present taped delayed coverage of the $50,000 Redwood Bank International Open Tennis Championships' men's singles finals Sunday at 4 p.m.

The color telecast from matches held earlier that afternoon at the Berkeley Tennis Club, will be reshown Monday at 10 p.m.

Those competing at the Golden Gateway Tennis Club in San Francisco and the Berkeley Tennis Club include defending champion Arthur Ashe; Rod Laver, the world's top ranked player; John Newcombe, 1971 Wimbledon king; Ken Rosewall, 1970 Forest Hills winner; Australia's Tony Roche; San Mateo's Erick Van Dillen; Stanford University's Roscoe Tanner; and UCLA's Jeff Borowiak of Lafayette.

Barry MacKay of Ross, a former U.S. Davis Cup star, will assist KQED "Newsroom" editor Mel Wax in hosting the telecast.

the Peninsula "11" can tangle again with Los Altos, the Mustangs will try to use the Bulldog game in establishing momentum.

However, San Rafael relishes similar thoughts — but at Homestead's expense. Homestead relies heavily on a power running game featuring backs Kevin Barbieri and Jim Murray.

After scouting the Mission San Jose-Homstead tilt, San Rafael coach Bob Muster pointed out that "Barbieri is really tough to bring down and Jim Murray is 6-foot-1 and 210 pounds.

"And in addition," he continued, "they have a speedy flanker in Mike Morrison — their gamebreaker."

When quarterback Mike Anguis, 6-4, decides to throw, he generally looks to either Morrison or end Dave Hammond.

Their line, anchored by 6-4, 220-pound center Tom Patrick, averages 195 pounds, Muster pointed out. Because they have good "size, they like to come right at you." he said.

Marin Catholic coach Bruno Banducci also faces a tough game, yet he is doing it with a smile. After two unsuccessful starts, the Wildcats face the Santa Rosa powerhouse, Cardinal Newman. Unbeaten since 1969, the Sonoma County aggregation is bent on Marin Catholic's destruction — footballwise anyway.

This doesn't faze the affable Banducci who lauded the standout play of fullback Pat Parnow and promised "a good battle is forthcoming Saturday."

If the senior running back can duplicate the three touchdown showing he made against Piner, the Wildcats may give Banducci another grin to wear.

Warriors Open Pre-Season Play

EDINBURGH, Tex. (UPI)— The Golden State Warriors open their exhibition slate here tonight against the Phoenix Suns with veterans Jim Barnett and Cazzie Russell joining their new mates for the first time.

Russell, obtained in a make-or-break trade for Jerry Lucas from New York, says he is ready for a big year with his new club and also wants to show that his reputation of being defensively weak is undeserved.

"WE've got a good team," says Cazzie. "And I'm ready for a good year. I know what I can do. I'm not interested in being any damn star. I just want to win games."

Russell says that in past seasons he has got weak in the late stages of the season, but he says he is working on a health food diet that last year kept up his strength.

Matty Alou's Double Wins For Cards

NEW YORK (UPI)— Pinchhitter Matty Alou drove in two runs with a bases-loaded double in the 10th inning Monday night to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Luis Melendez also drove in a pair of runs with a bases-loaded single as the Cardinals, who had been held hitless for five innings and to two hits for nine innings, exploded for five runs in the 10th.

Joe Torre, the National League batting leader, led off the 10th with a single to left, off rookie Buzz Capra who had just come on in relief of Sadecki. After a sacrifice moved Torre to second, Capra issued an intentional walk to Joe Hague. Another walk to Ted Kubiak loaded the bases and Alou drilled the first pitch thrown to him past the glove of first baseman Mike Jorgensen into right field for a double.

Capra then walked pinchhitter Bob Burda and Lou Brock to force in a run. Charlie Williams relieved Capra at that point and after getting Jose Cruz on a pop up, Melendez delivered his two-run single.

Astros Retain Walker Despite Morale Problem

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

HOUSTON — Harry Walker, who survived a morale problem on the team and a flood of boos from the fans to return as manager of the Houston Astros next year, thinks the team can reverse its 1971 flop.

Walker, whose Astros are in fifth place with a 78-81 record going into the final three games of the season, was given a new one-year contract Monday by Judge Roy Hofheinz, president of the Astros.

SAN FRANCISCO — The six umpires have been named for the National League Championship series starting Oct. 2.

National League President Charles S. Feeney Monday appointed Tom Gorman, Shag Crawford, Lee Weyer, Andy Olsen, Dick Stello and Dave Davidson to be the arbiters.

Football

SAN FRANCISCO — Middle linebacker Jeff Siemon, who anchors a tough Stanford defense which has allowed only one touchdown in three games, Tuesday was named defensive player of the week in the Pacific-8 Conference.

Siemon, a 6-2, 225-pound senior from Bakersfield, made five tackles, assisted on two others and intercepted a pass in Stanford's 38-17 thumping of Oregon Saturday.

HOUSTON — Football veteran George Blanda, 44, told the touchdown club Monday his age would keep him from accepting a coaching job.

"I'm not interested right now," said the oldest active pro player.

"Hell, I'm too old for coaching. I'll be 45 next September. Who wants to be a 45-year-old coach!

Boxing

WEMBLEY, ENGLAND — Joe Bugner will have to postpone his dreams of International fistic glory, because the "union of old men" has had its revenge.

The 21-year-old Bugner, proclaimed as the "Golden Boy of British Boxing," lost his European, British and Commonwealth heavyweight championship to 31-year-old Jack Bodell over 15 rounds Monday night.

General

WASHINGTON — The Nixon administration has extended its crackdown on violations of the 90-day wage-price freeze to professional football tickets.

Federal officials Monday, charged the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League with a "flagrant violation" of the freeze by raising their ticket prices from $6 to $7.50.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought National Presto Industries three years ago because it had a favorable P/E ratio and was financially sound. These factors still hold true but shares have not increased in value. Would you advise holding? — J.C.

A. Only if you have patience. Selling at about 6x estimated 1971 earnings, National Presto sports probably one of the lowest multiples, for a sound company, on the Big Board. This very meager investor appraisal indicates well-founded doubt as to the longevity of the company's ordnance business, which last year contributed 66 per cent of sales and 71 per cent of pre-tax net. Ordnance backlog stood at $80.8 million at the 1970 year end with an $8.3 million add-on contract received in April.

In the 1971 first half, sales receded 9.1 per cent, while earnings declined less than 5 per cent. Further attrition in the final six months could place net at the $5.80 level. Commercial products include small appliances and pressure cookers; and a subsidiary does specialized color printing. In order to bolster capacity for its consumer products, National is building a $4 million plant.

Company has an enviable financial position; no long term debt, current asset ratio of 5.8-to-1, and cash holdings in excess of current liabilities. Shares are selling below net current asset value, a condition that could prevail until commercial business contributes a larger proportion of sales and profits.

Q. We have recently formed an investment club and would like suggestions on stocks to buy plus one for speculation. At present we have $2,000 to work with. — R.R.

A. First may I suggest you join the National Association of Investment Clubs, a nonprofit organization with about 15,000 member clubs. Their address is: 1515 East 11th Mile Road, Royal Oak, Michigan 48068.

Brad Ragan (ASE), a tire retreader for off-the-road vehicles, has exhibited good growth characteristics and would be an interesting speculative purchase. Either NYSE-listed First National City Corp., Eastman Kodak or Sears, Roebuck would be an excellent basic holding for your club.

New Processing, Control System

CANOGA PARK (BW) Informatics Inc. has announced a new computerized order processing and inventory control system that will give management of manufacturing or distribution oriented firms maximum control in fulfilling customer orders.

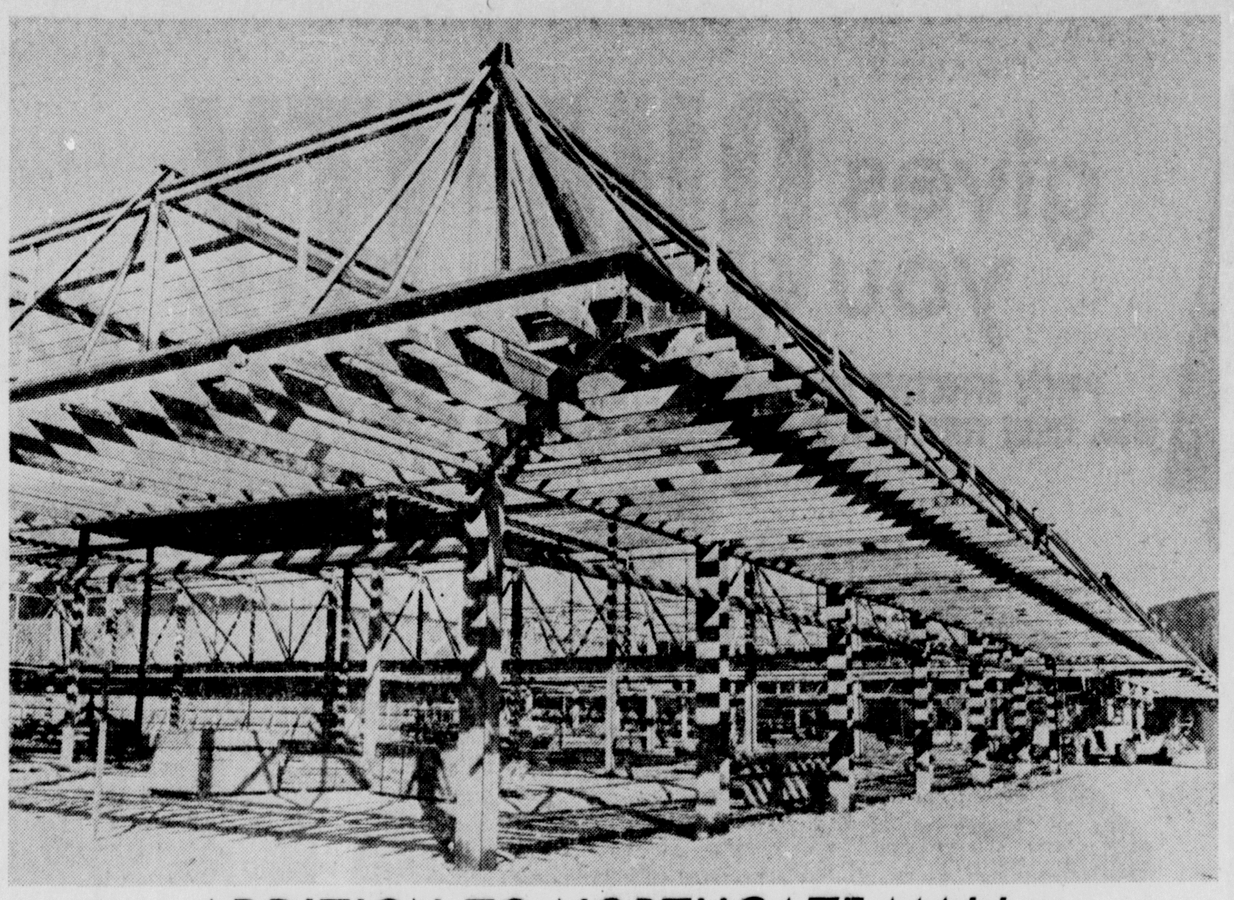
Called the Order IV system, the new product is an on-line computer system designed to enhance inquiry capability and file accuracy and provide inventory control and customer service.

Order IV will have a software cost ranging from $100,000 to $500,000. The system is designed for I B M 360 or 370 computers with a memory capacity of 256 K.

Computer Firm In Lease Accord

CONCORD (BW) Eldorado Electrodata Corp. has announced an agreement with Z. W. Leasing Unlimited of San Francisco, under which Eldorado will receive a $10 million line of credit and W. W. Leasing will purchase computer lease and rental contracts sold by Eldorado.

Major effect of the agreement is to provide Eldorado with immediate income and profit from leases.



ADDITION TO NORTHGATE MALL

Interesting planes and angles were caught by Independent-Journal photographer Jim Kean in this new building under construction between the present mall and the Sears Roebuck building, also under construction. When completed, this and an adjoining new building are expected to provide space for 20 more stores in the shopping area.

Amex Mixed As Stock Sales Droop

NEW YO RK (UPI) — Stocks moved lower today for the seventh consecutive session, but selling was not so aggressive as in recent sessions.

Leading market indicators were slightly lower after two hours, and declines held a small lead over advances.

Prices were mixed in light trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Among the most active Amex issues were Genge Industries steady on more than 30,000 shares, Imperial Oil fractionally lower on 13,000 shares, and Tesoro Petroleum down slightly on 12,000 shares.

On the Big Board, Royal Dutch changed hands at 37⅛, down ⅜ in a cross transaction. Active Penzoil and Corning Glass were down a point or so.

Steels were steady to fractionally higher, while motors pointed in both directions. Rails, airlines and aircrafts backtracked.

WARDS RIVERSIDE PASSENGER TIRE GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees Riverside passenger car tires (to the original purchaser) against (1) defects in material and workmanship and (2) road hazards as follows:

If the tire fails due to such defects, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire FREE during the first 20% of original tread life, and for a prorated charge based on tread wear received during the remainder of the tread life. If the tire fails due to road hazards (excluding repairable punctures) during the original tread life, Montgomery Ward will replace the tire for a prorated charge based on tread wear received.

Prorated charge is based on the regular exchange price in effect at the retail store to which returned or the current catalog price in effect at the store or agency to which returned, in either case including F.E.T. Original tread life is to the top of the tread wear indicator.

For service under this guarantee return tire with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

IMMEDIATE REPLACEMENT BATTERY GUARANTEE

Montgomery Ward guarantees this battery to be free from defects in material and workmanship. If this battery fails to hold a charge Montgomery Ward will: 1. For 90 days from purchase, replace the battery free. 2. After 90 days, to the end of the guarantee period specified, replace the battery, charging a prorated amount—based on time since purchase—of the regular no trade-in selling price then in effect. Batteries used in commercial vehicles are guaranteed on a similar prorata basis for half of the normally specified term. For service under this guarantee, return battery with evidence of date of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch.

FREE BATTERY INSTALLATION

WARDS RIVERSIDE® SUPREME BATTERY LIFETIME FREE REPLACEMENT GUARANTEE

For as long as you own the car in which installed, Montgomery Ward will furnish a free replacement for any Riverside Supreme Battery which fails to accept and hold a charge. Return battery with evidence of purchase to any Montgomery Ward branch. This guarantee does not apply to batteries installed in commercial vehicles.
